Grand Lodge, S.U.F.

The Annual Meeting of the Grand Lodge was held last night in the British Hall. In the absence of Rev. Canon Pilot, Worthy Grand Master, and George A. Davey, Esq., P. M., Deputy Grand Master, who through illness were unable to attend, the chair was ably filled by the Grand Second Officer, Bro. Edgecombe. The Report of the Grand Secretary showed the Order to be in a very healthy condition. There are now thirty-five working Lodges with a total membership of 3,460. The total income was $8,025.43, whilst in hand amount to $14,086.57. Twenty-seven Lodges own Halls of ther own which aggregate a value of $29,760.00. Charters to two new Lodges have been granted this year-one at Ireland's Eye, Trinity Bay, and the other at Middle Brook, Gambo, Bonavista Bay. An exhaustive Report from the District Grand Master at Heart's Content, Bro. Dr. Anderson, showed that all the Lodges under his jurisdiction were making satisfactory progress. On ballot being taken for officers for the ensuing year the following were elected :-

Rev. Canon Pilot, D. D., Worthy Grand Master.

James T. Phillips, P. M., Grand Chief Officer. Albert Edgecombe, P. M., Grand Second Officer.

James C. Phillips, P. M., Grand Quarter Master. W. H. Goodland, P. M., Grand Look-

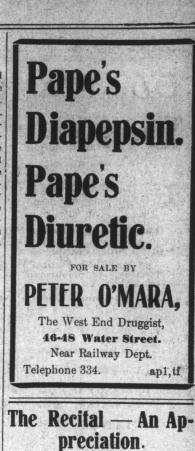

Joseph Moores, P. M., Grand Chaplain.

E. H. Davey, P. M., Grand Purser. J. A. Clift, P. M., Grand Secretary. Bro. George A. Davey, P. M., continues to hold the office of Deputy Grand Master, The Order is now over 37 years in existence, having been established in Heart's Content in 1873. The sum of $2,367.84 was paid out during the year for mortality fees and sick benefits. THE PAINS OF THE AGED. Are usually due to the tendency of the kidneys to wear out as age advances, giving rise to the accumula-tion of poisons in the blood and caus ing backache, lumbago, aching limba and rheumatism. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are particularly prized by aged people because they can be re-lied upon to invigorate the action of the liver, kidneys and bowels and so remove the cause of pains and aches. 12

The Newfoundland Quarterly Number.

We have received the Spring Num her of the Newfoundland Quarterly. It is well up to its high standard of excellence in topical reading matter and illustrations: An article by Allan O. Nurse on Captain Robert A. Bartlett and his photograph; an interesting sketch of the Micmacs of Conn River by the Rev. M. F. Power a fascinating study of the Name Lore of Placentia Bay by Most Rev. M. F. Howley, D.D.; a clever sketch of William Hazlitt by that facile writer, Mr. Joseph E. Ray; the story of "A Salmon Fishing Trip to Newfoundland" by Mr. J. G. Taylor. The photos of two enterprising business men with a brief biography of each are given those selected being Mr. Archi bald Macpherson, the President, and Mr. Harold Macpherson, the Secretary of the Royal Stores Limited. Similar attention is paid to two politicians, the Hon. M. P. Cashin and Mr. Philip Moore, the supporters of the present Premier. Sir Edward Morris. Hon. Robert Watson tells the story of the Royal Colonial Institute. There is also a brief outline of the career of Mr. Jules Chorat. The poetical side of our nature is also appealed to by Messrs. T. Hanrahan. Fred B. Wood, R. G. MacDonald and L. F. Brown, and in his own inmitable way Mr. I. C. Morris tells the story of the Southern Shore. The express last evening took out Messrs. Outerbridge, Crowe, Scott, Harris, Cooper, Steer, Gulnac, Mrs. Chisholm and Miss Outerbridge.

I should like to express an appreciation of the recital held in Cochrane Street Church last evening. This is, therefore, not a criticism in the strict sense of that term. First, an appreciation of the magnificient organ so full and yet mellow in its tones, and which must be a source of pleasure and inspiration to the congregation worshipping at that church, as well as of satisfaction to the generous donor. Each time I attend the church new beauties of tone in this instrument are revealed. Next the choir, who appear to me to be a splendid body of good voices, well balanced and musical, singing in good tune and well interpreting the word set to the music. They appear to enter into the spirit of what they sing, and last night gave very sympathetic renditions of the three anthems on the programme. The first anthem, called "A Meditation," appealed strongly to me, though it would not perhaps be so popular as the last anthem. The setting of the words, however, 'varied with light and shade, required very careful treatment in the rendition, which was very excellently given. The last anthem was also well sung, the choir entering fully into the glad spirit of Easter, and making the church resound with Alleluia. The soloists in this anthem deserve more than passing notice. Miss Vincent, in sweet, true, pure voice took the Soprano solo, which was, I should imagine, a difficult part. She sang it with expression and a clearness of emunciation that was enjoyed by all, and her reputation as a singer was certainly enhanced by her work last evening. Miss Herder was the contralto soloist, and I never heard her to better advantage. The words she had to sing described the sufferings of our Lord, and the feeling and expression of Miss Herder in the rend tion of this music made it very impressive. A little further on in the anthem she had another solo in which the choir accompanied her, singing softly: and taking it altogether this was perhaps to me the most pleasing part of the whole anthem Miss Herder's full sympathetic voice lends itself to music of this character, and her renditions last night were perfect. Dr. Macpherson was the soloist, and he sang most effectively Grenier's "Hosannah." The doctor has a full, deep voice, and last evening entered fully into the spirit of the music. This made a most pleasing number in the programme. Of the organist it is not necessary to say anything, for his abilities are wellknown. There were two points which I particularly noticed, first, the annotations regarding the organ solos. These greatly helped the congregation to appreciate what was played, and were not so technical as to be beyond their appreciation. Second, the pieces were varied in character. We had the massive and dignified "War March," by Mendelssohn, the melodious 'Salute of Love," by Elgar, the sympathetic "Idyll" by Richards, (I much liked this), and the brilliant and varied "Offertoire" by Batiste. These compositions certainly displayed the capabilities of the organ, and at the same time appealed to the varied dispositions of the auditors. Lastly, an appreciation of the congregation. I was glad to see a large number present, and also delighted that all classes seemed to be represented. The poorest and the richest alike seemed to enjoy the recital, and I for one am glad that such a splendid gift is used so generously for the benefit of those who love good music .-- Com.
