

KREMER AND FERGUSON ARE SLATED FOR MOUND DUTY TODAY

RAIN MAY CAUSE POSTPONEMENT OF CONTEST TODAY

Pitching of "Vic" Aldridge Features Yesterday's Game

RAINY
WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—A chill, drizzling rain that began falling at about 8 o'clock this morning was threatening to cause postponement today of the third world series battle.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—The next act in the world series drama will be staged in Washington, home of the Senators, today. The Senators will "pitch" their battle for the 1925 baseball crown with the Pittsburgh Pirates, after breaking even in the first two games of the series played in the smoke city.

Whether the great battle will be renewed today was doubtful this morning, however. There was a fine drizzling rain falling when the fans awoke, and it seemed doubtful whether conditions this afternoon would make a game possible, though many fans were hopeful that a sudden clearing of the weather might prevent a postponement, and hundreds of them were out at the park in the waiting line, soaked but hopeful.

Fighting hard for every advantage they have gained in an ebbing and flowing battle of pitching genius, defensive skill and batting punch, the two great teams have every incentive before them in the third game, which is slated to see Alex Ferguson, right-handed veteran, take the mound for Washington against Ray Kremer.

For the Senators it is a homecoming before the notables and the everyday fans who have watched and cheered their sensational climb to baseball glory. For Pittsburgh it is a crisis in their fight to come back to heights they have not scaled in 16 years.

DOUBT ABOUT BLUEGE.

Chief among these stars the Senators' followers will welcome back is Walter Johnson, whose great right arm subdued the Pirates in the first game, gaining a triumph that kept the champions on even terms with their rivals in spite of Vic Aldridge's victory over Stanley Coveleskie yesterday in the second game, a setback that spelled added disaster in the injury to Ossie Bluege, third baseman, who went out of the game after being hit in the back of the head by a pitched ball. Bluege came back with the team, but doubt remained this morning as to whether he would be in condition to go back in the lineup in the event of a game being played this afternoon. In this respect the weather man appeared early today to be backing the Senators. With Bluege's brilliant fielding and batting missing, the Senators' lineup undoubtedly is under a very severe handicap, especially since another unusually reliable infield cog, Roger Peckinpaugh, has experienced an unexpected slump and has rolled up three errors in two games. Delay would be all to the good for Washington, therefore as reports were this morning that while Bluege

Track and Field Meet For Girls In City Is Arranged For October 24

Along The Sport Trail

By JOHN J. DUNLOP.

WRITING in the Halifax Herald, "J. E. A." says: "Nova Scotia carrying the M. P. B. by, and if the writer of this column were president, he would keep the Saint John crowd where they belong, which Mr. Millie will no doubt do. How about Nova Scotia having an association independent of the C. A. A. U. New Brunswick and the rest?" We would like to point out that the "Saint John crowd" referred to is not alone in its protest over naming Halifax as the place for the annual Springhill amateur winners of the Nova Scotia baseball championship this year, and Amherst A. A. are definitely known to be opposed to this, and probably some other Nova Scotia clubs. Not to mention the Prince Edward Island clubs. All the "Saint John crowd" have done this year is to provide a Maritime championship baseball team; a Maritime championship basketball team, and the champion all-around athlete of Canada, who won his spurs at a meet in Halifax. Not to mention Maritime championship speed-skaters. Sure, Nova Scotia carries sport along down here.

SO FAR as we can learn there is not any desire on the part of New Brunswick clubs to smash up the branch now that matters are getting strongly organized, nor does there seem to be any hulla-balloo from Nova Scotia clubs to withdraw from the Canadian Amateur Athletic Union. The line of reasoning of "J. E. A." is a bit difficult to follow on this matter. If a justifiable protest made by the majority of clubs in the province is to be taken into consideration by the President Millie, it is not a pre-emptive move to withdraw from the Canadian Amateur Athletic Union, one is inclined to question the motives underlying such a proposal. Saint John clubs and others have their protest, but there is not a breath of a threat to bust up the union because it is not acted on. We are in the union to stay because we believe it to be the best thing that ever happened amateur sport in this section. Just one instance alone—Halifax itself has benefitted to the extent of being granted the Dominion track and field championship meets within three years. The M. P. B. has its faults, but what organization has but what union there is strength. Nova Scotia clubs must know that the "Saint John crowd" is not blaming them for the arbitrary action of one man. That's sure. Positive. Definite.

would hardly be fit for a strenuous contest this afternoon, there is every prospect that another twenty-four hours' rest would put him back into shape. "Buddy" Myer, a recruit from New Orleans, filled Bluege's post for the last part of yesterday's game and handled himself well, but his presence added an uncertain quantity because of his inexperience.

THREE HOME RUNS.

Two home runs off Coveleskie and some brilliant pitching by Aldridge spelled the downfall of the Senators yesterday in as close a world's series battle that has ever been waged. Glenn Wright, who led the score for Pittsburgh with a homer after Joe Judge had put the Pirates in the lead with a circuit drive and Cuyler came through with the thrust that clinched the game, a drive that hopped into the right field bleachers and scored Eddie Moore ahead of him. Moore was on base through an error by Peck. Twice, Aldridge for his part, choked off Washington after the bases had been filled with none out. In the fifth he relieved the heavy artillery—Rice, Stan Harris and Gossin—without a run being scored. In the ninth, facing the same situation, he escaped with only one tally going across, that a sacrifice fly by Bob Veach, pinch hitter. Thus Washington had its big opportunity to break through but failed where the club usually has measured up to its emergencies. Rice, in a similar situation the day before, for instance, had driven in the deciding run, but yesterday he was the last man out in the ninth inning rally with two runners on bases.
