

TIGER CUBS HUNTED ON INSTALLMENT.

According to Pliny, when a hunter wished to catch tiger cubs he must have another in reserve. "When the tigress finds her cub empty she dashes forth and tracks them by the smell. When she comes up to the hunter, he throws one of the whelps to her, with which she returns to her lair. Then she rushes back and he throws another to her; and this goes on till he reaches his ship."

Equally interesting is the account in the "Physiologist" which explains that the tiger cub is the water brook because it has been inhaling the breath of dragons. So having filled its stomach from the brook, it drowns the dragon.

out of its hole and lays it with the antlers. Unicorn horns seem to have given much trouble in those days, and were exterminated in a most unimportant manner. "The hunters place a virgin near the spot where the unicorn has its abode. The unicorn, seeing her, runs and places his head in her lap, doing her no harm." This very natural action proves his undoing, for "then cometh the hunter and killeth it."

Here is the reverse of the picture: "But if she be not a pure maid the unicorn will not sleep, but killeth her." This legend is also carved at Chester.

AUSTRIA TRIES TO SAVE; STOPS PILSNER BEER

Imports From Czechoslovakia Cost $1,500,000 a Year.

Vienna, March 18.—On top of all the other hardships and privations to which Austria has been subjected since the war comes the most unkind cut of all. The long-suffering population is to lose its beloved Pilsner beer because the authorities have decided that the money taken out of the country for the purchase of this beverage helped to aggravate the bankrupt situation. Pilsner, imported from the famous Bohemian cellars, has been sold here exclusively by the Inner Bier Hallen, but these will now close, as they have no more stocks on hand and can get no fresh supply. The Government found that the country spent 750,000,000 crowns (a crown is worth about one-fifth of a cent at present exchange rates) on Pilsner annually, and considered this such an extravagance under present conditions that it put a stop to it as a luxury, although some doctors say that it is an ideal drink for weak stomachs.

HEART HEARD BY NEW ARM STETHOSCOPE

WASHINGTON, March 18.—An amplifying apparatus described as so delicate as to permit a physician in one city to make a stethoscopic study of the heart action of a patient hundreds of miles away, was demonstrated today to a group of army and civilian medical men at the army signal corps laboratories. The principle involved is similar to that in transmitting President Harding's inaugural address to the great crowd that extended far beyond the ordinary reach of the human voice. The demonstration was directed by Brig.-Gen. George Squier, chief signal officer. The stethoscopic apparatus with electrical connection was placed over the heart of one of the laboratory assistants, and the heart-beat was amplified many thousands of times, emerging through a phonograph horn to be heard distinctly and studied by the physicians in a room some distance from that in which the subject was located. The device may be used in connection with any telephone wires, and will function, it was said, at the laboratory as far as the telephone wires will transmit the voice in ordinary conversation. A special heart transmitter has been designed which rests by its own weight over the patient's heart," said Gen. Squier. The passage of the blood through the different valves of the heart causes vibration in an air chamber, which faithfully reproduces all of the various actions. These are transmitted over the wire to an amplifying apparatus attached to a large horn, which projects the sounds throughout the building.

VICTORIAN MODESTY IS FALSE, SAYS PREACHER

Head of Free Church Council Lauds Freedom of Speech.

London, March 18.—Victorian modesty was the subject of an attack by the Rev. R. C. Gillie, president of the National Free Church Council, at a meeting in Manchester this week. "Many of the social conventions of the Victorian era now have become invalid," he said. "We have learned a new freedom of conversation which would have shocked our grandfathers. The Victorian modesty of speech was often merely a false modesty." The Rev. Mr. Gillie made an eloquent plea for a return of personal morality rather than the observance of a dictated code of morals.

AT THE ALLEN.

A variety of entertainment is skillfully combined in the program at the Allen Theatre for the latter half of this week. "The Concert" is a standing comedy production of the high comedy type, while Marguerite Clark in "The Sudden Peggy" is a London theatre production. An outstanding and most enjoyable production of the noted blind musician, "The Musician's Wife," is an entertainment in themselves. The lavish production, "The Concert," details the amorous adventures of a celebrated music master who has a decided fascination for his soul mate. She induces him to take her for a week-end trip to his mountain cabin. This and also reach the cabin. The denouement, in which the share Billy offers to exchange wives with the temperamental musician, is a masterpiece, and keeps spectators breathless with suspense. It is a keen study of human nature, and contains a fund of sparkling humor. Its situation is genuinely laughable. The main plot, that is, the one which while some perhaps would like to take other's wives, or other's husbands, would like to take theirs, is a fair exchange of this and also reach the cabin.
