CALCUTTA, July 27.—As a result of three recent tours in the most disaffected districts of Bengal, my correspondent is in a position to state definitely that the serious nature of the situation is hardly realized by Europeans in the other parts of India or even at home. Many Europeans were interviewed, both official and non-official, and the missionaries at the various stations were interrogated and all agreed that the disaffection was the result of a campaign of sedition directed from Calcutta, the agencies employed being not only the press and the platform, but the active organization known as the National Volunteers, which has local branches in almost every town and village. These volunteers are being trained in archery and in the use of sticks and swords by well paid professional instructors. They preach everywhere revolt against the Raj and actively pursue a boycott of British goods. Men who cannot be threatened and who still retain relations with the English officials are punished by means of the boycott, either social or business. And undoubtedly the boycott is the deadliest weapon that the agitators employed by the British have found. The rural police are too weak and in some cases too disaffected themselves to take action. Where the British and Mohammedan officials have attempted to investigate the situation they have found themselves unable to obtain evidence, witnesses being afraid to come forward. Naturally in this condition of affairs the people are looking for their respect for order and authority. Companies of Gurkhas from Assam and military police from other provinces are posted in the larger villages and at the river stations. The worst feature of the situation, however, is the growing number of assaults upon Europeans. A traffic officer is authority for the statement that there is a danger of certain sections of the Assam-Bengal Railway being closed entirely owing to the reluctance of the guards and drivers to take the trains. On one occasion no fewer than fifteen guards refused to work a train. Mohammedans in charge of the river steamers, have also been assaulted both on the steamers and from the bank. The last case reported was of a party of British officers, because all of the members of the mob wore the uniform badge of the National Volunteers as a distinguishing mark.

Another feature of the present situation is that all over Bengal national schools financed entirely by Bengalis and disclaiming all connection with the government, are springing up. More government-aided colleges are openly defying the recent government circulars prohibiting students from attending public meetings. The students, however, are not in the least afraid. Not only do their willingly address the meetings, but they even huprise the reporters, publish their names in the newspapers. Examples of the wild talk of the Hindu press are published by the "Englishman." A few extracts may be taken as typical of the rest:

1.—Where is Hell on Earth? The Feringshis dominions.
2.—The Feringshi has got a fright. The rajah in the Punjab has become infuriated, the Sepoys are rebelling in his allegiance, and that is why the Feringshis have begun to suppress the courts of law and begun committing oppression. Let the drum first sound from Calcutta and may it re-echo from all India.
3.—Arise, awake, the flame has caught on. Brethren now it has begun. The house has caught fire, sleep no more, arise, awake, awake. You suppose that happiness and peace are reigning all over the country and that with a few voting rights all your grievances will close. That is not so. Your heart and your homes are going to be ruined. Nothing will avail unless maddened you take a resolute stand. It has become necessary now to come to an understanding with the Feringshis. There are few nations on the earth so barbarous as the Feringshis. A boycott of the Feringshis, this should be a guiding principle now. Try if the Feringshi is not brought to his senses then, and if the Feringshis resist the carrying to completion of this boycott, then they will be destroyed in the very flame which they have lighted up for the country.
4.—We want complete independence. The country cannot prosper as long as the Feringshis are in the country. Let the Feringshis be put out of it, or kept only as a servant or guest. This is the aim of the new party.

HAVANA, July 27.—Senor Morna Delmado, a prominent Liberal, who participated in last year's revolt, has written a sensational letter which is published in La Lucha, in which he charges that Maso Parra, once a Spanish ally, is planning to work up the Cuban people and induce them to violence against the provisional government. Parra's object, Delmado says, is to show the Washington government that Cubans wish a speedy end of American occupation and a quick withdrawal of the American representatives.

An Englishman, an Irishman and a Scotchman were one day arguing as to which of the three countries possessed the fastest trains. "Well," said the Englishman, "I've been in one of our trains, and the telegraph poles have been like a hedge." "I've seen the milestones appear like tombstones," said the Scot. "De jabers!" said Pat. "I was one day in a train in my country, and we passed a field of turnips and a field of carrots, also a field of cabbage and parsley, then a pond of water, and we were going that quick I thought it was broth!"
