

here, but everything that is good to eat. What are called luxuries in England are considered necessities here. There is only one family needing help here; he is an Englishman who came from London last summer and has very delicate health and is not suitable for farming business. His family have been well cared for, and our minister has proposed sending him to pass his examination for a teacher, as he has been well educated.

"There is some excellent cheese made in this neighborhood. I intend making some this season with the rennets you gave me; the cheese sell well here. If you know anybody who wishes to come here, we will keep them a little while, and they can soon have a suitable farm. If a man reaches here with £300, he is independent at once. One who came here last spring gave £40 for a log house and barn, a pig and wheat. Then at harvest he had 40 bushels of wheat, 70 of oats, 30 of potatoes and a lot of turnips and beans. He has now bought another cow of us and is very comfortable. He has twelve acres of land cleared, and is now clearing ten more, he will sell his oats and buy a pair of young steers to work his land; so if a man has £40 he can do well, but if he has £300 all the better. A man that can work, can do well if he has no money. Laborers and tradesmen are wanted, and are well paid for what they do.

"It is never very cold more than three days at a time. The sun is very bright, and the weather very mild. The coldest days we never feel cold in the body, only the hands and feet. We wear mittens and several pairs of warm socks and we have overboots to admit of them. Then we are very comfortable."
