PROHIBITION AND EUROPEAN UNIVERSITIES

Austria.—At Graz, Austria, a recently formed Students' Anti-Alcohol Society includes many students in both the University and Technical School.

Several students with the University of Vienna, Austria, have promised the officers of the World Prohibition Federation to devote one hour each day to Prohibition propaganda.

Belgium.—A course of lectures on alcoholism is being given at the University of Brussels, Belgium. Keen interest is being taken in the subject both by the professors and leading men of the University.

Czecho-Slovakia.—At the University of Prague, Czecho-Slovakia, there is much activity in support of anti-alcohol propaganda. Students from the Universities and other Educational Institutions are joining with the new committee formed in connection with the World Prohibition Federation.

Estonia.—At the University of Dorpat, Estonia, where Dr. Johan Bergman is a leading professor, one of the anti-alcohol societies has 50 members and three professors.

Germany.—At Jena University, Germany, a student society of influence is reported to have given up its "Kneipe", or student beer saloon and become abstainers en masse.

For the first time in the history of the University at Tubingen, Germany, a course of ten lectures on "The Alcohol Question" is being delivered by Professor Dr. Gaupp, of the medical department.

Switzerland.—The Swiss Student Anti-Alcoholic Society at Basle, Zurich, and other educational centres are doing much to popularise social life and recreation free from alcoholic liquors.

At the International Suffrage Alliance Congress at Geneva, Switzerland, Lady Astor said: "I believe most thinking women are born social reformers, and to me one of the chief tests of whether a politician is progressive or reactionary is his attitude to women in politics. That at least is the result of my own experience in fighting for temperance. I shall be glad that I was able to make my first speech in Parliament against Drink, because every woman knows how much sorrow and suffering drink brings into homes."

GET SOMEBODY ELSE

The Lord had a job for me; but I had so much to do
I said, "You get somebody else, or wait till I get through."

I don't know how the Lord came out; no doubt He got along.
But I felt kind o' sneaking like; I knew I'd done God wrong.

One day I needed the Lord—needed Him right away;
But he never answered me, at all, and I could bear him say

Down in my accusin' heart "Child, I've got too much to do;
You get somebody else, or wait till I get through."

Now when the Lord has a job for me, I never try to shirk;

I drop what I have on hand and do the Lord's good work,
And my affairs can run along or wait till I get through;

Nobody else can do the work that God has marked out for you.

THE SUNNY NATURE

If you want to be popular, cultivate the qualities which attract. It is the best-natured man or woman, the optimistic soul who believes the best and sees the best in everybody, who believes that the best is coming to him, and that there is nothing the matter with anything God made. It is the sunny nature that attracts others—the cheerful disposition, the amiable personality.

The grouch doesn't attract; he repels. The sour disposition antagonizes.

The things that attract us are the things we like. We like sunshine, we like joy, gladness, beauty—the things that are helpful. We like the things which make an agreeable pleasing impression on us—the people who are happy, kindly, tolerant, helpful.

Cheerfulness is magnetic. The sunny souls always attract us, so whatever qualities go to make up moral sunshine, a sunny disposition will increase your magnetism, in proportion to your cultivation of them. If you want to be magnetic, be cheerful, unselfish, optimistic, helpful. Remember that a mean, stingy, negative, narrow, prejudiced, jealous, unhappy nature is never magnetic or popular.

ANECDOTE OF THE DAY

(From the Boston Herald.)

Forty years ago in towns bordering the "Big Wood" it was the custom in the winter for all able-bodied young men to seek employment in the logging camps. Farmer Brown had several husky boys but allowed, "that he guessed he'd have them stick to the old farm that winter."

At the country store the following spring there was a discussion as to what various ones had accomplished in the way of financial betterment and Farmer Brown was asked how his family came out. "Well," said he, "tolerable; my boys stayed at home, dickered among themselves, and cleaned up about $200 apiece."

"What I did to cure a cough which was Racking my system to pieces."

"One very hot evening last summer, while in the mountains, a cool breeze suddenly came up which left me thoroughly chilled. Next day I felt a slight cold in my head but thought nothing of it. The following day the cold had developed into a cough. This kept up for some weeks but instead of getting better the cough kept getting worse. A tickling sensation developed in my throat. I tried everything I could think of to get rid of it. It was worse when I went to bed. As soon as I laid down the tickling sensation started and the only relief I could get was to sit up in bed. Towards morning, I sometimes, from sheer exhaustion, managed to get a little sleep. During all this time my cough was getting worse. Sometimes in these severe fits of coughing spasms I was left weak and exhausted. Anything I tried only gave me temporary relief. I couldn't take anything but liquid foods. I couldn't sleep. I was losing weight every day. At times I suffered the most intense agony with headaches. A friend of mine told me about Carnol. After trying it for three weeks I noticed that my cough was beginning to soften, that my appetite was returning, that the headaches had left me, that I slept longer. After taking seven bottles of Carnol, I am perfectly well and enjoying better health than I have ever had before in my life."

Writes Mrs. J. of Montreal

Carnol is sold by your druggist and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund your money. 10-122

Buy at Home ---

A great war has always been followed by a period of business depression which seems more acute than an ordinary depression as it comes after the war period of intense activity. It was expected this change would be more marked than that following any previous war on account of it involving many more countries and many more people.

With past experience before it the Canadian Reconstruction Association immediately at the close of the war started a "Buy at Home" Campaign. The purpose of this was to stop the stream of money sent out of the country to buy imported goods and to turn it back to keep the factories here working and the men employed. The events of the past two years prove that this was to be no exception and while this slowing up in business did not come as soon as was expected and was not apparent until a year or more after it was thought to be due, it finally came in full force in the fall and winter of 1920 and has continued to the present. The Reconstruction Association has made a complete analysis of the amount of money spent by various countries on imported goods. These statistics, when gathered together and compiled, brought out the fact that this country imported more goods in comparison to its population than any other country in the world and indeed almost twice as much as any other country. These figures also show that nearly 80 per cent. of all the goods imported came from the United States and that they amounted in a year to over $800,000,000 or over $2,000,000 a day. A further analysis of the actual imports showed that of the imported goods large numbers of similar goods were made in Canada and probably the buyer need not have imported them if he had wanted to buy at home.

It is no doubt true that many things are imported which cannot be bought from home manufacturers at as good advantage. There are frequently local conditions that make it impossible to compete with goods manufactured in large quantities under more favorable conditions. Other goods are imported because not being made here at all due in some cases to the demand for them not being enough to justify a Canadian plant for their production.

It frequently happens however that none of these conditions happen but there is a certain spell in the word "imported" both for the buyer and seller and a sale is made of foreign goods. At the same time just as good a purchase could be made as to quality and price on a home made article if either the buyer asked for it or if the seller offered it. This is the purpose of the "Buy at Home" Campaign.

Not only here have past war conditions so adversely affected industry but in all other countries unemployment is more serious and most of them have adopted measures to protect their own working men and to keep out imported goods as far as possible. (This has been done by the raising of import duties and other measures to encourage the use of home made goods and to keep out imported goods. This has had the effect of shutting off the market to manufacturers in different countries and this has especially affected the farmers and stock raisers in Canada who have been practically shut out of the market of the United States. While it is true that Canada buys a large quantity of goods in the United States it on the other hand exports a large quantity more especially farm products into the United States. However, by the tariff passed something like a year ago the shipment of Canadian farm products has been practically shut out of the United States market. A tariff of about 70c. a barrel has prevented the shipment of large quantities of potatoes by the New Brunswick farmers to Boston, New York and other points which were formerly almost the best market for these potatoes. A duty of from 15c. to 30c. a lb. on wool has reduced the export of wool to the U. S., 95 per cent. during the six months period, and the past week a bill proposing a duty of 15 per cent. on hides has been reported in the U. S. Senate which if adopted, will close entirely the U. S. market for hides which now consumes a great quantity of the Canadian production.

With so large a part of the foreign market shut out the "Buy at Home" campaign becomes more important and it is only by supporting those who do business here that there will be a further market for farm products as well as manufactured goods.

In our previous advertisements we have called the attention to the fact that whatever reasons there may be for buying imported goods of various kinds none of these apply to fertilizer. Our prices compare favorably with the prices on imported goods. All the "Made at Windsor, N. S." brands are made of the best raw materials, properly mixed, dry and in good drilling condition and have given for ten years as good a yield of crops in all sections of the Maritime Provinces as any imported fertilizer made.

We have agents in most sections and we are glad to quote prices and terms to anyone who uses fertilizer and would like to act as agent in any unoccupied territory.
