Questions and Answers. Miscellaneous.

Cow Leaks Milk.

Some time ago I saw in the columns of "The Farmer's Advocate" a treatment for cow leaking her milk. Never having had any need for such a prescription I paid little attention to it, and have no idea at what date I saw it, or what the medicine was. It was to be rubbed on the point of teat when through milking. Would you kindly repeat the information. Tell me the date of issue it was in?

J. J. M.

Ans.—The use of some astringent is the most advisable remedy to use in a case of this kind, and we would suggest that you wash the teats in alum water for one minute after each milking. This treatment may contract the opening sufficiently to prevent the trouble.

Whitewash.

Will you kindly print a recipe for whitewash that will not rub off, for interior of barn?

SUBSCRIBER.

Ans.—It is considered almost impossible to get a whitewash that will not flake or wash off. However, the following recipe is considered as good as anything in this line, and it was used to whitewash the White House in Washington during the time U. S. Grant was President, and we recommend it for what it is worth, basing our recommendation on its use on the White House. "Half a bushel of unslaked lime. Slake with warm water; cover it during the process to keep in the steam. Strain the liquid through a fine sieve or strainer; add a peck of salt previously well dissolved in warm water, three pounds of ground rice boiled to a thin paste, and stir in boiling hot; half a pound of powdered Spanish whiting, and a pound of glue, which has previously been dissolved over a slow fire, and add five gallons hot water to the mixture; stir well, and let it stand for a few days, covered up from the dirt. It should be put on hot. One pint of this mixture will cover a square yard, properly applied. Small brushes are best. There is nothing that can compare with it for outside or inside work, and it retains its brilliancy for many years. Coloring matter may be put in, and made of any shade—Spanish brown, yellow ochre, or common clay."

Eczema—Thoroughpin.

1. Mare eight years old is troubled the last three years with skin disease in the summer season. Her skin will be full of little lumps as though bitten by flies, the hair coming off these and dry scabs form, which are very itchy. She is anxious to bite or rub them. Please give cause and cure.

2. Another mare four years old had lump very much like thoroughpin come on hock, only a little higher up. There is no puff in front of leg, but on each side. A horseman told me it was a leakage of joint oil. She has not shown any lameness. What would you advise?

O. A.

Ans.—1. This mare is troubled with eczema, which is fairly common in the summer time. It is very hard to treat, however, and it would be wiser, we believe, to clip her. Give a thorough washing with strong soft-soap suds, well applied with a scrubbing brush. After this, dress thoroughly every second day until cured, with a warm five-per-cent. solution of creolin in water. Give her one ounce of Fowler's Solution of Arsenic, mixed with a pint of cold water, and mixed with chop or bran, or as a drench, twice daily every second week for six weeks.

2. Although these lumps appear somewhat high, they are, no doubt, thoroughpins. They come at the back part of the hock joint, just inside the point and a little above it. If they press through from one side to the other, it is thoroughpin without a doubt. The animal should not do any heavy work during treatment if you wish the best results. Apply once daily the following mixture: Three drams each of iodide of mercury and potassium iodide, and six ounces of water. Clip on the hair and apply. After four or five applications, cease for a week or ten days till the soreness passes away, and then repeat. This is an absorbent blister and will not make the part very sore. If necessary, repeat the treatment four or five times.

Low Prices Still Hold

WITH the first alarm of the European war, the mills which supply sheet metal refused to quote prices for future delivery—an almost sure sign that price of all metal products will take a jump.

GALT ART METAL customers will be protected against the extra cost as long as our large stock of materials holds out. Galt Steel Shingle, Siding and Metal Ceilings are being sold now at the low prices that obtained before war was declared. Those who require any of these products will present a substantial saving by ordering while the present low prices hold.

Those who have mislaid our catalogues and information on roofing may obtain copies by sending their addresses on postal cards. Now more than at any other time it will pay you to plan building improvements. Write to-day.
