Mr. Henry Campbell-Bannerman Will, However, Likely Refuse to Accept the Gag and Demand Verdict from People—Dissolution and January Election is Probable—Liberal Leader Makes Irish Policy Prominent in His Platform.

London, Nov. 21.—This morning's newspapers are unanimous in their belief that the meeting of the cabinet to-day will result in the resignation of Premier Balfour.

The speech of Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman at the meeting of the cabinet to-day will be the subject of a close and direct appeal to the country. LORD ROSEBERY—WHO MAY BECOME LIBERAL PREMIER.

A report from a source which has proved reliable on previous occasions of governmental changes in Britain, is current that the Opposition leaders have agreed upon Lord Rosebery as the statesman who will be entrusted with the formation of the next Liberal Ministry. Lord Rosebery has certainly been displaying unusual political activity, and in a recent speech referred to Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman in terms which sufficiently demonstrated that more cordial feelings existed between them.

Mr. Balfour and Lord Rosebery are the only British politicians now living who have held the responsible office of Prime Minister. The latter's term of office was brief, only covering from March 2, 1894, to July 2, 1895. For some considerable time it was believed that the action of Queen Victoria in calling upon Lord Rosebery was due to the recommendation of Lord Spencer, who is now out of the running in consequence of the stroke. Lord Rosebery's experience that he is now known to the veteran statesman Lord Spencer, who is now out of the running in consequence of the stroke.

Evident Murder Discovered in Albany, N. Y.—Police Search for Missing Husband.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 21.—What appears to be a murder, committed nearly two weeks ago and peculiarly ghastly in its details, was discovered to-day, when the body decomposed of Mrs. John Hammond, was found wedged in a trunk in the second story room of the house, No. 42 South Henry-street, where she lived with her husband.

The trunk stood in the fireplace, the body within was heavily sprinkled with quick lime, and the trunk was covered with quick lime. The body was found in a state of decomposition, and the trunk was covered with quick lime.

Disagreeable odors all day drew the attention of the household to the trunk. The trunk was covered with quick lime, and the body was found in a state of decomposition.

A CURE FOR SMALLPOX.

Editor Word: Now that we have such a smallpox scare, why don't you republish the article you have a couple of years ago on "Cure for Smallpox," or are you afraid that the "doctors' comb" would be after you if you were to do such a charitable deed? I know of one case where this recipe prevented the spread of smallpox; where the son had quite a bad attack of the disease. When you published the article, I wrote it in my recipe book. I will write it out for you in case you feel like using it. I think it would be best for people to give it a trial (while the doctors are trying to guess at what it is they have).
