

ST. GEORGE'S PARISH MAGAZINE.

The Annual Harvest Festival was held on Sunday, Oct. 5th, and was marked with appropriate services. The church looked really lovely with symbolic grain and the golden and red of flowers and fruit. The services in the morning were well attended but during the afternoon and evening thunderstorms and drenching rain utterly prevented many going out. We would not care to measure the thankfulness of St. George's people by the number who expressed it on Sunday night. Happily there is still another day given us to be thankful, and, no doubt, all defaulters will turn up at 8 or 11 on Oct. 16th. Many complaints have been raised as to the "sense" of having two Thanksgiving Days, so this is one reason—the other is that the Church needs the two offertories. The one on the Sunday is parochial and the offertory applied to our own needs; the one on the Thursday is national and the offertory given to the diocesan mission fund.

Special preachers during the summer have been the Rev. Canon Welch, Rev. E. C. Cayley and E. J. Haughton.

St. George's General Purposes Committee met on Monday, 6th Oct., to consider the financial situation before the winter season begins, as well as other matters affecting the church. Mr. Weller submitted the account of receipts and expenditures for the half year, 1st of April to 1st Oct., including the outlay for necessary repairs.

The auditors' report for the same period was also submitted. The Committee, after fully discussing the accounts and statements of Messrs. Weller and Heath, found that the affairs of the church were in more favorable condition than was to be expected at this period of the year. The only discouraging part of the report was the amount in arrears both for pew rent and envelope offertory. The final conclusion of the Committee was—that, assuming the immediate payment of all arrears, a 25% increase of the offertory all round would not only pay the current expenses but also free the church of debt by Easter. The Rector was requested to make this statement from the pulpit.

At the meeting of the Church Committee on Monday it was suggested that a board containing a notice of church services might be placed at the corner of Queen and John streets, and also that printer's ink might well be employed in the service of the church, whether in the way of a weekly leaflet or advertisement. Both suggestions were adopted.
