His explanation, while it may be very susbtantial, is rather Owing t.  books, Mr. Snider de Commission cannot afford to issue one any oftener; and the logical deduotion' is that subscribers outside Winnipeg may content themselves with one per year or avail themselves of the alternative of doing without phone service. Such is the Virtue of incorporating the telephones of a city of eighteen thousand in a directory covering an entire province.  Even under these circumstances, it appears odd that a system with 20,000 subscribers cannot afford to render competent service by keeping their entries up to date. When so large a concern as the Manitoba Government Telephone number is available save through bothersome delay while "Information" seeks it out, that concern is run too cheaply, or else it is in incompetent hands.  Government ownership let us have, but not unless it in- |
