VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

If memory serves us right, we will recall the time, or times, when the proposition to build and equip first-class amusement facilities within the conamusement facilities within the confines of the waterworks park, was stifled in its inception by the utilities commission; nor would the commission itself take the task in hand of supplying the citizens of London, both young and old, with the amusement and relaxation afforded by such an establishment Now when a private company en deavors to supply that which means so much to many at a reasonable distance from the heart of the city and at the small transportation rate of the London small transportation rate of the London Street Railway Company, the commission tries to exemplify the fable of "The Dog in the Manger."

Personally, as a taxpayer and citizen, I wish to register a most emphatic protest against the erection of any such impregnable barrier on any part of the boundary of the waterworks park as boundary of the waterworks park as it may be the nucleus to a complete fortification surrounding the whole, with the large legend, VERBOTEN, staring at would-be visitors, at all exits and entrances; while the money spent could be used for a much more usebe used for a much more useful and ornamental and not quite such a petty purpose. Such as the placing underground of the unsightly hydro wires and connections on Dundas and Richmond streets, in the place prepared for them some nine years ago.
On further perusal of the "Explanation" another question must occur to us, as to how and by what authority the present utilities commission co stitutes itself a morallty league and stamps any amusement as frivolous, and to even suggest how any citizen should spend his own personal cash. As to the "health-giving sports" and educational attractions" provided free of charge. I don't think there are many of us who wish to play baseball or do marathon stunts from the pumphouse to Byron, or chase butterflies and moths with a bottle of cvanide and a muslin net on a long pole, (each to his own choice), during all our spare time. The last paragraph of the "Explanation" would look very good in the German language, as it most assuredly that spirit, but should conclude ' order" instead of "yours truly," with an addition of "Further discussion of Sunday cars to Springbank, verboten; further discussion of increased fares to the L. THAT CLOSED GATE. To the Editor of The Advertiser:

With reference to the recent action of the local public utilities commission in erecting a fence to prevent citizens from entering the Victor Amusement Property in the vicinity of Springbank, I wish to write a brief letter.

First of all, its explanation to the public as cited in Saturday's issue of your paper is to my mind a lame one. For many years prior to the Victor Amusement Company locating at Springbank, if I am informed correctly, the city resented the granting of such concessions in the park. Springbank was dead, and all offers to revive this park were turned down by those in author-ity. Finally when capital was provided
