

of the Convention were appointed. Rev. Dr. Lothrop, of Boston, President ; Rev. Dr. Burnap, of Baltimore, and Hon. Samuel Hoar, of Concord, Mass., as Vice Presidents ; and Rev. Mr. Lowe, of Salem, and Rev. Mr. Livermore, of Clinton, as Secretaries. From eight till nine o'clock on Wednesday morning, a meeting was held for conference and prayer at the Westminster church. Prayers were offered by Rev. Dr. Farley, of Brooklyn, and Rev. Mr. Hale, of Worcester ; and addresses were delivered by Rev. Dr. Farley, Rev. Dr. Hall, of Providence, Rev. Mr. Staples, of Lexington, Rev. Dr. Hill, of Worcester, and Rev. Mr. Ryder, of Hubbardston.

The following were the subjects proposed for consideration at the meetings of the Convention :—

1. The best mode of rendering the Church a more efficient and a more living organization.

2 How may Christians most effectually spread the knowledge of Christ.

3. The peculiar duties of Unitarian Christians as such.

The sessions of the Convention on Wednesday were held, in the morning, at the Westminster Church ; and, in the afternoon, at the Church, on Benefit Street, (Rev. Dr. Hall's,) where a sermon was preached in the evening by Rev. Mr. Stebbins of Portland.

On Wednesday evening there was a social gathering and collation ; and on Thursday the meetings were at Dr. Hall's church. The Convention closed its session on Thursday noon.
