CAN GET A JOB

"I see by last night's Planet," said E. J. Downey, "that a prominent citizen expresses the opinion that it would be an improvement if the management of the C. P. R. could invent some means for preventing loafers from hanging around inside the depot. Now, you tell that man that if he comes around to me I will give him the job of keeping the loafers out. It is a little harder to do this than you imagine. We are removing the seats from the outside, however, and we expect to be practically free from loafers in future."

UNIQUE POSITION

Attention has been directed to Canada's possibilities as a paper-making country, by the prospectus of the Atlantic Pulp and Paper Co., Limited, which appears elsewhere in this issue.

The Dominion occupies a unique position in regard to this industry. The world's supply of wood pulp must in future be drawn chiefly from Canada.

The paper-making industry of the world will soon be largely dependent on this country for its raw material. Great pulpwood reserves of the United States, Norway, and Sweden are already becoming exhausted, and there is actually no place in the world, excepting Canada, to which the paper industry can look to the bulk of its spruce supply.

Pulp enterprises in Canada are to-day attracting the attention of many British and foreign capitalists, who, in the knowledge of conditions elsewhere, realize the opportunities which such investments will afford. It is to be hoped that Canadians will not be blind to the same possibilities, but will reap their full share of the profits which the development of their own country is bound to produce.

YOUNG HEROES GET REWARD

Willie Houston and Tom Baxter Honored for the Saving of a Life.

Mayor Sulman Makes Presentation, accompanied by an Appropriate Address.

Willie Houston, son of Judge Houston, and Tom Baxter, son of W. R. Baxter, were honored last evening at the city council for saving the life of Virgil Perry, another lad. Last June, Houston and Baxter were in swimming back of Drader's mill.

Virgil Perry was playing on some logs and fell into the river. Baxter noticed his comrade's danger, and rushed to his assistance. The young rescuer had more than he could manage and there would have been a double fatality had not Willie Houston noticed his comrade's danger and rushed to his assistance. The Royal Humane Society was communicated with and they forwarded a bronze medal for Baxter and a parchment certificate for Houston.

Last evening, before taking up the regular city business, the Mayor presented the two boys with their rewards of bravery.

"A very pleasant duty has again devolved upon me," said the Mayor, "and I am called upon to present two more of our city boys with badges of honor from the Royal Humane Society. I would ask Willie Houston and Tom Baxter to come forward."

"We citizens of Chatham should be proud that we have so many boys who are brave. This makes the fourth occasion on which I have had the honor of presenting these badges of honor to Maple City boys. This speaks well for the younger generation of this city. A boy who risks his life in a case of this kind deserves more credit than the soldier who risks his life on the field of battle. The soldier is on the battle field to take a life or lose one and is carried away by the excitement of war. In a case like the present, the boys took their lives in their hands and did their duty fearlessly. Boys, I sincerely congratulate you," was the hearty conclusion the Mayor gave to his kindly presentation speech. The boys accepted their tokens modestly and departed amid the applause of the aldermen.

STRICKEN VISSAGE

Man Mingled With an Unknown and Got Marked up—Was Fined as a Drunk.

A bruised and badly battered individual faced Judge Houston at the police court this morning.

The man said his name was Harry Ray and he pleaded guilty to being drunk yesterday afternoon. It was well on in the afternoon when P. C. Groves received a call from one Queen street. The officer proceeded thence, and near the G. T. R. track he met a man staggering along with his face "annashed and bloody."

Groves saw the fellow follow him and he thought he was being followed. The way both eyes were bunged up and the liberalness with which his face was dyed with a liquid of a cardinal hue.

"What's the matter with you?" asked the officer.

"I stuck my face in a house up there, and had it pushed out," said the man with the altered countenance. The alterations were evidently all hand made.

"As the man was very drunk Officer Groves gathered him in and not being able to summon the patrol wagon, toted the fellow over to the police station himself.

This morning at the police court Ray said he didn't know who had hit their handwork upon his countenance. The Judge fined him a dollar and costs. He said he would have made it more, only he thought Ray had got enough.

A TEN SPOT

Father Forgot Himself and Abused Daughter—What it Cost him in Court.

David Wise was fined $10 and costs, $30.62, and his 18-year-old daughter, who was his 18-year-old daughter, was fined $10 and costs, $30.62, and his 18-year-old daughter, who was his 18-year-old daughter, was fined $10 and costs, $30.62.

The case was tried in the County Court this morning before Judge Houston.

Mrs. Wise testified that she was sick in bed with rheumatism and her daughter came rushing into her bedroom. Her father had cuffed her over the head with his hand.

The daughter was the next witness. Her name was Theresa Wise. She said that her father asked her to cut some cardboard for him. She looked for the scissors. Her father got angry, and told her to hurry up, and used some bad words.

Judge Houston—You will have to tell what he said.

Witness—He took the name of God in vain.

The Judge—Well, what did he say?

The Witness—He said, damn.

The Judge—That isn't taking the name of God in vain.

The Witness—He said—I told him to quit sweating or I wouldn't cut the paper. I was afraid, laid the scissors down and ran into the bedroom. He said he would make me do it, and followed me into the bedroom. He cuffed me on the head and caught me by the arm and pushed me, and I fell. I was angry when I saw Constable Shaw, and I thought I was hurt worse than I was.

The only marks were two lumps on my head and a black mark on my arm. I was in bed four days.

The witness was a very unwilling

Clara Wise, sister, Mrs. Randall a neighbor, and others also testified.

J. B. Rankin, K. C., who appeared for the defence, asked that the case be reduced to common assault. He offered no evidence for the defence.

Judge Houston reduced the charge to one of common assault and found Wise guilty.

Judge Houston lectured the prisoner severely. He said no man had a right to use the language he had used towards his daughter. If, as the prisoner claimed, he was held in respect by his neighbors, the Judge said that the neighbors were blessed with thick consciences. There was no doubt that Wise had no right to act the way he did and could be sent to the Central Prison for three months.

Judge Houston, however, fined the man and the fine was paid. Wise said he bore the girl no ill will for the prosecution and loved his family just as well as ever.
