AT THE MONTHLY MEETING OF THE PUBLIC SCHOOL BUARD.

him about it. Trustee Hill said numer ous complaints had been lodged by parents because pupils had been compelled to buy putty and plaster of paris to make maps at home. Inspector Hughes said there was nothing compulsory about it. The pupils could do as they wished. The articles were used for making maps in bas relief. In answer to Trustee Kent, Mr. Somers said as soon as an order could be filled all the schools in the city would be supplied with good slate blackboards.

On recommendation of the finance committee accounts amounting to $421 were ordered to be paid. One item was for $146 for bells for two schools, and Trustee Hill asked why these bells were not purchased in Canada instead of the States. He said there were two bell foundries in the dominion. Mr. Boxall, chairman of the supplies' committee, said they would give the Canadian makers the next order if they would supply as good an article as the board required. The Hamilton school board sent in a request that four of their teachers be allowed to attend the Kindergarten classes in the Toronto schools for a period of two meabs. four of their teachers be allowed to attend the Kindergarten classes in the Toronto schools for a period of two months to receive instructions. The School management committee recommended that the request be granted and the board agreed. There was a breezy discussion on report No. 6 of the sites and buildings committee. It was all about the acceptance of architects' plans for the new twelve-roomed school-house to be erected in St. Matthew's ward, Eight sets of plans were sent in, and those of R. C. Windeyer were the choice of the committee, who recommended that committee, who recommended that

The plans and specifications of R. C. Windeyer be accepted, provided the tenders for the work when received do not exceed the sum named by the architect, viz.; $17,800, and that the committee have authority to adver ties for such tenders. Also, that if the tenders exceed the sum named they be authorized to call for tenders for the work, in accordance with one of the other selected plans, viz.; Gordon & Helliwell, or those of Stewart & Son.

After a lengthy occasion this

After a lengthy cross-fire this recommendation was adopted, but the board agreed to return Stewart & Son their plans this morning. It was hinted that there had been underhand work somewhere, The same committee recommended that "Gilmour & Johnston be religious of their same mour & Johnston be relieved of their contract for painters' and glaziers' work at the school building to be erected on Morse street, and the contract be awarded to E.

H. Boddy for the sum of $279, his being the next lowest gender." Mr. Somers said Mr. Johnston had cone to the front and Small craft were out.

TEA AND TOBACCO.

A Rumor that the Old Duties are to be Reimposed.
There was some talk among city toba and tea dealers yesterday concerning a rumor that the government would put a duty on tea and that the old excise duty of duty on tea and that the old excise duty of 20 cents per pound would be placed on manufactured tobacco. Two years ago the duty was reduced to 12 cents. Tea has been on the free list for some time. The object of the reimposition of these duties was to raise money for rebellion purposes. One dealer told a World reporter that tobacco "was an article that might stand it, and that there was not one caddy of the weed in bond in the city." Saveral tea dealers who were spoken to knew nothing about the matter.

LIEUT. BROCK'S CALLANT CHAR

The Views of Archbishop Tac CLARKE'S CROSSING, N.W.T., May. 8. have been anxiously waiting all day for a from the front, but have received none seems strange, but there is no cause for as it is possible that the troops ha faile to noon or so to search out the enen which case there would be little likeliho our hearing to-day, as those carrying the r would have to ride some distance to get phic communication. It is certain, how General Middleton has moved forwar wires. A battle was expected to-day Gabriel's Crossing, but it is more than if the rebels are waiting for the decisive con at Batoche's crossing, six or eight miles hi up. A battle in that case would not

Weighty Opinions.
WINNIPEG. May 8.—Both Archbishop Ta and Major Walsh think that the result of Otter's engagement with Poun maker will to increase the Indian alarm. Col. Otter, t agree, should not have risked an engagem and stay on the ground until he had dicta terms and compelled the chiefs to ackn ledge submission. As tending to support or granion a despatch from Rat'leford sa "The attack on Poundmaker must be read, but Col. Otter is almost helpless with reinforcements. The scours sent out to connoiter returned and reported the India to be still at Cut Knife Hill, where Saturds battle courred." A priest states that knows positively that Poundmaker's loss last Saturday's battle was 125, or one-hair Poundmaker's own strength. The trouble however, that they are persuaded if they are render they will be harged sure, and, the force, they think they might as well die fig. The breeds and their directors do the best to encourage them in that belief. The is no doubt in the world now that they ha outside help.

Big Bear the Butcher. WINNIPEG, May 8.—A letter brought he coday by Rae, Indian instructor at Batt ford, confirms the story of the Frog lake mass cre. He states that undoubtedly the murde were committed by Big Bear and his bar Big Bear sent to Quinn, the Indian aged desiring a conference. When he again desiring a conference. When he arrived with the others, one of the Indians remind him that he had long promised to shoot his and the time had now come. Williscroquinn and Father Fafard were murdered quinn and Father Fafard were murdered the spot, the otners following after.

It was to Big Bear that MoLea the Indian instructor at Fort Pi surrendered, along with all the whi settlers and their families, numberir forty. Mr. Rac has a letter written by M. Lean to his wife, after he was taken, in which he says: "They now in their excite ne have made me a prisoner, and swear by A mighty God that I would stay with then Alas! that I came into camp at all, for Go only knows how things will go now. The want you and the children to ceme into camp and it may be for the best that you abould, theaven only knows how this will end. The heaven only knows how this will end. The heaven only knows how the want you and the children to ceme into camp and it may be for the best that you should, the eaven only knows how this will end. The chief and conneillors say that they will be me go down the Beaver river with my family and if so we would be all right. I believe candidly it is best that you should come, a the Indians are determined to burn the for if the police do not leave."

He adda to the list of those already reports murdered the name of George Dill, brother the member of the legislature of Muskok who went up into the district two years aw with a surveying party and deciding to sett there established a farm. He had intended send this spring for his wife and child, who he left in Huntavil e, but the present trouble prevented him, and now he is dead.

Wadding Soldiers v. Halfbreeds.
MONTREAL, May 8.—A somewhat curio Rev. Father Lenoir as having said in Bons cours church "Let us pray for our Cathol volunteers. There is no need of praying for the others as they are protestants and do no believe in the Virgin Mary. Our poor voluntees who were brought up in wadding are to weat to engage the maslves in a struggle with the half breeds, who are accustomed to the alimate of the Northwest, who are indifficulties and who are all dead shots. In these conditions to go to war is to march on the death. Our volunteers will not return from the Northwest."

BATTLEFORD, May 7,—Scouts have twice dared to venture away from the reserve, h The Indians fired on sight, wounding one Baptiste Laton aine, who fell from his hore and had to be let behind by his companione, who were fractul of their own scaps. Rose, one of it escout g party, says he has lattle don't that Lafontaine was killed. He floss and his associates had an exciting ride for life, the savines giving chase like a pack of bounds on a keen scent, yelling and firing simultaneously. One by one the Indians fell off until finally the leading nine or ten fearing to come too close selfiquished the run and the three scours reach at Battleford Crossing badly blown and has also been selfiquished the run and the three scours reach at Battleford Crossing badly blown and A strong reconnoitering force will go but to motrow, and on Saturday probably another reconnois success force will be made.
