Massacre of Capt. Wilson Confirmed.
LoxDox, Dec. 30.—A despatch to a News agency here from Cape Town states that native runners have arrived at Fort Salisbury, bringing confirmation of the reports of the annihilation by the Matabeles of Capt. Wilson and the forces commanded by him. The runners state that Capt. Wilson was surrounded by the Matabeles on Dec. 8, and that not a single man of the British force escaped with his life.

once said are children die of overeating than of sta tion. The most ended and dangerous form of illness resting from overeating is the convulsion the child may or may not show signs the coming illness. Its checks may be ver d, its lips white and pinched, and the cheross and nervous. It may go to sleep ut it will often cry out in sleep and me about restlessly. The muscles often tech and the eyes frequently turn upwar but all these symptoms may be present a yet the child will not have a convulsionstill they give sufficient cause for alarm teemand a good dose of sirup of rhubarbr of magnesia, or a wineglassful of myadi mineral water, which I have used ith good success with children.

Where the are symptoms like those mentioned diverone has a warning and can combat le danger, but only too often there is no not coming sickness until the mother are that one strange croaking cry, and so it is often too late, and in any case recres the most active and he role treatme to save the little sufferer, who lies rig and without consciousness. The eyes methen turned upward, having only the wish visible, the little teeth are set tightly as the lips drawn back. After awhile the corusions begin, and the poor little musclestrain, and the child writhes and twists, his all the while unconscious. Sometimes body froth appears in the mouth, the bath comes irregularly and often seems 1 stop altogether—and sometimes does.

There is seething so unearthly in that one terrible that precedes a convulsion that no mothewer heard it without trembling. In an stant the doctor is sent for, and women 1 for remedies. The first thing is to gahe little sufferer into a hot bath up to tehin, the water to be as hot as the mothet, wrist can bear. It is easy to say from $\overline{w}$ 100 degrees of heat, but few have a momenter at hand, so the mother's wrisinust be the guide in emergencies.

Washington, Dec. 30.—Indications point to the probability that immediately after the holiday recess Congress may be compelled to consider some measures for the relief of the Treasury even before the Hawaiian question and the Wilson Taril bill are disposed of. In his report to Congress Secretary Carlisle, in his treatment of the condition of the Treasury, was frank enough to declare immediate action indispensable, but even his frankness has been outdone by the official statement of the condition of the Treasury published to-day. The Treasury balance has been carried down to $88.914.096, of which $82.024.796 was in gont and $6,889.300 was currency.

Moreover, the receipts of the Treasury sere constantly running down and there is absolutely no prospect of a change for the better. The expenditures for December 1ave so far exceeded the receipts by $5.-20,000,000. The customs receipts for December, $7.848,000, are the lowest for any month since 1805. The month's receipts will be little more than half of the customs receipts for last December. A loss of $6,000,000. The customs receipts for December, $7.848,000, are the lowest for any month since 1805. The month's receipts will be little more than half of the customs receipts for last December. A loss of $6,000,000 a mouth, if continued, must soon not only further invade, but exhanst the gold reserve.

The receipts from internal revenue taxes havealso steadily decreased. Thus, for instance, the receipts from internal revenue receipts of meanly 40 per cent. The situation is agravated by the fact that the January payments are shout to fall due. These include nearly $6,000,000 of interest on the 4 per cent. bonds and the Pacific Raiiroad 6s. In aidition, the quarterly payment of pensions, amounting to hetween $12,000,000 and $13,000,000, must be met. This lends emphasis to the prophetic warning expressed by Secretary Carlisle in his receast report, that unless some prompt measures were taken by Congress, ponsioners and other creditors of the Government might be subject to centres of the East.

Mr. Cleveland will exert all his influence to club the recalcirrant Democrats into submission, but it is likely that, as in other financial legislation, he will be forced to appeal to the patriotism of the Republicans to save the Treasury from absolute rain. It is impossible to state the situation too emphatically. At the end of the first six months of the fiscal six months of the fiscal six months of the fiscal search, and the probability that this deficit will have increased, by next June, to something between $70,000,000 and $90,006,000.

Questions Regarding Capt. Williams' Fate and the British Occupation of Egypt.

LONDON, Dec. 30.—In the House of Commons yeaterday Sir Eilis Ashmead-Bartlett asked the Government for information concerning Capt. Wilson, who it is generally believed has been killed by the Matabeles whom he was pursuing. Mr. Sylney Burton, Parliamentary Secretary of the Colinial Office, said that information had been received by the Foreign Office that a patrol had been sent to the relief of Capt. Wilson, if he is still alive, and that every possible offort had been made to assist the expedition.

Mr. Gladstone, replying to questions sked by Mr. Henry Labouchers and the Right Hon. A. J. Ballour, said that the Right Hon. A. J. Ballour, said that the Government did not propose to make a statement respecting any action to be taken to bring the British occupation of Egypt to an end. The question involved large is sues, and could not be answered on short.

Mr. Gladstone, replying to questions asked by Mr. Henry Labouchers and the Right Hon. A. J. Balfour, said that the Government did not propose to make a statement respecting any action to be taken to bring the British occupation of Egypt to an end. The question involved large issues, and could not be answered on short socies.

As soon as Mr. Gladstone had taken his seat Mr. Balfour arose, and in well-chosen words offered to the Prime Minister the sincere congratulations of himself and his party. Mr. Balfour's little speech was received with extremely hearty and prolonged cheering. among her Charmas purchases an ounce of sirup of ipecastwo ounces of spiced sirup of rhubarb as two ounces of castor oil. One Auralian Christmas.

A hot northey wind, laden with sand and dust, had ben blowing with great force for two days. The thermometer in the warmest part of the afternoon touched up to 120 in the shie, and even at night did not fall below 90. The small birds, finding but little sade in the straight leaved gum trees, came a under the covering of the wide verandas (the huts. The snakes were almost mee dangerous at night than they were in the day. In fact, it was intensely hot weater. The sun rose on the Christmas morning without any appearance of a change.

Mitchell meeting will not take place here. The managers of the Duval Club are in a state of pane and do not know which way to turn.

The arrest of the principals was designed to define the law and get a declaration from Judge Baker of the County Court that the proposed match as described in the articles et agreement would not be an inlegal act. Governor Mitchell refuses either to countenance the proceedings while they pend, or or respect the decision of the court when it is rendered.

This is what he says: "I shall not be garroted by any county or circuit courts's decision. There are seven circuit courts's the circuit of the court decides that I have no authority by having, in dealt of other beverage, to drink hot tea, which we sipped from large basins. The pulling was a great success and was the most appreciated because the whole of the ingridients had been brought to the best of the weather, where were not made cooler drink hot tea, which we sipped from large basins.
