CANADA

Ottawa, Oct. 2.—The Dominion Cabinet met yesterday afternoon, with Sir Wilfrid Laurier presiding, but only three other members, Hon. Mr. Scott, Secretary of State; Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, Minister of Justice, and Mr. Lemieux, Postmaster-General, were present.

According to one of the gentlemen here, no business was touched on xcept that relative to the claim made

According to one of the gentlemen there, no business was touched on except that relative to the claim made for the Japanese Government.

Dr. Munro, the Canadian immigration agent at Vancouver, was asked on Monday as to his authority for demanding passports direct to Canada from Japanese upon arriving there. A telegram was received from him yesterday, stating that it was formerly the custom to do this, and he was merely revering to it. He has been asked to stop it, as it is an infringement of the treaty.

Japanese Consul-General Nosse waited on the Government yesterday and presented claims for damages caused by the riots in Vancouver. The damages will amount to between $5,000 and $6,000. The Cabinet was to meet and pass the amount. There will be no quibbling over it. The money will be paid and the City of Vancouver will be asked to refund the amount.

At yesterday afternoon's meeting, said one of the quartette that were present, we had barely a quorum and did nothing definite about the matter. Mr. Munro will be heard from in a day or two—at least that is what we expect—and until he is we thought it wiser to do nothing formal and so the claim was not passed yesterday.

Notwithstanding this, it is known practically certain that it will be passed, and, as intimated above, the Government will then look to Vancouver to second.

ROYAL YACHT VICTORIA AND

His Majesty's Day When Cruising-How the Time Is Spent-Yacht's Elaborate Fittings-Crew Are All Picked Men - Lower Deck Musicians-King Edward a Good Sailor -Carries No Armament Aboard.

Many of the rulers of Europe spend

Many of the rulers of Europe spend their summer vacations on long cruises, but King Edward and Queen Alexandra are satisfied to drift idly around the British Isles on their magnificent yacht, the Victoria and Albert. This sort of life is just about as comfortable and peaceful as life in Buckingham Palace, but the King, although he is a good sailor, prefers the steam yacht to a sailing vessel.

There is a conspicuous absence of arms and armor on the Victoria and Albert, unlike the German Emperor's Hohenzollern, which is practically a second-class cruiser carrying a formidable armament of 47-inch guns. The Victoria and Albert is a marvel of elegance and luxury, says The New York Sun, being in the most literal sense a steel floating palace of some 5,000 tons burden, propelled by twin serews. She is a little smaller than the Czar's Standart, but far more shapely, being of the clipper type, with fine schooner bows and an eliptical stern.

Her engines develop 12,000 horse-with fine schooner bows and an eliptical stern.

Her engines develop 12,000 horse-power and are capable of propelling the yacht at 21 knots. The graceful bows carry a "head" consisting of a rilt crown surmounting a shield that bears the royal coat of arms and supported on either side by a foliated ornament in which the rose, thistle and shamrock are introduced.

From her graceful masts to the stately hull of royal blue and gold the Victoria and Albert is a real home on the sea, with spacious drawing rooms, boudoirs and business offices that would do credit to Buckingham Palace itself.

Plane Sailing.

All plain sailing. This term is so spelled even in nautical works of some age, but plane sailing is the correct form. Before Mercator invented the sea chart which goes by his name all charts were on a plane projection. In using these the ship's course was treated as an angle and the distance, difference of lattude and departure as the sides of a right angled triangle. There were very large errors in plane charts, yet all the world was charted on them and all the great voyages of discovery made before Mercator's projection came into use. Plane sailing was the simplest of all sailings, and thus came the present meaning of the term.

Pretty Useful Shoes.

It would be difficult to realize what the Frieslander would do without his klompen, or wooden shoes, for they have a hundred uses. With them he halls out his boat, corrects his children and scoops up a drink of water wherever he may be. He places in them his worms for fishing, uses them lee, and, after viewing it for a few, minutes, be turned to his mother and asked innocentity:

"Say, mamma, who put the lid on the lake?"-Circle.

Her Late Husband.

Hubby (returning from his clind in widow's weeds, swalding him)—What on earth are you in mourning for?

"My late husband," came the tearful reply.

Didn't Fire Him.

A kind old gentleman, seeing a small boy who was carrying a lot of newspapers under his arm, said, "Don't all those papers make you tired, my boy?"

"Naw, I don't read 'em," replied the list.

Adjacent are several other state bedmoms for the reception of imperial and exalted guests. The magnificent dining-room runs one-third of the Victoria and Albert's whole length. It is lighted by 30 large windows.

A novel feature is the great screens seclusion can be obtained if desired.

Close by is a smoking-room, where King Edward and his imperial nephew the Emperor William have many times chatted. Electric elevators are provided for seasick royalties and a perfectly fitted hospital and dispensary.

The business office occupied by the King's secretary has a big American roll-top deak. The floor is covered with the usual blue carpet and the walls painted with white enamel. Then follow the apartments of the gentlemen of the King's suite, including his equerries. There is a special dining-room for the lords-in-waiting. Here the woodwork and furniture throughout is of dull English oak. The floor is covered with a red plush carpet and the chairs and settees are in searlet Morocco.

There is even a children's nursery fitted with toy gymnastic appliances and a library of fairy tales.

On this magnificent yacht the rulers of the British Empire go cruising in the summer, just after the Goodwood races, from sea to sea, calling at various ports and paying and receiving visits. It is well known that Their Majesties greatly look forward to this season of peace and quiet when they are free to live their own lives untrammelled by cares of state.

SAILORS' VICTORY AT LAW.

Were Badly Treated In an Eastern Prison During War.

A signal victory for British seamen was scored in the House of Lords re-cently in a shipping action which has occupied the attention of the courts since the close of the Russo-Japanese war.

The case came before their lordships by way of appeal by the defendants, the Palace Shipping, Co., Limited, as the owners of the steamship Franklyn, from a decision of the Court of Appeal affirming substantially a judgment of Mr. Justice Lawrance ontinued his lordship, were quite right in giving the men wages and maintenance down to the date of their judgment. He shared the regret of Lord Cozens-Hardy that the court had no power to award the men damages for their sufferings in Hong Kong. Could they have given such damages they would have been exemplary.

The other noble lords concurred, and the owners' appeal was dismissed with costs.

Interchangeable Sections are a Handy Feature

The sections of the top of the Pandora are interchangeable. For instance, you can change the boiler from crosswise to lengthwise (see illustration) by merely switching around the sections, which can be done in less than a minute.

The many advantages of these interchangeable lids will suggest themselves so readily to the home cook that it is not necessary to enumerate them here.

Pandora lids are made extra heaby—practically non-crackable and unbreakable.
