ENTHUSIASTS WAT HOURS TO HEAR SIR ADAM BECK

Hydro Chief Carries Message of Encouragement to Radial Voters.

That the ratepayers who will vote in a few days on the Toronto & Eastern Radial bylaw are taking a very keer interest in Sir Adam Beck's plans for a solution of the eastern transports tion question was demonstrated by the size of the audiences that greeted the Hydro's chief Jast night at Brooklin and Agincourt. Sir Adam spoke first at Brooklin, in Whitby township, to a crowded hall, and then motored to Agincourt, a distance of 20 miles, expecting to find the meeting over Althethe time was then 11.30, and the local spellbinders had retired exhausted, a hundred persons, including 20 or more women, still held their seats and waited to hear the chairman of the Hydrocommission.

Sir Adam gave, a brief but compre-hensive outhine of the eastern radia project and before leaving the hal shook hands with all the ladies and application of keeping than out of hed The Agincourt meeting was also addressed by 1st Depaty Reeve Stewart of Scarboro, who occupied the chair, Dr. Cartwright of Pickering and chief Engineer Gaby of the Hydro-electric system.

No Discordant Note

At neither meeting was any discordant note raised and it is locally predicted that the vote will be almost unanimously in favor of building the radial. Each municipality toucied by the Toronto-Bowmanville road will be asked to guarantee a share of the bonds. Two members of Whitby township council who spoke at the Brooklin meeting both strongly supported the radial project. Councillor Wm. Dryden said that while the morthern part of the township might mot receive the same benefit from the trunk radial as the southern section, yet electric power shade come to stay and it was only a question of time when it would come into use in every part of the country. Reeve Hall of Whitby township, who coupled the chair, also strongly endorsed the proposal to guarantee the bonds.

Eight Million Outlay
Engineed Gaby, who preceded Sir Adam, said that $5.50.794 would be needed to build the road and provide Thoronto terminals and $1,830,000 to equip it with cars and power and passenger stations, making a total outlay of $8.360,794. He figured the annual revenue at $1,076,475.

Sir Adam spoke of the boon Hydroelectric has been to farmers in the Niagara district. He said 100,000 smoothing irons were heated every Tuesday with Niagara current, and about 6000 stoves were in use. The list of rural customers was growing rapidly.

In closing, the speaker pointed out customers was growing rapidly.

"Now that I am really here in the United States. I feel that my anticipation will be completely fulfilled. Your institutions, your ways of life, your aims are as democratic as ours, and the atmosphere in which I find myself is the same invigorating, familiar atmosphere which I have always noticed in my American Iriends.

"I thank you, gentlemen of the arms are command as yest a nifelice."

"I thank you, gentlemen of the press, who command so vast a piblic, and who possess such widespread power in the democratic English, speaking world, for offering to he my intermediary in conveying this short message to your fellow citizens in the United States. I assure you that I deeply appreciate the hospitality of your government in inviting me to your government in inviting me to pay this visit and in entertaining me

Speaks As Canadian

Responding to a toast by Vice President Marshall at the dinner at the Belmont home, the prince, after expressing his regret at President Wilson's illness, and congratulating himself on meeting so many representatives of countries which were allied tatives of countries which were allied in the great struggle, said: "As you know I have recently been traveling in Canada, and I am the richer since that three months' journey by a wonderful experience. I come here, therefore, not only as an Englishman and a representative of the British empire, but also as a Canadian, who is as intimately and personally concerned as yourselves in the life of this North American continent. The British empire is held together by the common aims and the united sentiment of five sister nations, all of which are devoted to the same cause of democratic self-government. But Canada shares with the United States the splendid territories of this rich continent. She is divided from your beautiful to the same cause of the splendid territories of this rich continent. She with the United States the splendid territories of this rich continent. She is divided from you by no physical barrier, no military line, no frontier other than a boundary guaranteed by international law and good will. North of that frontier we cherish our British institutions, our British form of freedom, our British allegiance to the King. South of it you cherish equally the institutions into which the American citizen is born. The forms are different, but the human alm of both systems of government is the same. different, but the human alm of both systems of government is the same. "It seems to me that this example of nations living side by side in a spirit of political tolerance and human liberty is entirely incompatible with the militarism which threatened Europe in the great war, and is thus a living example of the great principles for which we gave our best in that terrible ordeal."
