tradiction of Orchard's story concluded frequently with the denunciation of witness after witness as a wilful perjuror or intentional falsifier.

Mr. Hawley, in speaking of Orchard's alleged dealings with the mine operators' detectives, said: "Orchard undoubtedly was trying to secure money from all the sources he could, and I am not going to defend him for his double dealing in taking noney from both the Western Federation of Miners and the railroad company. I am not here to pain Harry Orchard in anything but his true colors. There is but one claim we make for him, and that is that he has told you the truth."

When he had spoken nearly six hours, Mr. Hawley reached Caldwell, where, in December, 1905, the preparations for the assassination of Steu-Mills here has been receiving acces- nenberg with a bomb were afoot. His voice now found a sympathetic note, and as he told of the last moments of the former governor, the crowd leaned forward to catch the speaker's every word. Mr. Hawley's peroration was impressive. There was no attempt at oratory, but only a strong note of deep sincerity and great earnestness when he pleaded for an honest judgment.

Mr. Hawley did not charge that a majority, or even that many of the members of the Western Federation of Miners were criminals, but that the evil deeds of the officers and of the scum of the organization had brought discredit on the rank and file. The time had come when decent men should rise and make war on the evil influences that were the curse of all labor organizations. On the adjournment of court until Monday morning, Mr. Hawley was showered with congratulations.

The Income Tax.

To the Editress of The Woman's a bunch of daisies. A cooler and more world: So many women have asked me about the new law which has come into force this year, taxing the incomes of women, that I think you would be doing a great public service if you could publish a statement of the legal aspects of the act itself, i.e, what amounts of income must be earned as much deeper shade than common and was worn by a decided brunch of the force the tax is incurred are there.

room was occupied and remained so till the last word was spoken.

None listened more attentively to the argument than Haywood. From time to time he took copious notes in a small book and frequently made suggestions to one or the other of his lawyers, seven of whom were in court. Thruout the day Mr. Hawley assumed an almost conversational tone.

They sent a delegation to wait on his worship the mayor and learned from him that the provincial legislature was responsible for the imposition of this tax. They further learn tion of this tax. They further learnt that in 1905 a tax had been levied on incomes over $450 or thereabouts, and many girls in shops and other cmployments not particularly well paid, were staggered by the tax. Some are in arrears to the present time, and are just being compelled to pay now. This law, however, appears to have been amended, for this year, and last year, the tax was on incomes over $600 or thereabouts, and householders are, of course, exempt.

A new delegation was elected to wait on Premier Whitney, Dr. Augusta Stowe-Gullen being of the number. On enquiry she learned that the as-sessor-general denied the responsibility of the tax and referred us again to the municipal authorities. In disgust the women gave it up. It would appear that one body of men imposes the tax and another pockets the pro-ceeds, an excellent method, no doubt. Meanwhile, advice was given to one weanwhile, advice was given to one woman who went to complain, by the tax collector himself, that she should not pay her taxes, because she had no-thing which could be seized.
