"PUSSYFOOT" WELL PLEASED WITH CAMPAIGN

Natives of India Desire to be Freder of the Curse of Drink.

Calcutta, Oct. 18.—"India is the most peaceful in the world to enforce prohibition."

This is the conclusion drawn by "Pussyfoot" Johnson at the close of his six weeks' expedition through northern India during which he visited a score of cities and several of the native states ruled by Indian princes.

Shortly after his arrival here Mr.
Johnson in an interview given your correspondent said:

"India from the prohibitionist's viewpoint, is the most hopeful country in the world."

"Wherever I have been the audiences have been eager, and willing not only to forego liquor, but to bear the additional taxation entailed by the disappearance of liquor revenues."

"I have been frequently charged that Mr. Johnson's audience have been solely composed of the 'intelligent class,' the minute percentage of the Indian population who are educated and hence unrepresentative of the vast body of the native population."

This charge he strenuously refuted to your correspondent.

"At Poona," he declared, "the brother of the Maharajah accompanied me through an audience of 6,000 'untouchables'—low caste uneducated Hindus whom no upper caste is supposed to touch—and they all told me the same story as did the intelligent class. They expressed a desire to be freed of the drink curse and said that only reactionary British traditions prevent them."

Asked by your correspondent if it were true that he had said the British introduced drinking into India, Mr.
Johnson replied: "I never said that, because it was not true. But what the British did do was to organize drinking for industrial and revenue purposes. Before it was a family and social affair confined to the home, but the British have made a business drink."

When asked what he thought probable, private distillation without control or the scientific system of control now in vogue regulating all liquor and devoting excise proceeds to better administration, Mr. Johnson answered that the scientific system was infinitely worse.

"The British have been here over a century and it is a disgrace to them that instead of destroying the drink traffic they have devoted themselves to organizing and popularizing its consumption."

"In fact the poorer classes who drink are taxed not to provide education for themselves, but for the wealthier classes who do not drink."

When reminded that in many provinces the excise revenue is one-third of the total revenue and that the government is unable to find an alternative source of taxation, Johnson said:

"In the native state of Baroda where upon my arrival I was received as a state guest and accorded a cordial welcome and the highest honors, the house and footman, the Premier declared at the meeting: 'If you taxpayers will accept additional taxation you shall have prohibition tomorrow.' His statement was received with enthusiastic applause."

"Three native states already have adopted prohibition. If those heathen can solve finance the question is, why cannot the clever British? One British Governor asserted to me that the revenue problem offered no insuperable difficulty, but he opposed prohibition because it interfered with personal liberty and private conscience."

An amusing incident of Mr. Johnson's tour occurred at Agra where whisky sodas were provided for the guests at the reception given in Mr.
Johnson's honor. On the other hand the luncheon at the Viceroy's lodge, at Simla, at which the British Viceroy, Lord Reading, was present, was served in Mr. Johnson's honor, as was the ceremony arranged for him by the Governor of the Punjab.

Mr. Johnson concluded his interview with the following statement:
"Britain is putting herself wrong in the eyes of the world by forcing drink on the Indians who do not want it."

At a Rotarian luncheon Johnson was severely heckled by Englishmen and Americans and it was clear that the conclusions formed on his six week tour were not accepted by most of those who know India well.

Urges Prior Need of Mexican Treaty

Thomas W. Lamont Says a Pact Should Precede Recognition by United States.

Mexico City, Oct. 18.—An intimation that the interests he represents support the State Department in Washington in its demand for the signing of a treaty of amity and commerce by Mexico prior to the United States acknowledgment was contained in an address made by Thomas W. Lamont at the American Chamber of Commerce today.

"Our American business men in Mexico," said Mr. Lamont, "must not attempt to exploit Mexico. They must have scrupulous regard for private and for public rights. They must know at all times just where they stand."

"Whatever form of expression the Mexican Government takes to manifest its national attitude is not a matter of so much importance to American business men, provided that its declarations are of a character absolutely clear and explicit and capable of only one interpretation by honorable men."

"If such should prove to be the case, then, indeed, the clouds which I already can see breaking away on both sides will be completely dissipated."

Referring to his mission in Mexico, Mr. Lamont said it obviously would be improper to discuss this subject at this stage. Then he added:

"I am glad to testify that the members of the Mexican Government show they have a realization of the importance of these impending financial matters, and that they have approached our discussion with great courtesy and in a spirit of candor and good will. And, in turn, I may be permitted to say that the interests I represent are animated with the liveliest desire to be of genuine service to Mexico."

It is with this object always in view that I have come from New York in order, first, to make it plain that the interests we represent and those of this Government are, in effect, identical, and, next, to offer to President Obregon and his associates such counsel and aid as we may possess."

Mr. Lamont prefaced his remarks with a reference to business conditions in the United States, saying:
"In a business way the United States has seen the worst of its troubles. I don't say we are all over them yet, but we have been through the depths of the valley of despond and are now beginning to creep up the slope again."

A Gentle Reminder.
An English Duchess had been owing her milliner a long time. The money was sorely needed, and after the bill had been repeatedly ignored the milliner finally sent her little daughter to collect it.

"Be sure to say 'Your Grace' to the Duchess," said the anxious mother, and the child gravely promised to remember.

When, after long waiting, she was admitted into the presence of the Duchess, the little girl made a low courtesy, and then, folding her hands and closing her eyes, she said softly, "For what I am about to receive, may the Lord make me truly thankful."

The quick-witted Duchess flushed as her eyes rested on the wistful child who so unconsciously had rebuked her, and without delay made out a check for the amount due to the milliner.

Dyed Her Faded Curtains and a Skirt like New

"Diamond Dyes" add years of wear to worn, faded skirts, waists, coats, stockings, sweaters, coverings, hangings, draperies, everything. Every package contains directions so simple any woman can put new, rich, fadeless colors into her worn garments or draperies even if she has never dyed before. Just buy Diamond Dyes —no other kind—then your material will come out right, because Diamond Dyes are guaranteed not to streak, spot, fade, or run. Tell your druggist whether the material you wish to dye is wool or silk, or whether it is flax, cotton or mixed goods.

POLICE AT LOSS FOR CLUES IN TWO MURDERS

Fail to Connect With Authorities of Crimes in New York City.

New York, Oct. 18.—Although the detectives of the Italian squad are convinced that a quarrel between bootleggers led to the killing of Joseph Vereta, better known as Joseph Peppo, and Louis Rango in a coffee house at 367 Broom street on Thursday, they admitted last night that nothing which has been turned up so far in their investigation of the case is likely to lead them to the persons who planned and executed the murder.
Peppo, described as a hoodlum in a large way of business, was killed by some one who pursued him into the coffee room from the street. In returning his assailant's fire Peppo killed Rango, who was a stranger to him and had nothing to do with the fight.

Amabile Stilo of 330 Degraw street, Brooklyn, arrested after the shooting, was held without bail in the Tombs court yesterday, but the police have not been able to connect him with the murder of Peppo. He admits that he telephoned to the place where Peppo was killed twenty minutes after the shooting and asked if Peppo was dead, but insists that he did so only because he had heard that he had been killed and wanted to verify the report. When he was asked who told him of the shooting he said that he heard two strangers speak of it while he was passing them in the street. One of them, he said, told the other that he had just heard it over the telephone.

Detective Sergeant Vascetti, who is in charge of the investigation, is certain that Stilo was not present when Peppo was shot, because the detectives with the coffee room at Broom street from Brooklyn so soon after the shooting, that he could not have witnessed it. The call from Brooklyn has been traced, and was received from a cigar store near Stilo's home.

Stilo, however, does not deny that he knew Peppo and that he is interested in the liquor traffic. The key to a safe deposit box at the banking establishment of Joseph Sessa, at 131 Union street, Brooklyn, was in his pocket when arrested. When searched yesterday the box contained permits for the withdrawal of five barrels of liquor from a warehouse in West street. The permits authorized Stilo to take the whiskey out on March 22, 23 and 25.
He would not say whether he ever received the liquor, and the receipts of the warehouse are being looked up.

When Stilo was arraigned in court he was held on an affidavit which set forth that there was reason to believe he had acted in concert with others to procure the death of Peppo. Magistrate McAndrews held him until October 18, when he will be rearraigned.

TRIPLET CALVES BORN TO PRIZE BABY MILK COW

Dayton, Oct. 18.—An interesting exhibit at the recent fair held in York County and which have been attracting unusual attention from spectators at these events and from residents in the neighborhood of the Lewis Carter farm in Dayton, are the triplet calves, born at the Carter farm on March 3 of this year.

The youngsters are in the best of health and are developing into normal growth, promising to be milk producers of the same class as the mother rated among the foremost prize winning producers of the baby food in this section of the country. The mother cow is a pure bred Holstein, one of a large herd and was valued highly up to the time of her performance in giving birth to the triplets, but since that time she has taken on a value without price as Mr. Carter refuses to part with any cow that produces high grade milk machines in quantities such as this one, as he feels that the animal is a better investment than an interest in one of the United States mines.

At the age of three months the calves had attained extraordinary growth. It was about this time when he entered the triplets in the cattle exhibits at the fairs which he did and the entry has never failed to bring home at least one ribbon.

MARITIME BAPTISTS HAD BUSY SESSION IN CONVENTION

Large Number of Reports Received and Dealt With—Social Service Board Made Its Final Report—Despite Depression Receipts for Missionary Work Ahead of Last Year.

Special to The Standard.
Fredericton, Oct. 18.—The Maritime United Baptist convention held a busy session this afternoon, a large number of reports being received and dealt with in the devotional exercises.
Rev. Dr. Henry Alfred Porter, of Atlanta, Ga., gave his last address before the convention, taking as his subject "He Measured with a Golden Reed." Dr. J. W. Manning closed the service with prayer.

Rev. A. J. Prosser presented the report of the Social Service Board, which was the first annual report.
The board stands for child welfare, widows' pensions, removal of vice, proper housing, proper domestic relations and temperance.

It was resolved that the convention urgently request that copies of the resolutions be forwarded to the daily papers and to the provincial governments of the maritime provinces.

The report stated: "Juvenile crime has increased three hundred per cent. during the last twenty years. We recount that the persons being waranted that the dime novels are being distributed in the questionable thrif-ling shops at the movies, yet we recognize the national value of the good clean picture."

"The Board asks for the confidence of the convention in order that they may thoroughly investigate the advisability of participation with other bodies in the proposed Maritime Home for Women, and, if satisfied, proceed with the work."

A resolution was carried by the convention:

Resolved, Whereas there is overlapping that a committee be appointed to meet the committee of other churches with the purpose of cutting out such overlapping.

The report on the Maritime Home for Girls at Truro was presented.
The institution is carried on by four denominations and is for delinquent and wayward girls. Twenty-one girls entered during the year, and sixty-one now are in the home. The new building cost eighty thousand dollars and the loans are almost returned. With but three exceptions girls out on parole have done well.

The report on historical records showed that all records are kept in a single portion of the institutions at Wolfville.

The report of the committee on resolutions was presented and adopted.
The thanks of the convention were extended to Rev. Dr. Spidell and to Rev. Dr. Porter, of Atlanta, Ga., for their leadership of the devotional services.

The convention appreciated the work done by the new Brunswick Orphans' Home and recommended that the churches of New Brunswick set aside a Sunday on which to take up an offering. Sympathy is extended to the churches of Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, and similar support is asked for Union with other churches, which do not recognize the work done by the new Brunswick Orphans' Home.

The formal closing of the convention followed.

The Favorite.
The man with a past
On some woman's mind call;
For the man with a future A lot of them fail;
But the man with a present's Most welcome of all.

The report of the handbook committee showed that copy had been prepared. Prices were quoted.

The Board of Western Missions reported, through Rev. L. H. Crandall, in spite of depression the year had been the best in the history of missions. The forward movement funds had been the board's hands.

The Peace River country is opening up and there is need of men there.
Manitoba reports show steady progress in the work of the new work preaching and the first Ukrainian girl is about ready to enter college.
In Saskatchewan two closed churches have been reopened. The college at Brandon and the first Ukrainian history, with Scandinavians the best students. The best workers in the Swedish churches are from Brandon; that province had fifty-three missionaries and seventy-three religious and creeds. New churches have been organized. Women, who show special qualifications may be given permission to preach.

The convention approved of the action of the correspondence committee.
Rev. Mr. Spencer, representing the Lord's Day Alliance, spoke briefly concerning the reality of the Alliance and the day and keep it as members of the Alliance.

Rev. Z. L. Fash presented the report of the finance committee. Church costs had been about those of the year before by $4,159.59. The report urged that each church should have every member canvassed. Seventy-five thousand dollars was asked for missions.

A further report was submitted by the nominating committee as follows: To confer with association re plane for meeting, president of convention, secretaries of association and two field representatives. Representative of Social Service Board, Rev. W. D.
Wilson.

To replace Rev. C. W. Rose on annuity committee, Rev. B. D. Knott.
Committee to confer with other bodies re overlapping, Rev. E. S.
Wilson.

LINIMENTS WON'T RELIEVE PAIN BETWEEN THE EYES

The pain is not rheumatism or neuralgia. Many folks think so—it is due to Cataract, plain ordinary Cataract and relief comes instantly. "St. Jacobs Oil" is the name of a wonderful invention that is daily fixing up chronic cases of weak throat, bronchitis and catarrh. Every breath through the inter is laden with soothing, healing substances that destroy all diseased conditions in the breathing organs. It can't fail to help, because it goes where the trouble really exists—and doesn't attempt to cure an illness in the head or throat by means of medicine taken into the stomach. There is no sufferer from a grippy cold or any other ailment that won't find relief in Catarthone, which is employed by physicians, ministers, lawyers and public men throughout many foreign lands. Large size lasts two months, and costs $1.00. Small size 50c, sample size 25c, all stockholders of the Catarthone Co., Montreal.

ORDER RESULTS IN FURTHER BIG MINERS' SPLIT

Kansas Union Defies International President at Mass Meeting.

Pittsburg, Kan., Oct. 17.—Between 4,000 and 5,000 Kansas coal miners, meeting at Franklin, adopted resolutions upholding the administration of President Alexander M. Howat, suspended yesterday on order of John L.
Lewis, president of the International Mine Workers' Union.

Resolutions also were adopted declining to recognize the provisional administration created under President Lewis' order to be headed by Geo.
L. Peck, local member of the international executive board, and refusing to comply with instructions sent out today by Acting President Peck that all striking miners return to work immediately. About 12,000 miners have been on voluntary strike over the commitment to jail recently of President Howat and August Dorchy, union vice-president, for violating the criminal section of the state industrial court law. Howat and Dorchy are serving six months' sentences in the Cherokee county jail at Columbus.

Supporters of the provisional regime asserted tonight that the Franklin meeting was attended only by friends of the suspended administration and that resolutions recognizing the new administration and voting to return to work, would be adopted at a mass meeting of miners of the southern end of the field to be held at Scammon, later.

In the resolution adopted at Franklin, belief was expressed that to recognize the new administration would, in effect, be recognition of the industrial court. The meeting voted to permit the return to work of those miners in Missouri, under the jurisdiction of District 14, it being stated that it was Howat's desire that the fight be centered entirely in Kansas.

In an effort to forestall action, said to be considered by Howat and his associates toward maintaining funds of the suspended organization intact, C. O. Phipps, legal counsel for the international representatives, tonight mailed to all banks in which are the funds notices that checks signed by 14 is expected to bring the first legal clash between the opposing organizations.

Phil S. Gaffney, general counsel for District 14, has served legal notice on banks to honor no checks on the district funds unless they are signed by the old board.

Thomas Harvey, secretary-treasurer, under the old regime, was named as financial representative of the international in the order of President Lewis suspending the district. All of the funds of the district are deposited in the name of the District Executive Board, whose offices are vacated by the suspension order. Harvey holds the cheque books.

any member of the suspended organization. Possession of the funds of District 14 were not to be honored.
