

executive requirements

There are twenty-three members on the S.R.C. That body has ultimate responsibility and control over all student affairs at UNB. An almost equal number of students is appointed by the S.R.C. to fill the executive positions of the chief campus institutions. In this category are the editorial staffs of the Yearbook, Brunswickan and Radio UNB, and the leaders of the Winter Carnival Committee, Campus Police and the Students' Disciplinary Committee.

At the beginning of last year, student affairs were in a muddle because the S.R.C. President had failed his year, and a replacement had to be found and trained. To guard against a similar recurrence, the Constitution was changed so that all nominees for the five S.R.C. executive positions must have an academic average of at least sixty per cent.

This year one third of the S.R.C. members failed and had to resign, while the appointed positions suffered an equal number due to academic failures. The result is that all phases of student government are thrown into chaos, and those who remain are left to start from scratch to rebuild the student organizations.

It seems only common sense to extend the sixty per cent academic requirement to cover all the responsible student positions, both elected and appointed. Not only would this provide an incentive toward better academic standards, but it would ensure smoother and more efficient operation of all aspects of student government.

abbreviation

After the five month summer break, students who had left UNB in a tired and uncongenial state arrived back on campus to greet their fellows with the most amazing heartiness. Even those who were not particular friends in May hailed each other like long-lost brothers . . . and sisters.

In the first couple of days, the conversations began thusly:

"Hi there, Kid! How was your summer?"
 "How did you make out on your exams?"
 "Are there any freshettes here yet?"

By the end of the week, the whole process had been shortened to:

"Hi! Nice summer?"
 "How many you got?"
 "Is she back?"

quotes — editor's choice

If the Russians were really so proud of their communist experiment, they would take down the Iron Curtain and put in a picture window. —Alex Dreiger

Occasionally we sigh for an earlier day when we could just look at the stars without worrying whether they were theirs or ours. —Bill Vaughn

It is no small art to sleep; to achieve it one must keep awake all day. —Nietzsche

A Saint is a Sinner revised and re-edited. —Unknown

EDUCATED?

"Whom, then, do I call educated? First, those who manage well the circumstances which they encounter day by day and who possess a judgment which is accurate in meeting occasions as they arise and rarely misses the expedient course of action; next, those who are decent and honourable in their intercourse with all men, bearing easily and good naturedly what is unpleasant or offensive in others, and being themselves as agreeable and reasonable as is humanly possible to be; furthermore, those who hold their pleasures always under control and are not unduly overcome by their misfortunes, bearing under them bravely and in a manner worthy of our common nature; finally, and most important of all, those who are not spoiled by their successes and who do not desert their true selves, but hold their ground steadfastly as wise and sober-minded men, rejoicing no more in the good things which have come to them by chance than in those which through their own nature and intelligence are Miss Peggy Blair, a petite 5'5" blue-eyed blonde from Moncton, N.B., was chosen Freshman Queen for 1962-63 on Friday night at the Freshman Banquet and Dance held at McConnell Hall. This eighteen year old beauty pictured above with Sheila Hutchinson, last year's Freshman Queen, will spend her next four years at UNB as a protegee of Miss Florence Nightingale. Peggy plans to work with mentally retarded children when she progresses into the nursing profession.

FROSH QUEEN

A girl with a magnetic personality and an aim to do what is right at this university, she thinks very poorly of the sex ratio at UNB. Peggy loves university life and she said she found it much more than she expected it to be. Like all co-eds, she likes the dances and going out to make your own fun. Peggy plans to add to her academic studies by working on the Brunswickan as a typist and on Winter Carnival in what she hopes will be a public relations or administrative capacity.

As a resident of the Lord Beaverbrook Hotel, Seventh floor, Miss Blair is looking for theirs since birth. Those who have a character which is in accord, not with one of these things, but with all of them; these I maintain are educated and whole men, possessed of the virtues of manhood."

Isocrates, 436-338 B.C.
 From "Panathenaicus"

ward to moving into the new women's residence Up the Hill. When asked about the food in residence, Peggy had only one comment, "It is very good for institutional cooking."

Peggy, being a very enthusiastic and ambitious person, took a secretarial course after graduating from high school in 1961. She decided on a University nursing course because it would broaden her mind and her outlook on life. I am sure we will all agree that we would much rather have Peggy grace our campus for four years instead of hospital halls. Peggy enjoys meeting people and therefore she thoroughly enjoyed Frosh Week.

We wish Peggy the best of luck in her future years at UNB. She is a girl with a mind of her own and she will have no trouble carrying out her aims at this university.

CAMPUS CALENDAR

- Sept. 26 7:30 Brunswickan Meeting, Tartan Room.
- Sept. 27 7:30 Arts Society, Tartan Room.
- Sept. 29 9:00 Arts Society Dance, Student Centre.
- Oct. 1 7:30 Co-ordinating Committee, Oak Room. 8:00 Student Wives, Tartan Room.
- Oct. 2 7-11 Duplicate Bridge, Oak Room.

— From Our Readers —

To the Editor:

In past years students have been able to receive the results of their final examinations within a few days after they had written them. Last year, however, they were forced to wait for months due to some administrative intricacy. As a result, many students did not know their marks soon enough for them to apply for summer school, and they are suffering from this now, in some cases by repeating their year. Could not this be remedied in some way?

Brian Copeland

If your facts are straight, it should be remedied. We suggest you check with the Registrar and write us another letter telling us what she said.—ed.

To the Editor:

First of all, let me say I like to read the Brunswickan, and I usually find at least one thing in it which is not wholly trash. But . . . I don't like the paper well enough to wait around the campus until three or four o'clock in the afternoon for it to appear. With one issue a week, the news is stale enough without having to wait until the following morning to get it.

Also, why do you not put more papers where there is a demand for them. They can be seen sitting in the Old Arts Building many days after they are gone elsewhere. The Women's residences are short of them, and the Student Centre could use them, rather than letting them gather dust where they are never seen. Of course there are some issues when it would be wise to send the whole lot to the Old Arts Building, but we hope there won't be too many of those.

Sincerely yours,
 A Senior

We are adjusting the number of copies which are distributed in each place, and we are trying to see that our publisher gets them out on time.—ed.

M. Bell:

I speak for many people on campus who are just as irate about this as myself. Why can one not get one's yearbook? Some were given out last year, but it was merely a case of "the word getting out". Are those who didn't get the word doomed to do without their yearbooks? Because I felt studying more important last spring than the collection of my yearbook, am I to be punished this fall by lack of it? I paid my SRC fees last year and by all rights am entitled to one. When do I get it?

yours truly,
 Rheese Dickie

We don't know either, but will endeavor to find out for you by next week.—ed.

Dear Sir:

For the last three days, I have spent all my spare time running around between various administrative offices. If this were entirely my fault I would not mind, but it isn't. All this could have been saved at registration if the people who signed my cards had read the courses I intended to take, and told me then and there, that it could not be done. Instead I was allowed to sign up for more courses than I am allowed in one group, and have since had to change. I realize that registration is a bit of a mess, but surely it would be possible to catch these things a little sooner, if the administration would keep its eyes open. If two days makes it too much of a rush and confusion, perhaps registration could be spread out over three or even four days.

Yours,
 A disgruntled artsman

We thought it was much better organized than other years. What do you expect, perfection? Then too, you could read the calendar.—ed.

Dear Sir:

This letter is to wish upon Dick Grant, the Dean of Men's Residences, a very large bouquet of flowers for the lovely accommodations I enjoyed for $22.00 a week in Jones House basement. My hearty congratulations to him and his staff for their far-sightedness in arranging this type of accommodations for my return to UNB.

T. A. Vern
 Thank you,

Petty, my boy, petty.—ed.

Brunswickan

Established in 1867, The Brunswickan is published each Wednesday by and for the students of the University of New Brunswick at Fredericton, N.B. Opinions expressed are not necessarily those of the Students' Representative Council. Subscriptions are available to non-students at $3.00 a year. Authorized as second class matter, Post Office Department, Ottawa, and paid for in cash.

OFFICE: Memorial Students' Centre

PHONE GRanite 5-5191

Ed Bell
Editor-in-Chief

Charles English
Business Manager

STAFF

Jim Wallace
Managing Editor

Katie FitzRandolph Layout Editor

Joanne Rowley News Editor

Pete Roberts Assistant News Editor

Jay Woollven Photographic Editor

And others who prefer to remain discreet.

Ed Bell
Editor-in-Chief

Charles English
Business Manager