P. E. ISLAND BY-ELECTION
 August 18th is Date Set for Contest in Fourth District of Prince County.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., July 29.-The by-election in the fourth district of Prince county will be held on August 18.
 Hon. Joseph Head, having resigned his seat to contest the district again.

The people pronounced their verdict in favor of the government in the first district of Queens on July 7. The captain is a representative who has large business interests throughout the county.

MILLIONS OF LOGS HELD UP IN THE MAINE BOOMS

very little channel at the latter place in low water.

Witnesses mentioned the Tilley Rocks Mills Bar and Grand Bar.

Mr. Gregory, "Coming to Woodstock, I suppose there is a log jam."

Mr. Gregory-"Oh, yes."
 "Coming down river witness said there were Indian Bar, River Island, and the Paddy Bar."

Witnesses said that during the freshet period the bars had been referred to offering no obstruction to driving. The water was high, generally, about the 25th of May. The river only remained at its highest pitch two or three days.

The best time for driving logs from Grand Rapids was during the week following May 24th. The water is usually dead low about July 1st. Each fall of water increases the difficulties of driving. If he were driving, he would like to be clear of White Rapids before July 1st. From six feet of water over a log is required for fair driving.

Witness had been inspector of driving for St. John River Company for two years. His duties were to see that the contractor starts from Grand Falls, he takes the logs then available. The first section of the drive extends to Woodstock, which had been of great assistance in driving. It cost $2,500 and gave six feet of water over a 1,200 acre lake. Fraser & Sons had a storage dam at Trousers Lake which carried an eight-foot head.
 It spread over a large square and had proved very efficient.

Witness, being questioned in regard to Temiscouate Lake said it was twenty-eight miles long and about one mile wide. The Madawaska River, which drained it, was about twenty-one miles long.

To Mr. Jones witness said he was at the VanBuren works in 1906. There were some logs which remained there during the entire season. He would say that there were a few millions of such logs.
 He did not remember who owned the logs.

Cross-examined, witness said that the plan of sorting logs at VanBuren was the same as employed at Douglas booms.
 He did not know of any other method of stopping logs on the St. John River, for sorting purposes, except by holding booms.

Mr. Gregory announced that contractor Scott, of the Corporation Drive, would be called to testify at a later stage, but he had no other witnesses ready.

The commission adjourned to meet at St. John on Tuesday week. Later on it will hold meetings at Bangor and Calais.

WE'RE FOR 'EM
AND 'AGIN 'EM

The Longshoremen Blight the Swelling Hopes of the Suffragette!

(New York Herald)
 "All those in favor of giving women the ballot shout 'aye,'" said Mrs. Sofia M.
 Lohinger, commander in chief of the suffragette squad that swept down on West street at noon yesterday.

"Aye," roared the assembled long and short shoremen, with a union that rocked the neighboring buildings.

"Bully for you!" said Mrs. Lohinger enthusiastically. "You have more intelligence than some of those mollycoddles in Wall Street. Now, all those against giving women the ballot shout 'no'."

"No!" came the lusty response.
 "Are you sure you understand me?" shouted Mrs. Lohinger, getting desperate.

"No!" came the grand chorus again.
 "In heaven's name, don't you mean know what you want?" pleaded Mrs. Helen Murphy. "You can't vote yes and no."

"Oh, yes we can," yelled some one in the crowd.

"Isn't this heart-breaking?" asked Miss Murphy of the reporters. "And they've been so attentive we were sure we had converted them. Wait till I ask one of them, to see if they really understand our cause."

Miss Murphy hastened to the side of a delicate looking citizen who stood about six feet and averaged about fifty pounds to the foot. He had just finished a solo on an ear of corn and was picking up the teeth with a bale hook. His voice was as soothing as the coo of an asthmatic iron worker. He was well level, despite his rough exterior. As she approached him he rubbed aingham sleeve across his grimy face and removed a heavy winter cap.

"How did you like the meeting?" asked Miss Murphy.

"Sweetest thing we've had down this way in a long time. I think you did well to 'row away yer bonnets and tambores,' 'De gang don't fall for dat stuff any more.'"

"But we're not Salvation Army folk," laughed Miss Murphy. "We're trying to get votes for women."

"Women ought to have votes," said the longshoreman. "If dey kin have tunnel cars to themselves dere's no reason why dey shouldn't have boats. Dere's nuff boats afloat."

For one whole hour they had stood in the broiling sun expounding the principle of equal suffrage for the sexes, and the net result of their talk was one cent.
 "We're a youth of seventeen who is anxious to vote himself, but as he does not live in the right kind of a district he has to wait till four years. He was representative in a lopsided straw hat with a pistachio band, and low shoes with the other spokes.

He had interviewed him
