JOHNSTON BROS.' Bread IS GOOD Bread

Delivered all over the city. In the Dining-Room.

FRIDAY, OCT. 22.

BREAKFAST—Oatmeal with sugar and cream. Bread balls. Beef hash. Coffee.

LUNCHEON—Blanquette of chicken. Celery. Bread and butter. Coddled apple. Ginger bread. Milk or cocoa.

DINNER—Tomato soup. Oyster pie with Richmond sauce. Creamed potatoes. Baked cabbage. Oyster bread and butter. Cornstarch fritters.

Break Balls—Take one-half loaf of bread, break in bits; add teaspoonful of salt, half teaspoon of pepper, lump of butter size of an egg, and a pinch of sage, if liked. Four boiling water over this, using enough to moisten the bread; then stir with fork until quite smooth. Beat three eggs and add sugar, salt and butter to skillet on the stove smoking hot, with tablespoon of drippings or part lard and butter, and add the dough, and stir with spoon, and when a rich brown turn and fry other side. Place on hot plate and serve at once.

Oyster Pie—Make a biscuit dough of two tablespoons shortening, milk or water to make a dough not too stiff. One teaspoon milk, herbs, two sprigs parsley. Put all on to boil in granite saucepan. Fry one tablespoon of chopped onion in one tablespoon of butter until yellow; then add one heaping tablespoonful cornstarch and stir all into the tomato. Simmer for ten minutes; add one-half teaspoon salt and one-half saltspoon pepper, a dash of cayenne, and strain, and it is ready for use. This is splendid for soup or fish, and should be poured over them while hot.

Cornstarch Fritters—Roll one pint of milk with one-inch of stick cinnamon. Strain into one-half cup sugar, two tablespoons cornstarch and one of flour, and add three eggs well beaten. Add the boiling milk to this, and on saltspoon of salt and stir well. Strain into double boiler and cook fifteen minutes, stirring often. Take from the fire and add one teaspoon butter and one of vanilla. Pour into a buttered bread-pan about one inch deep and set to cool. When very hard, sprinkle a bread-board with fine bread crumbs. Turn the cream out on this and cut into strips two and a half inches long and one inch wide or in diamonds. Cover these in crumbs; dip in beaten egg, then in crumbs again, and fry one minute in smoking hot lard. Sprinkle with sugar and serve dash of cayenne, and they are splendid and very delicate.

Death of Mrs. Murray Anderson, Wife of London's First Mayor.

Demise of Mr. John Stewart, Another Early Settler.

Sketches of Their Lives—Honorable and Useful Careers.

At fifteen minutes past midnight this morning another link with the early history of London was severed by the death of Mrs. Murray Anderson, the devoted and highly esteemed wife of one who for over 50 years has been prominent in the public life of the city. Mrs. Anderson's death took place at the family residence, 438 Adelaide street, at the ripe age of 82 years. She had been an invalid for four years past, and had been confined to her room for about two and a half years. Her suffering, which was considerable during these years, she bore with Christian fortitude—always patient and uncomplaining.

Deceased was a native of Albany, N. Y., her maiden name being Jane C. Kier. November, 1838, she and Mr. Murray Anderson were married. They came to London in 1840, and for years Mr. Anderson was prominently identified with the business interests of the city. He was the first reeve and mayor of London. Mr. Anderson was from childhood a devout member of the Methodist Church, and since coming to London united with a few years ago was a prominent worker in church circles. She was for years president of the Ladies' Aid of the Dundas Centre Church, and also taught a class of young ladies in the Sunday school there—a work which she gave up only when her last illness compelled her to do so.

Besides her husband, she leaves one daughter, Sarah J., wife of James H. Flock, Q.C., of this city. Mrs. Anderson had two sons, Edward, whose death occurred about one year ago, and William, who died over 30 years past.

MR. JOHN STEWART. John Stewart, another of the earliest settlers of London, died last evening, in his 90th year, at his residence, Metcalfe township, and the remains will be brought to London this evening for interment. The funeral will take place Saturday afternoon from the residence of deceased's son, Samuel, 155 Maple street, to Woodland Cemetery.

Mr. Stewart was born in Antrim, Ireland, and reared in his native country until 18 years of age, when he emigrated to Lower Canada, and engaged in the lumber business. There he married Mrs. Elizabeth Longstaff, of Tipperary, Ireland, who died 31 years ago. In 1837, during the Canadian rebellion, Mr. Stewart came to London and secured the contract for building the old barracks between King and Dundas streets, opposite the Sacred Heart convent. Tools being scarce at that time, he exchanged a lot on Dundas street for a cross-cut saw. He traded the lot on King street, where the central fire station now stands for a broad-axe. For about 25 years Mr. Stewart was one of the most prominent contractors in this section of the country. He supplied the timber for the Royal Dock harbor, the Prof. Line road, and a great many other such large works. He was also an active trader in his time here. About 25 years ago he went to Metcalfe, where he lived a useful, though retired, life. For one of his advanced years he enjoyed remarkable health until about a year ago. His constitution was wonderfully hardy and vigorous, and he to the last his senses were keen and alert. He passed away very peacefully. Some years after the death of his first wife, Mr. Stewart married again, and his second wife is still living. There were nine children, Elizabeth, of New York; William F. of Flint, Mich.; James, of Chicago, and Charles of England. One daughter, by Mr. Stewart's second wife, Mrs. Fergusson, of Metcalfe, is also left.

THE LATE ARCHIBALD GRAY.

Funeral of a Highly-Respected Resident—A Large Attendance.

The Advertiser regrets that the published report on Oct. 19 of the death of Mr. Archibald Gray, of Lobo township, contained some unintentional misstatements, which did not do justice to a very worthy gentleman, and a member of one of Lobo's first and best families. Mr. Gray, who died suddenly Sunday evening with paralysis, had lived in Lobo for many years, and was highly respected resident. The funeral, which took place on Wednesday, was attended by a large number of friends and relatives, testifying to the esteem and respect in which he was held in the neighborhood. Kinardine, as rector of St. James' Church, Ingersoll, officiated.

COURIER BROUGHT $470

The Logie Farm Sale of Horses Was Fairly Satisfactory.

The sale at Mr. Ramsay's farm on Tuesday, the 19th, was a great success. The first mare offered for sale was Courier, a fine chestnut, sold to Mr. T. Sheldrake for $70. Mr. William Hendrie, of Hamilton, bought Belle Haight; he also bought the 2-year-old colt Vermont. Miss J. F. Flock, of London, bought the grand mare, but well up in years, was sold to Graham Bros., of Clarence, Ontario, and the 3-year-old colt, named Hildie, was sold to Mr. Bethune, of Ryckman's Corner, Goughly, a very fine 3-year-old gelding, was sold to Mr. Pepper, of Toronto for $39. Friday and Saturday, a pair of fine 2-year-olds, were sold to Mr. J. M. Lottridge, of Hamilton, for $125. Barones, a very fine yearling filly, showing lots of quality, was sold to Mr. Bankier, of Hamilton, for $75. Courier, for $184. Cushla, a fine all-around saddle mare, went to Mr. Crear, of Hamilton, for $125. Barones, also referred to a verbal agreement with the city that they were not to be taxed on more than $5,000 yearly.

Important Appeals Heard by the Court of Revision.

Canada Chemical Company Say Their Assessment Is $26,000 Too High

The second meeting of the court of revision was held in the council chamber last night, and a number of important appeals heard. The last of the appeals, including that of the street railway company, will be heard tonight. Decisions will then be given as quickly as possible. The following objections were heard last night: Bell Telephone Company—Against $10,000 assessment on poles and wires as realty, and $5,000 income assessment. The company held that they should not be assessed for the realty and also on the income from that realty. They also referred to a verbal agreement with the city that they were not to be taxed on more than $5,000 yearly.

H. C. Baker—Against $20,000 on his block on Dundas street. The buildings are very old, and require considerable repairing. He would take $1,000 for the property, he said.

Mr. Grant said he valued the land in that vicinity at almost $200 a foot. Hodgson Bros., commission merchants—Against $1,500 on personally, R. Robertson, who represented the firm, said the taxes were paid on the business at the head office, Montreal.

E. Saunders—Asking the Entomological Society be exempt.

P. H. Crabbe—Against $900 on a vacant lot with 96 feet frontage on Stanley street.

A Paritt, through P. Mulken—Against $2,000 income assessment.

John S. Perkin—To be struck off the statute labor list and entered as tenant. Allowed.

Mrs. John S. Marshall—Against $2,000 personally, on the ground that her personal property was exempt, as it was invested in mortgages.

Grafton & Co.—Against $7,000 personally, and $12,000 real estate. This was but a branch store here; the company's representative said, and they pay taxes on the stock in Dundas. They would be satisfied with $5,000 personally instead of $9,000.

S. B. Coon—Against personally of $500 and realty assessment of $2,000 on two houses at the corner of Queen's avenue and Maitland street.

Messrs. T. H. Smallman and J. H. Flock, Q.C., representing the Canada Chemical Company, said the real and personal assessment was much too high. They said the taxes were burned down some time ago they were rebuilt on the city granting the company a fixed assessment of $200,000. This had been the nominal assessment for some years, but as the tax was a fixed amount, no objection was taken. In reality the personal property ran from $5,000 to $11,000 or $12,000, and the plant would not set for more than $5,000. Owing to the tariff changes, he said, part of it was lying idle.

Mr. Grant said the paid-up stock of the company was from $75,000 to $125,000.

DRESS GOODS

The backbone of this business is Dress Goods, and this store is the porch to a world of economy—that is to say, true economy. It is easier to make claims to things than it is to prove such claims. If only all our work were as easy as it is to show why this store might be called LE GRAND MAGASIN D'ECONOMIST! Not that every price is lower, for that is impossible. Storekeepers shrewdly sell at about the same prices all articles and stuffs easily recognizable at other stores. Yet where there is one thing of which the value is well known, there are seventeen, perhaps seventy, not known. All milk looks alike, but by standing at the pump you will find that the quality cannot be told by the whiteness. Be it remembered that the face of an article does not always show its grade. Five times out of six the effort of manufacturers is (and a wrong one it is) to reduce the cost of goods by lowering the quality—and not disclosing the difference. Our rules fix fair prices for all classes of goods, and the most inexperienced takes no risk here when selecting articles of which the buyer has no knowledge, either as regards quality or price. Is not this a comfortable service? Come and test us.

Want Big Reductions.

Mr. Smallman corrected him. It was $20,000, not $200. The company had lost greatly by fire, said Mr. Smallman, and they would not have remained in the city had they not been repeatedly assured that the taxes would not be made burdensome. Recently the water rates of the company assessed as he was, he declared, warmly. His property was assessed for more than he paid for it. He paid $2 a day to the city for the privilege of living where he did, and if the grass was kept looking nice when the assessors came around, they say they would pay other $1,000. Then Mr. Grant pats them on the back and calls them good boys.

V. D. Willis—Against $2,000 on house and lot, Wellington street. It was $500 too high, he said.

James Brooks—Against $500 personally. He admitted having this amount in the bank, but supposed it was income only was taxable.

Three insurance companies, the Standard Life, Sun Life and London, Lincoln and Lancashire, assessed at $5,000, $5,000 and $500 respectively, appealed through Mr. James Magee, Q.C. The grounds of appeal were the same as last year, when the assessments were reduced to $2,000 for the Standard, $2,000 for the Sun, and $750 for the London and Lancashire.

E. Burland—Against $500 an acre on sold Ontario car works property. Should be as farm lands.

There is not a more dangerous class of disorders than those which affect the breathing organs. Nulity this danger with Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil—a pulmonary of acknowledged efficacy. It cures soreness and lameness when applied externally, as well as swelled neck and croup in the back; and, as an inward specific, possesses most substantial claim to public confidence.

"The wise man doesn't wait for a fortune to knock at his door; he gets out to meet it."

One reason why Scott's Emulsion cures weak throats, weak lungs, makes rich blood, and strengthens puny and delicate children is because all its parts are mixed in so scientific a manner that the feeblest digestion can deal with it. This experience has only come by doing one thing for nearly 25 years.

This means, purest ingredients, most evenly and delicately mixed, best adapted for those whose strength has failed or whose digestion would repel an uneven product.

All Classes of People Use Diamond Dyes.

At Small Expense a Harvest of Profit Is Reaped.

The wonderful Diamond Dyes have long ago reached the highest point of fame and popularity. They are called into use in the homes of all classes in Canada, and have always been true to name and give the most unbounded satisfaction. It is as easy to dye a dress, coat, vest or pair of trousers with Diamond dyes as to wash any of these garments.

With the Diamond Dyes—so easy to use—there is no necessity for sending work to the city steam dyeing establishments where you pay from $1.50 to $2 for work that you can do in your home at a cost of from 10c to 25c.

Home dyeing with Diamond Dyes is always successful; when cheap imitation package dyes are used, failure and loss of time and money is the reward. See that the name Diamond Dye is on every package you buy.
