The Evening Chit-Chat
By RUTH CAMERON

Some weeks ago I included among other suggestions of unusual occupations for women a letter received from a woman who had been very successful in raising hens. This woman said that she had fifty-five hens, averaging four dozen eggs a day, that her feed and supplies averaged $3.80 a month, and that she sold the eggs at 40 cents a dozen the year around to a regular customer who called for them.

This letter called forth the following protest, presenting the other side of the picture, which I think fairness bids me publish:

"My Dear Miss Cameron:—Your talk on hens and eggs in yesterday's paper is perfectly absurd, wherever you got it from. The poultry business is an all-year-round business, and there probably are not fifty-five hens in the country who will average 48 eggs per day. If one had a flock that would do that the eggs would sell at a great big price for setting purposes. Go to a practical poultry man and see if his books will show much over an average of 150 eggs per hen a year.

Then the feed expenses is way off. It figures up at 83 cents per year a hen. No one can feed for that. Furthermore, you allow nothing for houses, nothing for labor or casual losses—and where, oh, where can you find a market that will pay 40 cents a dozen the year round? Please tell me, for I grow eggs for a living and really would like such a market myself.

"I am afraid your article will influence someone ignorant of the business to start to get rich on a few hens, with dark failure for a result. For the right kind of woman poultry keeping is a congenial and fairly profitable business. Take one season with another, with business ability and economy all along the line one should clear from a dollar to a dollar and a quarter per year on a hen. Of course experts growing fancy stock can do more, but the average woman seeking a livelihood is not a poultry expert, and would have to depend on selling a good quantity of eggs for family use. Such a woman could manage probably five hundred hens and raise some chickens to sell."

"Another idea for the woman who wants some unusual method of earning money is thus suggested by a reader.

"A woman who lives near a school-house would no doubt find a number of teachers who crave a hot lunch at noon, but who have no time to seek it. If a hot, home-made, tray lunch were brought to these teachers' own classrooms at a reasonable figure, say 25 cents, they would doubtless be glad to patronize the person who could supply them."

A woman whom I know has worked up quite a successful business as a renovator.

That term covers a good many kinds of work. It includes putting in fresh yokes to dresses, remodeling sleeves and cuffs and minor details into style, doing fine mending, taking spots out of delicate fabrics, curling feathers, cleansing white gloves and many similar operations too numerous to mention.

This woman also makes fitted underwear for people who like home-made underclothing, and a few plain shirtwaists, but the most of her time is taken up with the renovating.

She happens to know a good many working girls who are too busy or incapable of doing their own odd jobs and she finds them both good customers and good advertisers.

In the case of the feathers and the gloves she charges prices slightly under professional rates, and having a knack about such things, rennovates and replaces the feathers.

Altogether, by putting herself into whatever niche needs filling she has made a fairly comfortable living. The trade, of course, has developed very gradually, but she thinks that any woman suitably located and with a knack at such things might develop a similar business if she did not have to depend upon her earnings at first.

Don't forget to send in that suggestion of some unusual occupation for women. We want it. Don't say "Some day," but take your pen in hand and "Do it now."

Patriotism
The stomach is a larger factor in "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" than most people are aware. Patriotism can withstand hunger but not dyspepsia. The confirmed dyspeptic "is fit for treason, stratagems and spoils." The man who goes to the front for his country with a weak stomach will be a weak soldier and a fault finder.
A sound stomach makes for good citizenship as well as for health and happiness.
Diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition are promptly and permanently cured by the use of

Household Notes.
No one enjoys washing the broiler of the gas stove. This unpleasant task may be avoided if chop or small steaks are placed in tin pie-plates and in the broiling grate. The meat is cooked just as well and the plates are easy to clean.
Sheets, tablecloths, spreads and the like are difficult to fold when taking from the line, but if you will unpin one end, then pull over from line, catching in centre and take fastened end from line, you will discover it a very simple method.
One of the nicest and most economical shortenings for pie crust is made from equal parts lard or cod fat and lard. Try out separately and when half cooked beat together until light and creamy. The French use this for their best pastry.
Clean iron holders are the exception rather than the rule. They need not be, for little washable cases, open at one end like a pillow slip, are easily made, and can be renewed as often as desirable with little trouble. The cases are with tapes.
To prevent outdoor brass from tarnishing, clean the brass as usual, then rub it over with a soft cloth dipped in vaseline, and afterwards polish it with a dry duster. This will keep it from getting tarnished so quickly, even in the blindest weather.

When putting baby in his cradle or perambulator, place him on his right side. You can alter his position later on. Remember particularly in connection with his cradle that it makes him uncomfortable to be put on his back directly he has his food.
To cut away the goods under lace insertion without snipping the wrong thread, slip between the lace and the material a piece of cardboard four inches long of the width of the lace, and rounded at one end. This will make the work both safer and easier.
If the dry staples used daily in the kitchen be kept, as far as possible, in glass bottles, they will retain their flavor and freshness twice as long. The wide-mouthed preserve jars are handy to label and use for the purpose in the pint, and even half-pint size.
To clean and restore the elasticity of cane-bottom chairs, turn the chair and with hot water and a sponge saturate the cane work thoroughly. If the chair is dirty use soap. After set the chair to dry out of doors and the seat will be taut as when new.
If the kitchen utensils in the heavier granite ware are placed in a large re-

CURED THE WIFE AND HUSBAND TOO
GREAT WORK DONE BY DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS IN ONE QUEBEC FAMILY.

Thomas Laurault had Kidney Disease and his wife Bright's Disease, and Dodd's Kidney Pills made them both well.

Lac Cavanaugh, Que., April 26. (Special).—There is a world interest in the simple story of Madame Thomas Laurault of this place. In her own words, it is as follows:

"Dodd's Kidney Pills cured my husband of Kidney Disease and myself of Bright's Disease. We recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to all who suffer from Kidney or Bright's Disease."

This is a splendid example of the grand work Dodd's Kidney Pills are doing among the plain people of Canada. Kidney Disease is the commonest of all ailments among those who have to work hard, because the kidneys are the first part of the body to feel the wear of heavy work.

When the kidneys go wrong the blood goes wrong, and the whole body goes wrong. Rheumatism, Dropsy, Diabetes and Bright's Disease are the usual results. Dodd's Kidney Pills cure these by simply curing the kidneys.

The Washer-woman's Song.

In a very humble cot,
In a rather quiet spot,
In the suns and in the soap,
Worked a woman full of hope;
Working, singing all alone,
In a sort of undertone,
'With the Saviour for a Friend,
He will keep me to the end.'

Sometimes happening along,
I had heard the semi-song,
And I often used to smile,
More in sympathy than in glee;
But I never said a word
In regard to what I heard.
As she sang about her friend
Who would keep her to the end.

Not in sorrow nor in glee,
Working all day long was she,
As her children, three or four,
Played around her on the floor;
But in monotone the song
She was humming all day long:
'With the Saviour for a Friend,
He will keep me to the end.'

It's a song I do not sing,
For I scarce believe a thing
Of the stories that are told
Of the miracles of old;
But I know that her belief
Is the antidote of grief,
And will always be a friend
That will keep her to the end.

Just a trifle lonesome she,
Just as poor as poor could be;
But her spirits always rose,
Like the bubbles in the clothes.
And, though widowed and alone,
Cheered her with the monotone
Of a Saviour for a Friend
Who would keep her to the end.

I have seen her rub and scrub
On the washboard in the tub,
While the baby, soaped in suds,
Rolled and tumbled in the duds;
Or as paddling in the pools,
With old seasons stuck in spools:
She still humming of her friend
Who would keep her to the end.

Human hopes and human creeds
Have their root in human needs,
And I should not wish to strip
From that washerwoman's lip
Any song that she can sing,
Any hope that song can bring.
For the woman has a friend
Who will keep her to the end.
