

Kintail.

THRESHING.—Several of the farmers in this neighborhood are busy threshing, and, according to general reports, the crops are turning out well.

PERSONALS.—Mr. Parker, who has been engaged with Mr. Bayne, in blacksmithing, for some time past, has left his village and gone to Ripley, Messrs. Pointer and Campbell have also left. They have gone to Chicago to try their fortune. May they meet with success.

LONDON FAIR.—Several from this vicinity have gone to the fair in London this week. Among the number are our villagers, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd, and Mr. and Mrs. Howden.

Mr. D. Johnston's team drew one of the largest loads to Kincardine the other day that has been taken from this place for some time. The load consisted of 77 packages of butter, the gross weight of which was 4,900 lbs. The feature, that makes the act more worthy of note, is the long distance the load had to be taken, being 17 miles. The butter was for Messrs. Madden & Walker, who had bought it from Mr. Buchanan.

The Matfield Presbytery.

This presbytery met in Knox Church, Brussels, on Tuesday, Sept. 20th, at one o'clock p. m., Rev. Mr. McQuarrie, of Wingham, Moderator, in the chair. The attendance was large, 19 ministers being present and also a number of representatives, elders and lay-delegates. A petition from the office-bearers of Knox Church, Lucknow, asking the presbytery to reverse a former decision affecting the interests of the congregation was read and on motion rejected, as asking what the presbytery was incompetent to do, allowing the commissioners, however, the privilege of stating their views before the court. The commissioners declined to speak, and gave notice of appeal to the Synod of London and Hamilton. Rev. Mr. Sutherland, of Ripley, submitted a report with reference to the resignation of the congregation of South Kintola, stating that a communion roll had been formed with 59 names, that 4 elders had been duly elected, and the sacrament of the Lord's supper administered. The presbytery then adjourned for the evening meeting.

The evening service commenced at 7:30 p. m., Rev. Mr. McQuarrie in the chair. After the usual preliminaries were gone through, the subject of "prayer meetings" was introduced. The first speaker Rev. Mr. Murray, of Kincardine, spoke on the object of prayer meetings and proved in a very practical manner the real object of these religious services. The best method of conducting prayer meetings was taken up by Rev. Mr. Anderson, of Whitechurch. In a very pleasant manner he spoke on six necessary steps to be taken before a prayer meeting could be successfully carried on. After a short discussion on the above subject this very interesting service was closed by singing and prayer.

On Wednesday morning the Fordyce case was considered at length, and the sanction of the presbytery given to the building of a church on the site selected by the congregation. Against this decision Rev. T. J. Wilkins, of Belgrave, appealed, and tabled reasons therefor. Instructions were issued by the presbytery as to an equitable division of church property between the congregations of south Kintola and Knox church, Lucknow, action to be taken within a month from date. It was unanimously agreed to hold a public meeting on the first evening of each regular meeting of the court. Other items of business having been transacted the presbytery adjourned to meet in St. Andrew's Church, Lucknow, on December 20th at 1 p. m.

Literary Notices.

BLACKWOOD'S MAGAZINE. Republication by the Leonard Scott Publishing Co., 41 Barclay street, New York.

This standard publication for September has reached our table, and is entertaining and edifying in the extreme. The serial story, "The Private Secretary," which has been running through several numbers, is this week completed. The other contents are: Electra; a False Start; The Land of Kheni; Uncle Z; With Christian Almer in the Oberland; Lighter Spanish Poetry, in English metre; Hints from an Autumnal Ramble, by Dr. John Hill Burton; followed by an editorial note on The Death of Dr. John Hill Burton; and The Land Bill in the Lords.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE for October, is a remarkable number, both for the beauty of its illustrations and the interest and importance of its varied contents. The number opens with a beautiful frontispiece—a full-page illustration of the Abbey, entitled "With Grandpa." The leading illustrated article is by Wm. Hamilton

Gibson, and is entitled "A Berkshire Road." The article and the illustrations which are from Mr. Gibson's drawings, are fully worthy of the author of "Pastoral Days." Joseph Hutton contributes the first of a series of papers on "Journalistic London." Henry Vane's article, "Adirondack Days," is a charming sketch of vacation life and sport with beautiful illustrations. Charles Barnard, in "The Telegraph of To-day," gives a graphic account of recent improvements in telegraphy, with especial reference to the devices adopted, diminishing the cost of telegraphic operations. It is a subject in which the people are greatly interested, and Mr. Barnard's article is clear (assisted by several illustrations) and entertaining. Appropos of the forthcoming Cotton Exposition at Atlanta, Henry W. Grady contributes a very important article showing the possibilities of cotton weaving, and the outlook for the Southern manufacture of the staple. Miss Woolson's "Amie," and Thomas Hardy's "A Laidie," are continued. Short stories are contributed by Kate Tison Clark and Amelia E. Barr, and the Editorial Department are filled with timely and interesting matter.
