The use of career development services has not focused sufficiently on the needs of women. The use of skills and knowledge gained, but has not been integrated in the context of career development. Career development services should be expanded to include women and to provide them with the necessary information and resources to make informed decisions about their careers.

To encourage employers to focus on job-related subjects so that the effectiveness of career development will be increased in providing employees with the necessary information and resources to make informed decisions about their careers.
