Smartest of the Season's Styles in Women's Top Coats

Our policy in the ready-to-wear section is to keep styles as exclusive as possible. Even in the most moderately priced garments you will find but few of one style, color or fabric. Today we make mention of yet another very smart outer wraps that have taken up temporary quarters in our show cases. Handsome garments that accurately reflect fashion's latest phase in cut, fabric and mode of trimming—space permits mention of but four coats. There are dozens more styles to choose from, and none of them have a duplicate.

WILSON TO USE STEAM ROLLER TO FORCE TARIFF BILL

with the Louisiana senators over free sugar, and he is tired of dickering with the western senators over free wool. All through yesterday's many conferences, and when the senate finance committee was holding meetings to consider what the senate should do, the president remained courteous and suave, but finally he decided that the compromise rate of one cent a pound on sugar should stand and that wool should be free, and that the senate could take it or leave it. President Wilson does not want to fight, but he is ready, as he says, "to go to the mat" with the seven senators who refuse to accept even the compromise rate of one cent, a pound on sugar, and the other senators who refuse to accept free wool. He has tried to grease the ways for the tariff in the senate, so that both the upper the action of the Democrats who have leanings toward protection. A. Mitchell Palmer of Pennsylvania, who is chairman of the Democratic caucus of the house, having succeeded J. Albert Burleson, who became post-master-general, announced that the caucus would be held on Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock, and that it might continue for two or three days. There will be unlimited time for discussion, he said, and votes will be taken on any moves to amend the bill. He intimated that there would be no attempt at gag rule, but it is taken for granted that the friends of President Wilson will try to jam the measure through without delay. The senate finance committee tonight virtually agreed to accept the free wool provision of the president's tariff program, but is still holding out against the cutting of the sugar duty to one-half of what it is at present. Even in accept free wool, however, the committee spoke only for itself, and sent word to the president that there would be stiff opposition on the floor of the senate. Altogether the program is not being accepted as harmoniously as the president wished, but he is speaking gladly to the senators who opposed him in the upper branch.

He would be sitting up at night of a night and, with a pile of these commentaries at his feet, he just stretched out his hand from the flames and threw another on the flames. Being crisp and dry they burned well and caused more noise than they were made at any time before.
