ST. JOHN SEMI-WEEKLY SUN

VOL. 26. ST. JOHN, N. B., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 4, 1903. NO. 18.

OPPOSITION GAINS,

But Government Sustained By Quite a Large Majority.

The Resources of Civilization Lavishly Employed in St. John and Elsewhere by the Powers Behind the Tweedie Administration

Election day was very stormy. The wind blew a gale—a cold one for the opposition—and rain fell in torrents, but notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather an average vote was polled in the city. Both sides were well organized.

The election is over.

It was a short campaign. On Saturday two governments swept down on St. John like the wolf on the fold and captured all they deemed it profitable to take into camp. The government's motto was: "By this sign ($ $ $) we conquer." The job was well done. There were men here from Montreal, former residents of St. John, but they did not register at the hotels, nor were their goods on view at the hotel sample offices. They occupied other quarters in the city's shipping and trade centres. The only bold front they put on was when it came to laying out "the wad." The provincial election law offers no terrors to such workers.

There were some exciting scenes during the day in the various city wards, notably in the north end, but they were not accompanied by bloodshed.

The government carried the province by a reduced majority. Premier Tweedie lost all his colleagues, but saved his own coat.

In Sunbury the opposition leader and his colleague were returned by a big majority over that of the last general election. Carleton did well for the opposition. So did Charlotte. The government carried Westmorland, York, Kings, Queens and the bulk of the north shore and northern St. John river counties. Saturday was a day of surprises all around.

AT YORK THEATRE.

At 6 o'clock electors began to gather at York Theatre to hear the returns. A large number were present, and the returns as they were received were put up on large blackboards. Until late at night crowds remained in the theatre. At seven o'clock the returns indicated that in the city Mr. Wilson had been elected, but this hope was dissipated later on. At the time of the announcement that Mr. Wilson had beaten Mr. Lantalum the gathering demanded a speech from Mr. Wilson.

As he stepped to the front of the platform Mr. Wilson was given a rousing reception. He thanked the electors for the large vote given him. He was sorry the opposition did not elect their full ticket here. In Wellington ward, where he stood all day, the returns showed that the ticket was voted pretty faithfully. He asked all his friends to vote the ticket complete. He was approached by those who wanted him to split the ticket, but he refused to do it. (Cheers).

Mr. McInerney thanked the electors for the vote given him. He had heard people complain that the laborers had not done their duty. The laborers, he declared, had done well. The election was a contest of capital against labor. That was the difficulty. He advised the laboring men to get to work again. It was the laborers' verdict. The party had fallen but they could get up again. (Applause).

Mr. Hatheway was sorry the full ticket could not have been elected. He felt that labor had done a great deal in the campaign. This was the first time labor had taken part under that head. In Lansdowne, Dufferin and Sydney wards the people had been misled. They would have to do battle in the future. He thanked the leaders of the labor party who had done so much for the candidates. In the wards mentioned many people seemed to have been persuaded by the blandishments of capital to vote as they did. (Applause).

Mr. Agar regretted that he was among the defeated, as he felt much interested in the opposition party. The government had been indicated by the popular verdict. It was regrettable if this were taken to prove that the government in the city and province held the confidence of the people. He thanked the electors who voted for him. He considered the opposition a better party to govern the province than the present government, and he hoped it would in time become successful.

There were calls for Mr. Shaw and Mr. Anderson.

Mr. Agar said Mr. Anderson was in St. Martins, but on his behalf he thanked the electors.

Ex-Mayor Sears was accorded an enthusiastic reception and gave a short speech. He said the government deserved no credit for its victory. The vote of the opposition was a credit, being un-bought. As legislators the government had done all it could against the city and the province at large. He was surprised at the result of the vote. As a liberal in dominion politics, he denounced the action of the provincial government in importing a federal representative to teach the people how to vote. The opposition had not spent any money corruptly.

J. E. Wilson 20 years ago was a poor man. He had worked his way into his present position. Those who today sold their votes were sowing the wind; soon they would reap the whirlwind. All the opposition candidates were worthy men. After touching slightly on the position of federal members he thanked those present for their attention and considered the present contest not wholly as a defeat, but as a subject for congratulation.

The announcement that Carleton county would probably return two opposition candidates was the occasion of much applause.

AT BERRYMAN'S HALL.

Shortly, after the polls closed the faithful wended their way to Berryman's Hall to hear the returns read and listen to the "I told you so" speeches of the chieftains. The affair was a sort of continuous performance, the crowd continually coming and going when satisfied that victory was theirs. The excitement and enthusiasm ran high, and everybody cheered everybody else. Of course there was a certain amount of disappointment that they had not carried every seat in the province and particular regret shown that Hazen had been elected.

A. O. Skinner occupied the chair, John L. Carleton acted as announcer, and A. E. McIntyre supplemented Mr. Carleton's announcements with last year's figures and other general information.

As return after return came in the excitement became intense, and the crowd took charge of the platform. The figures announced made it look for a time as if Lantalum had been left behind, but finally the mistake was discovered, and the announcement that the Star returns showed Lantalum elected was followed by several minutes of wild cheering.

E. H. McAlpine was called on for a speech. He called for three cheers for Lantalum, which were given with a hearty good will. "He is not only a good liberal but a white man," shouted Mr. McAlpine. Mr. McAlpine spoke briefly of the Sun and the campaign in general. The cheek and impudence of the opposition had been answered. Mr. McAlpine then paid a tribute to David Russell, who he described as one of the brightest men in Canada. He was also proud of Geo. Robertson, who had worked so hard for the dry dock, something St. John needed as much as it did a hospital. Mr. McAlpine continued to amuse the crowd till the next returns were received. Some of his choice remarks were: Who is the other squirrel? referring to one of the opposition candidates, and "the greatest fake show in America."

In conclusion the speaker claimed a great liberal victory that would send Mr. Blair back to Ottawa with renewed power. Cheers were given for Blair.

Hon. A. T. Dunn was given a rousing reception. He was never so proud as at that moment, he said. It was a great victory, and the province was sure of good government for five years more.

John L. Carleton proclaimed it a great liberal victory. If the liberal party stood solid they could elect their ticket every time. The labor party had stood by the liberal ticket, if they had lost the labor vote they could not have won. The liberal party was not dead; they had stood by Andrew G. Blair, who speaks for St. John.

Attorney General Pugsley was given a splendid reception. While the party had been making a good fight all over the province their eyes turned to St. John. It was a grand victory, and too much could not be said in praise of Hon. Mr. McKeown. Mr. Pugsley congratulated the gentlemen elected in St. John, and closed with a glowing tribute to Hon. A. G. Blair, to whom he gave the credit of the victory.

J. J. Barry spoke briefly and was followed by Hon. H. A. McKeown, who was wildly cheered. He said it was a matter of great satisfaction to see the way in which the liberal party had stood together. They had struck the conservative party down and could rejoice in their triumph, the news of which would be proclaimed from one end of the Dominion to the other.

Timothy Donovan then told of the "exuberance of his feelings." There was cheering and counter cheering and everyone was happy.

ST. JOHN CITY.

Four Government Candidates Elected.

The contest in the city resulted in the return of the four government candidates, although up to a late hour Saturday night the issue between Mr. Lantalum and Mr. Wilson was in doubt, and both sides claimed the fourth seat. It now appears that Mr. Lantalum is ahead by from 20 to 24 votes on the returns sent in to the sheriff. The unofficial figures are:

NOTES.

Count Not Satisfactory.

Edwin K. McKay, who acted as clerk at polling booth Sydney, No. 2, refused to sign the papers after the count had been made. His tally and that of Thos. Gorham, who acted for the government, did not agree with that of the returning officer. The difference was but slight, but Mr. McKay was firm and would not put his signature to a document that he considered incorrect.

Printers Want Better Pay for Their Work—General News from Pacific and Atlantic.

(Special to the Sun.)

OTTAWA, March 2.—The compositors employed in the printing bureau will make a demand for an increase of wages. At present compositors receive $13.50 a week. The increase spoken of amounts to $1.50. The last increase was granted the bureau printers two years ago, when they were advanced from $12 to $13.50 per week, the present wages. There are in all 220 compositors employed by the government.

Col. Pinault, deputy minister of militia, has returned from his holiday trip to the Pacific Coast and Mexico. It is not decided what changes will be pressed against Martineau, but the matter will be fully determined by Thursday after consultation between the heads of the department and the dominion police authorities.

Hon. A. G. Blair, minister of railways and canals, is back from New Brunswick, elated, of course, at the return of the Tweedie government, which he claims is a straight party victory.

Dr. Rutherford, chief of the veterinary branch of the agriculture department, has returned from a visit to the Eastern States. He says he found that the foot and mouth disease had been practically stamped out in the region.

Senator Templeman has received a telegram stating that the real issue of the Crow's Nest Pass strike is one of recognition of the district union. Both parties are very determined in the attitude they have assumed, and so long as they remain so there is no hope for a settlement by arbitration or conciliation between them. Mackenzie King, deputy minister of labor, who is at Fernie, is about to leave for Ottawa.
