

ward 2; Vincent Edwards, ward 3; M. J. Keating, ward 4; J. Redmond, ward 5; P. F. McBride, ward 6; William Mullins, ward 7; John McGinnis, ward 8.

the large and important parishes of the city commodious halls to be used for Sunday schools and other purposes of the church. It is because of this fact that Vicar-General Mahoney and Father Coty are each contributing $10,000. The gift of the two sites by His Lordship the Bishop is equivalent to $25,000 to the board.

OPENED BY BISHOP
Hamilton Spectator, Dec. 9, 1911.

The opening of the Sacred Heart chapel connected with St. Patrick's parish was solemnly inaugurated this morning at 9 o'clock by Bishop Dowling. The service began at 9.30 o'clock and His Lordship was assisted by the vicar general, Rev. Dr. Mahony, Rev. Father Coty, pastor of St. Patrick's Church and Rev. Father O'Reilly, of the Redemptorist order, Toronto. At the conclusion of the service, congratulatory remarks were made by the bishop and

REMOVING PREJUDICE

Four marks or attributes of good citizenship were mentioned by Father Seiekrath, S. J., in his lecture in Springfield recently. They are, first, loyalty and patriotism; secondly, uprightness and integrity; both in public and private; thirdly, fairness and justice to all fellow citizens without distinction of race or creed; and fourthly, civic usefulness. On point of fairness and justice to a fellow-citizen, without distinction of race or creed, Father Seiekrath said: "Fatal as racial prejudice is and intense, it is so in much higher degree in this country to whose hospitable shores have come thousands of men of all races and nationalities. And this hospital-ity is rightly considered one of the pre-not Catholics there is a special reason for this. We must show the spirit of fairness to all men and nations. The Church of the Latin races only, not the Church of the French, Italians and Spaniards, not the Church of the Irish or of another nationality, but, as her very name implies, she is Catholic, that is, universal, embracing all the races and nations of the world. This spirit of fairness is one of the chief reasons why those who differ from us in religious beliefs. According to the teaching of the Church we condemn error, but not erring; we must reject certain tenets but we are forbidden to harbor any feeling towards individuals. . . . Nor to Catholics it is one of the chief reasons for their interest in this country that they can see that in this country the great work of unification can be done.

at their doors. And should the ever more when we Catholics are in majority, we shall never initiate religious persecution, we shall never think of discriminating against others on account of their religious belief.

It is very excellent work indeed show Protestants whose minds are clouded with suspicion, that the church has nothing to fear but rather much to be thankful for in the growth of the Catholic Church on American soil.

Catholics in word and deed stand constantly for what is best in American life; let them array themselves against forces of drunkenness and disorder, let them take their place against the "good fellows" who would inaugurate in our towns as they do in the cities, and they will be doing a good service in removing that prejudice which beholds in Catholic increase a menace to America's best interest.—S. J. May.

♦ ♦ ♦

Boer War Convert

Some of the foreign papers are carrying an account of General Antoinette, one of the survivors of the Army of the Transvaal Republic who may, perhaps, be of equal interest to Catholic readers in this country, Church Progress.

It was he who was general in command of the staff he fought for a whole year with one hundred and fifty men against forty-two thousand English. During the war his eight sons were killed. Kruger had him selected as his successor.

General Antoin became a Catholic in 1885, when he was traveling in Italy. He was instructed says the foreign reports, by the present Holy Father.

was then Mgr. Sarrat, who, after a military decoration had received, but he always by his breast the medal of Saint Armand which was given him by Father Provincial of the Franciscans at Santiago.

He that repeats every day, who comes to die will have the sins of one day to repent of.

The Christmas Reading

The herald winds of Christmas still High-eroded on the wooded steep
The far stars only are a-trill
With life; and night is cold and deep Come I gather 'round the ingle And fix its shell; take down the Wherein the master's genius dwelt Those pictures old, but ever new Whose "Christmas Carol" declime

Here led the evensong, touch Eads let the children sit, and Beneath the lamp's light play chair.

Tate, then, the book, O! golden And read the pages of thy choice Of the Son of David, and Of all our favorites old; but more Tell us with tenderness of him as with doth the but he they had row. His the board deers for trustees say were:

 Doherty,

he laugh and weep with—Tiny Call thou the soul to every face
 About thee in this holy place,
 We shall not be ashamed at all.
 For frank, sweet tears you cause
 But fervently, with eyelids dim And hearts attuned to Tiny Tim We'll quote his words when y done,
 And say, " God bless us, every
 —THOMAS A. DALY, in December Canad