

Your attention is also invited to a scientific mode of drying, known as "Ruttan's Patent Dry House,"—H. J. Ruttan, Cobourg. All interested in the drying of lumber, tobacco, leather, wool, clothes, fruit, or anything, call and see a demonstration, or call at Sherman House or Matteson House, where it is used for laundries, at J. C. Parsons for wool, and at Harris & Oslander's for lumber.

It is economical and safe. Time, fuel and labor saved.
