DOUBLE STRENGTH OF THOSE NOW ALLOWED

These Are Beverages Mentioned in Referendum Ballot.

Much confusion has been caused by clauses 2 and 3 on the ballots to be presented to the vote of the public next month when the referendum will be taken on the Ontario temperance act. The purpose of these clauses is to ascertain if the public is in favor of light wines and beers containing alcohol 2½ The term 2* per cent weight measure.

The term 2* per cent weight measure is the cause of the confusion, and The Advertiser has been asked to explain.

Compared to the present standard of measurement, in the beers now sold. which is 2½ per cent proof spirits, beer containing 2½ per cent weight measure would be a little over twice as strong or over 5 per cent proof spirits.

Fair. Sergeant of Detectives Thomas of such women, however, have found Fair. Sergeant of Detectives Thomas Nickle does not believe that there are any pickpockets working the city yet, and furthermore, he feels sure, if they do, it will be the last time they will work in any other place than the jail for some time. No person has reported losing his roll to police headquarters yet. The police constables are also confident that there are not going to be more than the usual number of accidents this week. There have been many near accidents, but none of a serious nature. The main reason for the accidents is that the people who come from outside points have little knowledge of traffic faws. Many are passing standing street cars while passengers are alighting, and others do not park their cars near enough to the curbing, leaving them from two feet and over in the road.

A returned soldier fainted in a large crowd watching one of the shows on the midway. Other soldier friends attended to him and brought him to after a few minutes' work.

FIRE CHIEF ON JOB. Fire Chief John Aitken is in con-stant attendance at the fair grounds, to be ready in case of a fire outbreak. This year the grounds are covered thoroughly with alarm boxes, and none of the other equipment has to be stationed on the grounds, as in former years. The chief believes that all is safe; in fact, safer than it has been at any other exhibition.

HOSPITAL IS BUSY. The emergency hospital of No. 4 Nursing Division, St. John Ambulance Brigade, stationed in a tent on the grounds, had a busy day yesterday. They handled 25 cases, the beds being full nearly all the time. Most of the cases were heart attacks. Two were serious, but with constant care they were able to leave the hospital in the
