GONE NUTTY.

The Rev. (T) Lewis Austin, whose attention was attracted by the slanders of the police on the streets and squares, has fallen upon evil days. From St. John he went to Liverpool, N. S., and believing himself to be called like Jonah for the purpose of reforming that town he held forth in the same manner as was his custom in this city. But the Liverpool people, believing that they didn't need reforming, refused to stand for the reverend Lewis, and without any mercy took him in custody. He was examined by a physician, who decided that his upper works were out of gear. The doctor's verdict resulted in Austin being sent to that cranial repair shop near Halifax, known as the Mount Hope Asylum.

NOT A VESTED CHAIR.

The officers of Centenary Methodist church state that the rumor which is now being circulated about the city in regard to a vested chair for Centenary is incorrect. The story originated from the fact that a number of the members of the church expressed a desire to have the choir strengthened. Quite a few of the congregation are in favor of the introduction of a vested choir and there is a feeling that additional singers could be secured were this introduced. But as yet no steps have been taken by any of the church boards.

BURIED YESTERDAY.

The funeral of the late Michael Flood, which took place yesterday afternoon from the church of St. John the Baptist, was very largely attended. At half-past two o'clock the burial service was conducted by the Rev. W. C. Gagnon, after which the body was taken for interment to the new Catholic cemetery. The pallbearers were Chief Justice Tuck, D. C. Clinch, George S. Fisher, James Coll, James Ready and Michael Potter.

POLICE COURT.

He Was Given Full Measure—Some Blank Verse.

James Peck, a young fellow who should have known better, got drunk on Brussels street and was arrested on Saturday evening. He had, of course, purchased the liquor before seven o'clock. This morning Peck pleaded guilty to the charge of drunkenness and was fined at the rate of thirty-two dollars a bushel.

On Saturday night Jim Clancy went down to St. Patrick street and told his brother many things in words not very sweet. The brother fired him from the house—this Jimmy considered wrong, so he continued making remarks till a policeman came along. And that was the finish of Clancy—poor Jimmy Clancy. He didn't know just what befell till he found himself sleeping in a cell and this morning, still feeling far from well, he sat with the usual throng. And Jimmy was soaked for eight.

John Kinella wandered down to Lawton's wharf and gave himself up to pleasant dreams. The cops don't believe in dreams. They aroused Kinella and this morning were cruel enough to say that he had been drunk. Eight or two months.

Dew Parks was arrested for assaulting and beating James O'Brien on Main street. He pleaded not guilty and was remanded.

BASE BALL MEN LEAVE.

Vail, who has been pitching for the Ross, left this morning for Houston, where he will play for the remainder of the season. Bodash of the Alerts has gone to Carleton, and Wiggins, the third baseman, left this morning to join one of the northern Maine teams.

WENT OFF TOO SOON.

On Saturday afternoon, at Red Head, the young son of Charles H. Smith of 144 Waterloo street, was injured by the discharge of a shot gun. A heavy charge of partridge shot was distributed between his legs and one hand. Dr. G. A. A. Addy was called and extracted as many of the shot as could be found. The boy is now doing nicely.

THREE BATHING HOUSES.

An Important New Departure Below the Barrack Square.

The popularity and genuine worth of bathing houses in St. John has been amply illustrated by the erection of three such structures on the beach alongside the I. C. R. extension and immediately below the Barrack Green.

The Rev. W. C. Gagnon, of St. John the Baptist (Broad street) church, saw the need of such an institution. The reverend gentleman, who is a devotee of nature, saw that seclusion could not be obtained in his daily summer ablutions on the beach, hence a short time since, in conjunction with a number of other gentlemen, he petitioned the Common Council for the privilege of erecting a bathing house on the "beach."

The spot selected is an ideal one, with a pure, sandy bottom, and well sheltered. There is not found that feeling of disturbance and unequity, which was present in the period previous to the bathing-house era. Here in the early morning one can greet Father Neptune and at the same time digest his (or her) morning journal; a tray cup of coffee or tea can be furnished to soothe the nerves, and a luncheon in the open air, always an enjoyable adjunct to an outing of any nature is often a feature.

The advantages of this bathing spot are many. The beautiful vista, sea spread out before one's view as the eye gazes upon ever-restless Fundy, is itself a treat worth going a long way to witness. The passing of the ships, the flight of the birds, the commerce of the deep, all in a panoramic view, have their attraction for the lady or gentleman who may be for the moment enjoying the comfort of "the bathing house on the beach," as the pioneer structure has been termed.

The up-to-dateness of the bathing house in question is very noticeable. Boxes and compartments for wearing apparel are under separate key and cover. The house is nicely floored, modest, but complete in its appointments.

Since the erection of the reverend gentleman's establishment, two other bathing houses have sprung up on the beach, one in close contiguity and the other a little further removed. One of the newer buildings is quite large, and will be used by about thirty or forty ladies and gentlemen. This building is equipped with floats, preservers, etc. All that is modern and comfortable is found in the larger and more commodious structure.

The other new building is adjoining Father Gagnon's, and also has a good view of the place where the waves are wont to roll.

So many ladies and gentlemen have taken an interest in erecting bathing houses, it behooves the council to see that "the beach" is kept free from all objectionable matter, that the passing of the hoodlum should be effected; that the police should safeguard the interests of good citizens who wish to enjoy a few minutes quiet away from the humdrum cares of a busy day.

JOHN E. MOORE'S NEW MILL.

John E. Moore's new mill at Pleasant Point is being rapidly finished and will be started for the first time on Friday or Saturday of this week. It stands on the site of the old Barnhill mill, which was burned two years ago.

The main building is 156 ft. long by 34 ft. wide. It was built by day's work under the personal supervision of Mr. Moore. The mill is now equipped with a hand saw, one edger and one lath mill, but it is Mr. Moore's intention to add next winter box, stave and heading machines. Three tubular boilers, with patent furnaces and an up-to-date engine of 225 horse power have been ordered and placed in the mill by the St. John Iron works. There is also in the building a waste furnace for the burning of all refuse, and this will do away with outside fires which are so frequently a source of danger. The capacity of the mill when working full time will be 50,000 ft. per day, and a force of about seventy men will be employed.

Mr. Moore has sufficient logs on hand to run the mill during the whole season.

HOME TO IRELAND.

Officer James Semple of the North End force has obtained two months leave of absence and left on Saturday night on a visit to his parents in Ireland. His place on the force is being filled by Charles Amos, who served for some years, and who resigned about a year and a half ago. Officer Amos went on duty on Saturday.

WHOSE FAULT IS IT?

Clouds of dust crept up and down the principal streets today, and there were no watering carts to say the least. It has sometimes been said that the city fathers throw dust in the eyes of the citizens, and the dust-labors to bring people here, and dust rises up and mocks them. This is a fine state of affairs surely. Who is responsible?

REV. FATHER MURRAY DEAD.

A despatch to the Star today says:—"Rev. Father John Murray, of the parish of Johnville, died at four o'clock this morning." Rev. Fr. Murray has been ill for some time. He was well known in St. John, and in the parish of Johnville his earnest labors had won for him the love of his people.

A 20 LB. TROUT.

Great Angling in the Waters of Moose Lake. (Ottawa Journal.)

R. C. Code, H. B. E. Lane and C. H. Blanchet, a trio of well known anglers, have just returned to the city after a three days' sojourn upon the waters of Moose Lake, the property of the Ontario Fishing and Game Club. This lake is filled with trout which range in weight from two to four pounds. Occasionally some larger trout are caught, but records of such a catch are rare. These gentlemen, however, have established a record which will no doubt last for some time.

Fully seventy-five good sized fish of the species were hooked out of this lake, and in the number were two trout which weighed fifteen and twenty pounds, respectively. The latter were taken by Mr. R. C. Code's hook, and the fifteen minutes of sport which were consumed by this gentleman in getting such a huge trout in the boat will live long in his memory.

CUMBERLAND IN COLLISION.

BOSTON, July 7.—The steamer Cumberland, which left here today for Portland, Me., and St. John was compelled to return because of a collision with the United Fruit Company's steamer Admiral Farragut, below Boston Light. The Cumberland was considerably damaged, but succeeded in reaching her dock and landing her passengers.

The Cumberland, a wooden vessel, was struck near the starboard gangway and a large hole was stove in her side. The Admiral Farragut being a steel steamer was not seriously damaged. Her stem was bent and she was somewhat injured forward.

Warrants were sworn out today at Harrisburg, Pa., for the arrest of ten strikers, for inciting men to riot at Williamstown.

MARRIAGES.

ROBINSON-WOOD.—At Centenary parsonage, July 6th, by the Rev. George M. Campbell, William Chandler, Robinson of Bangor, Maine, to Annie L. Wood of Fredericton.

JULY BRIDES.

A very pretty, though quiet wedding took place in the Cathedral this morning when Edward Beck of Princess street, was united in marriage to Miss May Conway, daughter of the late Charles Conway of 166 Brussels street.

The ceremony was performed at six o'clock by the Rev. Francis McMurray in the presence of only a few friends of the contracting parties. Miss Conway was attended by Miss May McCardie, while Charles Conway, of No. 1 Hook and Ladder Co. assisted the groom.

After the ceremony the party drove to the bride's home where breakfast was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Beck will reside at 14 Wall street.

ROBINSON-WOOD.

In Saturday afternoon at Centenary parsonage, Rev. George M. Campbell officiated at the marriage of William Chandler Robinson of Bangor, purchasing agent of the Bangor and Aroostook Railway, and Miss Annie L. Wood of Fredericton. The ceremony was a very quiet one. This morning Mr. and Mrs. Robinson left for Bangor where they will reside.

HE HAS GONE.

"Farewell, a Long Farewell to All My Greatness."

On Saturday evening, accompanied by a spotless reputation, and the kindly wishes of detectives and policemen, Jimmy Briggs shook the dust of St. John from his feet and the fog from his face, and sailed away to the land of his birth. His departure was marked by no pomp or pageant, no noise of bursting fireworks or aldermanic parades. The school children were not massed to chant a farewell, nor did the militia line the streets. But in spite of this seeming neglect Jimmy left the city in a peaceful and even joyous frame of mind. His sojourn in this land has been, if not exactly praiseworthy, at least famous. Arriving here, as he did, a stranger, he gained in a very few weeks a prominence which is not given to even the oldest inhabitant. For a few short weeks his star was in the ascendant, and its twinkling was marked by a brilliancy which surprised many. But Jimmy Briggs is gone. Those who had been reason to remember his innocent and childlike features will see him no more—at least they hope they won't—but in a serene climate where Kelson lives, it may be that for him the stream of life will flow more peacefully, undisturbed by the rocks of prosecution and the sand bars of provincial jalls. Jimmy Briggs has gone.

LOCH LOMOND RACES.

There will be a yacht race at Loch Lomond on Saturday, July 12. The distance will be six miles. It is expected ten or a dozen boats will compete for the Wright cup.

On the following Saturday, the 19th inst., Commodore Wright purposes having a regatta at Loch Lomond, the proceeds from which will be appropriated to build a steeple to the Episcopal church at Loch Lomond.

Raymond & Doherty have kindly donated a very handsome cup, with Tourist Association views of St. John engraved on it, for next Saturday's race.

S. H. Barker has placed his steam yacht at the service of the judges and the press. Buses will leave Love's stable at 8 a. m. and 1.30 p. m.

The regatta on the following Saturday will be a subscription affair, the proceeds to go to the steeple fund.

ADVERTISING THE PROVINCE.

Rev. Henry R. Rose, who is in the province collecting data for a series of illustrated lectures, spent Sunday with W. S. Fisher at his summer home at Westfield. This forenoon Mr. Rose met a number of prominent citizens at the board of trade rooms, where an interesting and enjoyable hour was spent in discussing the attractions of the province. Further arrangements for Mr. Rose's trip have not been quite completed, but he will probably spend this afternoon at St. Martin's and will go to Hampton tomorrow.

At the meeting this forenoon Messrs. McKewen and George Robertson, honorary secretary of Mr. Rose's work, and the former said that the monies expended by the government brought better results than the small grants given the Tourist Association. D. J. Purdy, M. P. P. and W. S. Fisher also spoke.

PERSONAL.

Ex-Governor McClellan is in the city today.

Mrs. Barnes and Miss F. H. Barnes of Windsor, N. S., who have been visiting in the city went to Moncton today.

Mrs. F. Caverhill-Jones will receive her friends at 180 Germain street on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

THE IMMACULATE GLOBE.

Discovers That Church of England People are Not "Firm and Honest."

(St. John Globe, Saturday.)

If the conditions of King's college are deplorable the reason largely is because the Church of England in these provinces has not taken a firm and an honest stand upon the question of education. When non-sectarian education became the battle cry of a political party members of the church ran with the hounds. Professing with one breath to be delighted to see education emancipated from clerical control they declared on the other that there should be religious teaching in education. Probably they were in a dilemma. The Catholics were outspoken in their protest against the divorcement of religion and education. For the Church of England to take sides with the Roman Catholics while the latter upheld the unpopular side of a question was not to be thought of. What has happened? The Roman Catholics, driven to endeavor to avert a crisis, have built a number of institutions of a higher class, devoted among other things, to the teaching of the doctrines of their church. The Episcopalians believing almost as strongly as the Roman Catholics in combining religious and secular training have been paralyzed by the position into which they allowed them-

THE VETERAN BEAR HUNTER.

Philip Tear of Lepreau, arrived in the city on Saturday, bringing with him the skins of seven large bears, part of his seasons' catch. Mr. Tear says the bears are quite numerous, and his line of traps extends for many miles in the best locality of most dense forests. Mr. Tear is loud in his praise of the Harrington bear traps, and will use no other. He says his success depends chiefly on the use of these famous traps.

The government has issued orders that the Indian and colonial troops now in London shall postpone their departure indefinitely. This order is due to the strongly expressed desire of the Indian contingent especially to see the King before they return home, and they also indicate an intention to retain the troops here until the coronation. The colonial and Indian troops will participate in the reception to be given Lord Kitchener when he arrives in London about July 12.
