

reducing this country to a choice of alternatives ; and if that choice must be made, dreadful as it is, he would be the vilest of cowards and slaves that does not say, if governments and privileged orders are just to the people, may they be eternal ! but if they are not, let the people be just to themselves ; for governments and privileges may have an end, but the people shall live for ever.

F I N I S.