TRAINS COLLIDE

Near Norton, Mo., on the Chicago & Alton Road Killing 16 People

AND DANGEROUSLY WOUNDING OTHERS

Passengers Were Cooked by Steam From Engines

MANY COMING TO DAWSON

Among Them Mrs. Frank P. Slavin, Customs Officials and Several Tourists.

From Saturday and Monday's Daily.

Kansas City, July 10, via Skagway, July 15.—Sixteen persons dead, two fatally injured and a large number seriously hurt is the result of a head-on collision between a passenger and fast livestock train on the Chicago & Alton road near Norton, Missouri. Both engines and one conductor were killed. When the crash came the smoking and dining cars telescoped and went by the baggage and express cars and the engine and down an embankment. Few in these cars were injured. The greatest number of fatalities were in the tourist car which telescoped and fell on top of the engine where the passengers were scalded by steam. The tourist sleeper and chair cars, also baggage and a number of freight cars piled up on and around the engines and were burned.

Skagway, July 15.—The following persons left today for Dawson: Mrs. Slavin, wife of the puglist; J. Cuthbertson, Captain Woodhouse, Strathcona Horse; Dominion Customs Inspector McMichael and Beldin, Miss Watson and Miss Schropnick, Victoria schoolteachers, Dr. Duncan and P. S. Bell of Victoria, the latter two traveling in a Peterboro canoe; Count de Jeanne Lamarre also left this morning via Adlin for Dawson. He has with him an automobile in which he expects to travel around over the Klondike.

RABIES ARE NOT EXTINCT

Mad Dog Runs Amuck and Is Killed Saturday Night.

The almost criminal folly of the authorities in gratifying the desires of a few ridiculous sentimentalists by turning the dogs loose a short time ago was made apparent by a scene which took place Saturday night near the foot of Eighth street. A horde of half-starved, mangy, and in many instances worthless brutes had collected around the garbage pail, fighting, yelping and making the night hideous in the extreme. There suddenly pounced into the midst a cur from Moosehide, panting and covered with froth, his eyes having a wild, vacant look, while his tongue was lolling about his repulsive looking jaws. A watchman employed at one of the big warehouses near by saw the brute almost at once upon its arrival but before he could get his gun and end its misery a free for all fight had taken place and 10 or 15 out of the 20 or more dogs present were bitten. This could be readily seen by the different dogs licking their wounds after the mad animal had been put out of the way and peace had been restored. The dog shot was unquestionably mad, if its general appearance and actions may be taken as a criterion, and there is but little chance of any of the others that were bitten escaping innoculation. When the disease in them, too, makes its appearance it is hard to conceive the reign of terror they may occasion. Better the canine race in the Yukon should be entirely exterminated, better each dog should die a thousand deaths than one human being should suffer the indescribable tortures endured by the unfortunate man who died on Hunker last winter, the first to fall a victim to the terrible rabies.

AS TO THAT

BANK ROLL

An Appeal Must be Made to Minister of Justice.

The confiscation of the bank roll belonging to the O'Brien Club, which was seized during the raid last week, has been definitely decided so far as the authorities at Dawson are concerned. Attorney McKay for the defendant appealed to Commissioner Ross against the legality of the seizure and the governor referred the matter to Legal Adviser Congdon. Mr. Congdon has handed down his opinion, which is to the effect that the commissioner of the territory has no power to act or interfere in the matter. If defendants desire to appeal from the acts of the police and secure the restitution of the money so seized, such appeal should be directed to the minister of justice at Ottawa and to him alone.

STEAMBOAT NEWS.

The John C. Barr, loaded with 49 first-class and 51 second-class passengers, not counting the stowaways who will pay their fare after the fear of creditors has passed, pulled out Saturday evening for St. Michael. There was a big crowd on the dock, to say goodby, the majority of the passengers being well known Dawsonites who are going to the lower country. Almost every element in the social world, from the staid, sober, respectable citizen to the gay and festive soubrette, gamblers, tinhorners, boosters, and a few who had been "blue papered" were represented in the passenger list. A number of theatrical stars were aboard en route to Nome to meet engagements.

The Yukoner arrived Saturday evening with 47 passengers. Yesterday she was dispatched on an excursion down the river, leaving here at 2 p. m. and returning about 10 p. m. in the evening. There was a big crowd aboard who thoroughly enjoyed the outing. She will leave for Whitehorse sometime tomorrow.

The Dawson pulled into her dock yesterday with a heavy cargo of freight, but only nine passengers on her list. She leaves for up-river this evening at 8.

The Nora arrived this morning at 10 o'clock with a light load and but few passengers. No change is reported in the recent scarcity of freight coming over the pass. But little is arriving at present.

The Canadian left for Whitehorse Sunday evening immediately after the return of the Yukoner excursion. She had 40 passengers, mostly bound for Seattle and Victoria.

There is nothing new to report regarding the movements of the lower river fleet and at the office of the Northern Navigation Company the officials are simply waiting, Micawber-like, for something to turn up. The forerunner of the fleet may be within a few miles of Eagle and it may still be at the mouth of the river, though the latter is scarcely possible. It is now a week later than the arrival of the first boat last year and a day later than the season of '99.

One-Third Each.

A case in which Peter Hembau was plaintiff and S. A. Miller, D. H. Robinson, D. A. McKay and Bertha Elund were defendants over the title to a hillside claim adjoining the lower half of 120 below discovery on Dominion, on the left limit, which had been staked by all of the parties, was heard before Gold Commissioner Senkler Saturday.

The evidence showed that Hembau, Miller and Robinson staked the claim at the same time and under the recent decision handed down by the court of appeals the gold commissioner awarded each of the parties an undivided one-third interest in the claim.

Death of a Young Man.

Rollin Sholes a young man 29 years of age died at St. Mary's hospital Saturday of an acute attack of Bright's disease. Mr. Sholes was a resident of Tacoma, Wash., where his parents and three sisters now reside. He had been in Dawson only about three weeks, taking his first trip here and he had several offers of positions but his health would not permit his accepting any of them.

A wire has been sent to his parents notifying them of his death. The body is embalmed and will probably be sent outside for burial.

Wade Family Goes Out.

Among the passengers leaving for the outside Saturday evening on the Canadian was Crown Prosecutor P. C. Wade accompanied by his wife and two children. Mr. Wade has been confined to his office for over two years continuously and after having finished up the O'Brien trial has wisely concluded to allow himself a vacation. He will not return to Dawson until next summer and during his absence will, with his family, make an extended tour over Great Britain and the continent.

HIS RACE IS RUN

William Jennings Bryan Repudiated by Ohio State Democratic Convention

BANNER TORN AND TRAMPLED ON

Only 6 of 950 Delegates Favorable to Hero of Lost Cause

WAS BITTERLY DENOUNCED

Fishermen's Strike on Fraser River Is Assuming Alarming Proportions—Whites and Japs Armed.

From Monday's Daily.

Columbus, O., July 10, via Skagway, July 15.—At the Democratic state convention today it was agreed that neither the name nor platform of Bryan should be mentioned. After this agreement had been reached in the caucus of the committee on platform one of the 21 members of the committee presented a minority report reaffirming the Kansas platform and confidence in Bryan. Out of 950 delegates only six voted for the minority report. The aisles were ordered cleared, the banner was torn and trampled under foot and there was wild and most bitter denunciation of Bryan.

Fishermen's Strike.

Vancouver, July 10, via Skagway, July 15.—The fishermen's strike on the Fraser river continues. All the Japs have been armed and the union men are determined not to give up without a fight. There has been violence already and worse trouble is feared.

State Closes Its Case.

Seattle, July 10, via Skagway, July 15.—The state has closed its evidence in the Considine-Meredith murder trial. Many witnesses were called, among them Judge Griffin of the superior court and Attorneys Will H. Thompson and C. S. Shanks, all of whom were eye-witnesses to the killing. Many of the witnesses for the defense also witnessed the tragedy.

Great Predictions.

Capt. J. J. Healy, who is in Seattle, in a recent interview with a Times reporter said that out of the agitation now being carried on a great railway system will be constructed from Valdes by way of the Yukon to some point in the Cape Nome country within the near future, and if it is not built with American capital it will surely be constructed with foreign.

The captain is old-fashioned in his way of putting things. He regards fishing, agriculture and mining the only legitimate occupations of mankind—that is, the only natural occupations in which humanity can engage—all others being incidental, collateral or parasitic.

Capt. Healy declares that there are as good opportunities for agriculture in Alaska as can be found on earth, and all there is needed for the development of the country is for the United States to extend the land laws as well as the mineral laws to that great territory. He declares there would be a million people in Alaska within the next five years if the land laws were extended.

The public knows something about the gold product and its future prospects, but they know little about other products of the higher classes of minerals, and he unhesitatingly declares that there is more copper to be found on the new line of railway than is deposited in all the rest of the United States combined.

All the world will be astonished at the deposits of wealth and the agricultural possibilities of what is now known as the territory of Alaska with its 50,000 inhabitants.

Notice.

Anyone intending to buy "Maid of Erin" mineral claim, situated on the ridge between Bonanza and Hunker creeks, Yukon territory, as at present staked will hereby take notice that in the event of purchase a contest will follow.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Is Creating Interest—Games Played Friday and Saturday.

Great interest is being taken in the Yukon Lawn Tennis Clubs tournament and every afternoon as the match games progress the attendance of spectators is increasing.

Friday evening the first round of men's doubles was played. Messrs. Pattullo and Herbert (owe 30) met and defeated, after a strong game, McRae and Smith (owe 4.5.16) by a score of 6-4, 6-2. Mr. Smith was out of form Saturday and did not play as strong a game as usual to which is attributed the overwhelming victory of the opposing team.

Messrs. Pattullo and Herbert are among the best players in the club and play a strong team game. Mr. McRae also shows himself to be well acquainted with the proper use of the racket.

After the game of doubles two games of single were played in which A. P. Hughes (owe 30) met and defeated J. McKinnon (receive 1/2 15) with a score of 6-2, 6-4. Mr. McKinnon is playing his first tennis this year and shows himself to be a very promising player. Mr. Hughes is another of the best players in the club and Friday evening played his usual strong and careful game.

J. K. McRae met and easily defeated A. G. Smith by a score of 6-1, 6-2.

C. C. McCann (owe 1/4 15) commenced his contest with G. R. Clazy (owe 15). The first set only was played and was won by Clazy by a score of 6-3. Owing to the darkness the game was continued until Monday. These two men are well matched and the set was hotly contested. Saturday evening another set of men's doubles was played by Finnie and Martin (owe 15) vs. Barwell and Seddon (owe 30.1.6). The game was won by Finnie and Martin by a score of 6-3, 6-3. Finnie played a very steady and effective game.

The games scheduled for this evening, unless the rain interferes will be between H. G. Herbert (owe 40) vs. C. R. Elderton (owe 15). Following this game there will be a game of doubles between Elderton and Clazy (owe 15) vs. Nichol and Levy (owe 5-6 15).

Entries for the ladies' singles and doubles and combined doubles closed Saturday afternoon and the handicaps will be announced this evening.

Mine Host Stanley.

Sam Stanley of 26 Eldorado gave a party and dance in honor of Miss Worden at the claim last Wednesday evening.

A number of guests went up from Dawson including Messrs. Wills, Cowan, Severson, J. Doyle, Frank Johnson, M. Scarth, Capt. Scarth, Ben Davis, Miss Long, Mrs. Schuman and others.

A number also assembled at the cabin from the surrounding claims and music and dancing were enjoyed until the early hours of the morning.

An excellent luncheon was served at midnight and everyone voted Sam a capital host.

George Butler of the Pioneer has issued the defy to all competitors and has reduced the price of case goods from 50 cents to 25 cents. His house will now be a two-bit place exclusively and the day of the 50 cent drink is doomed. The reduction includes all liquors handled by him the same as he formerly sold for a half dollar.

CONGDON RESIGNS

Will Enter the Legal Firm of Wade & Aikman.

Fred T. Congdon, legal adviser to the commissioner and the Yukon council, has notified Governor Ross of his resignation and his desire to have it take effect as soon as it is convenient for his services to be dispensed with. This move on the part of Mr. Congdon is due solely to a desire to better himself. Immediately upon the acceptance of his resignation he will become a member of the firm of Wade & Aikman, the new combination to be styled, Wade, Congdon & Aikman. During the absence of the senior member of the firm Mr. Congdon will act as crown prosecutor. His resignation as legal adviser will also entail the relinquishment of his seat in the Yukon council. In speaking of the matter today, Mr. Congdon said:

"It will probably be some little time before I leave my present position as I have promised Governor Ross to remain until the legislation now pending in the council is disposed of. No, I have no idea who my successor will be. He will be appointed by parliament upon the recommendation of the minister of the interior."

Mr. Congdon has been in Dawson but a few months but has made a warm personal friend of everyone with whom he has come in contact. He is from Halifax, Nova Scotia, is a graduate of Toronto University, and is considered one of the most able of the younger barristers in the Dominion.

SIGHTED BIG SEA SERPENT

Which was 20 Feet Longer Than 273 Foot Ship.

Apparently True Story of Sea Captain in Australian Waters—Entire Crew Saw Wonder.

Capt. Lawrence Thompson of the steamship Nemesis, which plies between Sydney, Melbourne, Adelaide and the West Australian ports, tells the story of his encounter with a strange denizen of the ocean:

While on our last trip off Cape Naturaliste I was called to the bridge by my third officer, Mr. Perry, who was on watch at the time.

About half a mile off, between us and the rocky shore line, which ran parallel to our course and of which the dreaded Cape Leewards was the southern boundary and Cape Naturaliste, around which our course was, the northern termination, were two large objects, or rather I thought there were two. I took them to be enormous whales, as that spot is a great haunt of theirs during the season. Suddenly a black cylindrical body emerged from the space between the two, and with a convulsive jerk the second, or now, as it appeared, the third, body shot forward toward it. The middle section continued rising above the water in an ever extending arch until to my amazement it resolved itself into a connecting part between what I had taken to be two separate bodies, and now I saw that the whole was some enormous monster, longer than the Nemesis herself and as flexible as a piece of rubber.

Slowly and gracefully the curve was transmitted down its entire length, exactly like a wave rolling to the shore. I could see through the arch formed by the strange thing, but just then did not make any careful observation as to its size and so on. The body generally was of a grayish black color.

The creature had reared its head high above the waters and was gently swaying it backward, forward and round about.

A huge fin or flap now shot out from behind the head and, circling in the air, threw itself over the head and then back at right angles to the still vertical neck. With glasses I could make out a darker shade of skin about where one would expect to find eyes, but in my opinion the creature had no eyes and only at that moment had become aware of our presence by some other sense.

It turned to cross our bows and go seaward, so I instantly ordered the Nemesis to be turned around so be parallel once more and then ordered every one to take notes as to the immense creature's size, etc.

I laid the Nemesis in line myself, the chief officer and Mr. Johnson marking off at the bows, while Blair, Mr. Macrae and the third engineer took their observations at the stern.

The chief steward and an assistant together with all the crew save the firemen on duty, were also watching.

When the first officer signalled me that our bows were abreast, I repeated to Blair, who instantly "sighted" and reported that about 20 feet of the monster still projected past the Nemesis' stern. The Nemesis is 273 feet in length.

We all gathered on the forepeak then and estimated carefully the height of the arches, which was easily proved, as they were short a foot of the deck on which we stood, and this was 16 feet above water.

Comparing it, then, with a log of "arrab" wood, with which all on board were familiar, we agreed that it was about 3 feet 6 inches in diameter, as the creature was now increasing its speed, and the spirals rolled off quicker than the eye could follow them without getting dazed. I reluctantly ordered our course to be set around Cape Naturaliste, and in due course we entered Vasse harbor.—Ex.

CARNEGIE DECLINES

To Become Republican Candidate for Mayor of New York City

HIS PRESENT DUTIES TOO ARDUOUS

Prominent Syracuse Citizen Commits Suicide

MONEY TO BE RECOUNTED

In San Francisco Mint Vaults Will Require One Week—Prof. Lippy off on Round-world Tour.

From Monday's Daily.

New York, July 9, via Skagway, July 15.—Andrew Carnegie has been waited on by a delegation of Republicans and asked to become the candidate of that party for mayor of this city. He replied that he is too much occupied already to add further to his duties and cares.

Despondency and Suicide.

Syracuse, N. Y., July 8, via Skagway, July 15.—Fredrick D. White, son of Andrew D. White, United States ambassador to Germany, committed suicide at his home in this city this afternoon. Prolonged ill-health and exhaustion of his nervous system is all that can possibly be given as cause for his rash act. He had been in his usual health and spirits during the day and had attended to business connected with the White estate. He had returned to his home early in the afternoon. Mrs. White was out in the afternoon and when she returned she found her husband in the bathroom with a bullet through his brain. Death had been instantaneous. Investigation showed that he had removed the bolt from his right foot, placed the muzzle in his mouth and pulled the trigger with his toe.

Recounting Gold.

San Francisco, July 9, via Skagway, July 15.—The federal authorities have ordered a recount of the money in the U. S. mint vaults in the hope that the $30,000 shortage may be found. The amount to be counted is $40,000,000 and a week's time will be required to do the work. If the money was stolen there is no trace of the thieves.

Farewell to Lippy.

Seattle, July 8, via Skagway, July 15.—A farewell reception at the Methodist church was tendered to Prof. T. S. Lippy previous to departure on a tour around the world. He will be absent a year.
