York County and Suburbs

WILL CELEBRATE PASSING OF TOWN

North Toronto Will Make Merry Next Week When Annexation Goes Into Effect.

COUNCIL MEETS TODAY

Will Discuss Opening of Duplex Avenue-Interesting News From the County.

Altho the contractors whose duty it is to convert the Oulcott Hotel into a sub-postal station have hardly begun their work, the mail carriers have received instructions that from next Tuesday they will have to get their mails for delivery from this new substation, after which the names of Davisville, Eglinton and Bedford Park postoffices will only be known in history.

Campaign Speechs.

Tonight a public meeting will be held in the town hall, at which candidates for the board of control and representatives for wards two and three will be given a chance to explain what they intend to do should they be elected. Also the electors of North Toronto would like to hear the various money bylaws explained, so that they can cast an intelligent vote. Judge Morgan had a hard task last night in the town hall when he had to consider about 800 appeals against the town's voters' list. However, as Assessor Brennand was the sole appellant, it was, after all, not such a strenuous work as in former years. City officials had a look around town yesterday with a purpose of arranging for a proper garbage collection and suitable dumping ground.

North Toronto Dramatic and Musical Club will hold a reharsal this evening for the operetta, "The Nautical Knot," which is soon to be presented to the public. The rehearsal will take place at 63 Blythewood road.

St. John's Branch of the A. Y. P. A held a most successful military band concert last evening in the new parish hall, Dundas street. An excellent masical program was provided entirely by the band of the 48th Highlanders, and the acoustic properties of the large new hail proved fully satisfactory.

The choir of St. Paul's Church, Annette street, Runnymede, held their third anniversary concert in the church building last evening, when the choir rendered an excellent program. Among the selections were numbers by Gounod, Ramsden, Dr. Ham, and the concert concluded with a cantata by Dr. Clark Vincent, "The Crowning of the Wheat." The choir, which is under the able instruction of Mr. J. M. Rhodes, now numbers thirty, and about ten small boys were recently added.

The opening meeting of the Humberside Collegiate Institute Literary Society was held last night in the school auditorium. The president, H. Agnew, occupied the chair, and a good program was provided by the students. A debate on the unique topic, "The Horse v. the Automobile," was held in the afternoon, the horse being returned victorious.

illustrated with a view of impressing its value upon the competitors.

Seeing these proverbs pictured in The World has made people realize how often, in daily life, they have seen other people actually depicting them in the things they do. Then they get to thinking a little more and are startled to discover themselves doing the same furny things the people in the proverb pictures are doing.

Thus the interest increases, day by day, and persons from everywhere still continue to enter. The way to get into the contest now is simple. One only needs to secure the back proverb pictures and coupon blanks, from on to sixty-six inclusive, all of which may be had at the office of The World, or they will be sent to any address in Canada upon receipt of $1.68. School yesterday it was reported that the loard of education intended to cut down the plans for the enlargement of the building, so as to eliminate the
