From Sap To Syrup By Evaporation.

You haven't forgotten our last year's Maple Syrup, have you?

You liked it so well you remember you remember you said: I'll get it at the Star Grocery again next year. That's this year.

The Syrup's here. As good as it could possibly be. Made by the same people, from the sap of the same trees, in the same way.

And the "way" is everything. Sap is about alike, but "ways" are different.

Our Syrup is the product of evaporation. No foreign substance can get near it. It is uniform in consistency, has a delicious flavor, and we can say of it in big letters,

IT IS POSITIVELY PURE.

$1.20 per imperial gallon.
