PAUPER WINS FIGHT FOR FORTUNE SHARE

Aged Almshouse Inmate in Pennsylvania Will Receive Part of $2,000,000.

Bloomsburg, Pa., Oct. 22.—James Hendershot, aged 65, went to bed in the almshouse of the Bloomsburg poor district a homeless pauper. Next morning he woke up to find himself a comparatively rich man.

"That's fine! I guess I will have to leave here now, but I'll wait until I get the money," he said, when informed that, as one of the cousins contesting the will of the late Mrs. Abigail A. Geisinger of Danville, he would benefit from the settlement of the case out of court.

Hendershot, a first cousin, had been cut off without a cent in the will, which left an estate variously estimated at from $2,000,000 to $6,000,000, payable to the Geisinger Hospital and the Geisinger Home for Friendless Women in Danville. With three other cousins he started a contest of the will.

The case had passed through various stages, in each of which the cousins had won a victory, and trial of the case was scheduled to start next Monday.

Mrs. Geisinger built the Geisinger Hospital at a cost of about $1,500,000 and endowed it heavily, and at her death left a home here for the Home for Friendless Women.

The amount involved in the settlement was not disclosed, but it was said to be "a nice sum." Henry M. Hinkley of Riverside, one of the trustees of the Home for Friendless Women, said the amount of the settlement would not interfere in any way with the work of either institution.

The contest of the will was brought on the ground that Mrs. Geisinger was not of sound mind when she made the will, and that undue influence had been exerted on her to obtain the money for the charities.

VEGETABLE DISPLAY DIFFICULT TO BEAT

Wide Variety of Features Marks the Fair at Caraquet

Bathurst, Oct. 20.—The agricultural exhibition held recently at Caraquet under the auspices of the Agricultural Society was a much greater success than anticipated, due to the splendid teamwork of the different committees in charge. Special mention is being made of the secretary, J. Alexander Branch, who is the originator of the idea.

In the opinion of the judges who played the awards, it would be difficult to have found a better display of vegetables and domestic products in any other exhibition of the province.

The livestock sections were not very well filled, but these classes were very richly represented by the splendid display of vegetables, especially roots and potatoes.

During the exhibition poultry killing demonstrations by Antoine Goguen, of the Federal Department of Agriculture, and a judging contest for pens, boys and girls, conducted by E. F. Pinau, of the Federal Livestock Branch, attracted a large attendance.

The judging of the different classes was performed by Miss Elizabeth Nutt, director of the provincial committee for the livestock section, Miss Estelle LeBlanc, assistant director, Thomas Rutherford, superintendent of the provincial livestock branch, E. F. Pinau, N. B. sheep promoter of the Federal Livestock Branch, and J. E. McIntyre, agricultural representative at Bathurst.

HARVEST SEASON ONE OF THE BEST

Hopewell Hill, Oct. 17.—The Shepody section has participated in full measure in the enjoyment of the unsurpassed fall weather with which so many parts of the province have been favored. Such October weather here has not often been seen, the warmth and sunshine making the month a veritable summer.

The farmers have found these conditions very favorable for housing the grain, especially so for potatoes, digging, which is now in progress. Taken right through the month of October, the best harvest seasons here in years. The semblance to real summer was kept up by a violent thunder storm on Sunday night. Ripe strawberries, too, were picked in October.

Joseph J. McKee is still at the Riverbank Hospital, where he had quite a severe operation on his foot performed. Isaac Kinnis, of Germaintown, is also a patient at the hospital.

Death of Mrs. R. E. Hall, Sussex Corner

Sussex, N. B., Oct. 22.—On October 17 the death of Florence B. Hall, wife of Ruel E. Hall, occurred at her home, Sussex Corner, after an illness of only ten days. Mrs. Hall was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Robinson, who survive her. Besides her husband she leaves two little daughters, Laura, aged five, and Florence, aged three years; also four sisters and three brothers. The sisters are Mrs. A. E. Brewster, Mrs. Wm. O. Whipple, Mrs. Guy E. Brammen, all of Sussex Corner, and Miss Clara M. Robinson of St. John. The brothers are Walter, Berceley and Elmer, all at home.

Service was conducted at her late residence on Friday afternoon by Rev. W. E. Best, rector of St. Mary's, of which she was a member, assisted by Rev. Canon Sheven of Sussex, and Rev. Mr. Durkin of Penobscot. Interment took place in the Robinson cemetery. Floral offerings were numerous and beautiful showing the esteem in which Mrs. Hall was held.

TWO HOUSES BURN IN BATHURST FIRES

Bathurst, Oct. 21.—After several months of freedom from fire, Bathurst broke its encouraging record on Friday morning, when an alarm about 6 o'clock brought out the firemen for a blaze in Fred Chamberlain's house at the corner of Murray and Munroe streets. The fire was making great headway when the firemen arrived and with their usual dispatch, stopped its advance. The ell of the house was practically ruined by fire and water and the main part of the house suffered severely from smoke and water.

Early on Saturday morning the house of Mr. Robert Good in St. Andrew street was discovered to be on fire and for the first time before the firemen reached the scene the blaze spread rapidly and practically gutted the house before it could be controlled. The occupants, who were all asleep at this early hour, were compelled to make a hasty escape from the burning building and were able to salvage very little of their belongings, so that Mr. Good's loss is a very heavy one.

FIND HIGHWAYMAN WAS REALLY MOOSE

Bathurst, Oct. 21.—The fendish trick of stretching a wire across the Miramichi road about two miles on this side of the Depot Camp last Sunday evening, an act which frightened a passing motor party so badly that they warned others to avoid the place, turned out to be the work of a moose, and not the act of a bold, bad highwayman. It appears that the telephone wire connecting the Depot Camp with Bathurst was detached from three poles in a recent blow and was lying close to the road. A big moose hurrying away from hunters on the west side of the road, got tangled in this wire, and in his frantic efforts to disentangle himself, pulled the wire completely off the poles for some distance. What he really did to avoid the place, turned out to be the work of a moose, and not the act of a bold, bad highwayman. The automobile broke the wire and apparently released the animal as well as themselves from what appeared to be an awkward predicament.

The automobile party did not, of course, see the moose, and the latter did not trouble to go back to explain to them that the wire was intended. He left his tracks so plainly, however, that the incident was easily explained. The moose apparently walked off with about 10 feet of the telephone wire, as that much of it was missing when the telephone line was repaired.
