

Then and Now.
On Thursday last Mr. Mackenzie visited Kingston with a view to his suitability for a military school, and the following account of his visit is well worthy of a perusal.
From the Kingston Whig.
The visit of the Premier to Kingston yesterday awakens curious recollections and reflections. Yesterday he came as Premier and ruler of Canada to inspect the military works of this city with a view to considering the suitability for the purpose of a military academy. A score and a half years ago he wrought at some of these same works as a mason. Then he was a very humble member of society; now he holds the highest position among Canadians. What a sermon these two facts preach out! We should be truly thankful that we have worked out the theory of popular Government and ordered society among us so successfully that no rung of the ladder is inaccessible to honest worth, and that no one's prospects need be blighted by caste or his progress arrested by want of wealth. Mr. Mackenzie says many—but all will admit that he has achieved his present proud position by honest hard work and inflexible integrity. He did not climb to place over corruption, for he is poor; he did not mount up as a demagogue, for he is free from demagoguism, and is above pandering to the vile. He resisted the temptation of office until it was his by political succession; and now rules the country with an unparalleled majority. Nor has power turned his head, for there is not a harder worker or more modest or unpretending man in Canada than its Premier, who according to his light, zealously strives to do well by his country. Making all allowances for his shortcomings, his history is a profitable one to study, one which cannot be reflected upon without great good to the country for it teaches by example the lofty success that may attend upon humility, if it be allied with industry and perseverance.

The Prince of Wales, following the bad example of his predecessor, George IV., and his royal brothers, has been running into debt to the amount of $300,000, notwithstanding his large income from the Duchy of Cornwall, and the princely allowance made by Parliament to himself and his wife, and the interest on the handsome amount left by his father. The aggregate income of the Prince is not less than $450,000 a year, every penny of which, it seems, he spends, and now he comes to Parliament "short," and asks that body to help him out. His reason is that the debts have been incurred in the performance of state duties which have been imposed upon him by the Queen. The Prince is a very shrewd fellow in his money-matters, and has always borrowed the funds expended on these occasions, refusing to use his own, and saying that in the end either Parliament or his mother must pay for that sort of thing. This is his side of the story.

DR. WHEELER'S ELIXIR OF PHOSPHATES AND CALSAYA—After having used your Compound Elixir of Phosphates and Calsaya for over two years in my daily practice, I must give it my unqualified approbation. During a practice of over twenty years, I have used many scientifically prepared compounds, made to fulfil the same therapeutical indications as your Elixir, but none of them proved with me as valuable as yours. To the medical profession and the public, I would especially recommend it as the best remedy with which I am acquainted for the successful treatment of the large and constantly increasing class of cases of over-worked and nerve-haunted women. Yours truly,
N. WATKINS BEEB, M.D.

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.
Dr. William Gray's Specific Medicine
Before Taking. After Taking.
Cures all Nervous Diseases, such as Tremors, Debility, Prostration, etc., which, in many cases, are produced by over-indulgence in the use of tobacco and alcoholic spirits; but the Specific Medicine is more especially recommended as an unfailing cure for Seminal Weakness, Spermatorrhoea, Impotence, and all diseases that follow as a sequent of Self Abuse, or Loss of Memory, Universal Lassitude, Pain in the Back, Dimness of Vision, Premature Old Age, and many other Diseases that lead to insanity or consumption, and a Premature Grave, all of which, as a rule, are first caused by deviating from the path of nature and over-indulgences.

The Specific Medicine is the result of a life study and many years of experience in treating these special diseases. Full particulars in our pamphlet, which we desire to send free by mail to every one. The Specific Medicine is sold by all Druggists at 21 per package, or six packages for $5, or will be sent by mail on receipt of the money, by addressing
