

CONTENTS OF VOLUME SEVENTH.

Sketch of the life of the earl of Marr,	7
Observations on the history of Portugal,	9
Short catalogue of Portuguese books,	20
The Informer, No. 1.	23
Anecdote,	32
On the advantages of miscellaneous reading,	35
Description of a nautech at Thibet,	37
Anecdote of the duke of Bedford,	39
Sketch of the life of the earl of Marr, continued,	41
Account of the rhinoceros,	47
Observations on the history of Portugal continued,	52
List of Portuguese books,	54
Account of the proceedings of the Swedish academy,	57
Annunciation of Edward 11.	67
Intelligence respecting the fine arts,	71
Night story,	76
Advice to correspondents,	80
Remarks on the poetry of Buchanan, continued,	81
Instinct of animals,	86
Balance of trade, and exchanges,	93
Sketch of the life of the earl of Marr, continued,	98
Account of a feast in the time of Edward 14.	104
Night story, concluded,	108
Intelligence respecting arts,	114
Review of Sir John Sinclair's statistics,	117
To correspondents,	120
Comparison between the mode of writing history by the ancients and moderns,	121
The necessity of roguery exemplified,	127
On Smollet's writings,	130
Account of some antiquities in Scotland,	132
Plan and elevation of a druid's temple in Aberdeenshire,	139
Sketch of the life of the earl of Marr concluded,	142
Reading memorandums	144
Review of Sir John Sinclair's statistics concluded,	146
Philosophical geography, part 111. with a map,	153
Observations on Watson's history,	163
The effects of imagination,	169
On the chances in the lottery,	172
Inoculation compared with the natural small pox,	174
Reading memorandums,	176
Anakia, a tale,	180
Proceedings in parliament on the corn bill,	187
To correspondents,	192
Memoirs of Jean Froissart, with a portrait,	193
Rondeaux by ditty,	198
On banking companies,	199
The dean Badajon, a tale, from the French,	203