“A generous and impassioned review of the works of living painters. A hearty and earnest work, full of deep thought, and developing great and striking truths in art. It lays before us the deeply-studied reflections of a devout worshipper of nature—of one thoroughly imbued with the love of truth.”—BRITISH QUARTERLY REVIEW.

“A very extraordinary and delightful book, full of truth and goodness, of power and beauty. This remarkable work contains more true philosophy, more information of a strictly scientific kind, more original thought and exact observation of nature, more enlightened and serious enthusiasm, and more eloquent writing, than it would be easy to match, not merely in works of its own class, but in those of any class whatever.”—NORTH BRITISH REVIEW.

“This work is the most valuable contribution towards a proper view of painting, its purpose and means, that has come within our knowledge.”
FOREIGN QUARTERLY REVIEW.

“A work distinguished by an enlightened style of criticism, new to English readers, and by the profound observation of nature displayed by the author.”
DUBLIN UNIVERSITY MAGAZINE.

“One of the most remarkable works on art which has appeared in our time.”—EDINBURGH REVIEW.
