The reception given by Mrs. J. F. Estey and Mrs. D. P. Mahoney at the latter's residence, 239 Princess street, was a brilliant event, when Mrs. Estey and her daughter were at home to about 125 of their friends on Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Estey received in a handsome sequin gown of black Canton crepe, while Mrs. Mahoney wore a chic robe of embossed sapphire blue velvet over chiffon on a foundation of satin of the same exquisite shade. Calla lillies were arranged artistically in the reception room and living room. sisted Mrs. Barnes at the supper hour.

The stock should be well seasoned with a chicken or veal stock.

These rules can be reduced.

(Unless otherwise specified, these recipes are planned for four persons.) SOUP BALLS.

Old-world housekeepers have many recipes and ways of doing things that we who strive for efficiency and economy might well copy.

For instance, we find their soup much different from the sort of concection we call soup.

The dumplings or "quenelles" the French or English put in their soups have great food value and are so different from our own sor tof soup garnishings.

Spoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, tablespoon minced parsley, I cup dried bread crumbs, 2 more eggs, milk.

Mix meat with bread crumbs, salt, pepper and parsley. Add eggs well beaten and enough milk to make quite moist. Mix thoroughly. Beat one or two eggs slightly with water. Add salt and flour to make a stiff dough. Knead in as much flour as possible and roll very thin on a floured molding board. Cover with a towel and let stand half an hour. Cut in squares. Put a small spoonful of the meat mixture in the centre of each square. Bring the edges. Dampen slightly to make stick and drop into boiling stock. Boil rapidly for half an hour. Serve in plates of soup.

ent from our own sor tof soup garnishings.

These little "meat balls" would be ideal in the luncheon soup, making little more than a salad of some sort necessary to complete the meal.

Liver Balls.

One-half pound liver, 2 eggs, 1 cup dried bread crumbs, 1 tablespoon flour, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon nutmeg, 1-8 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon nutmeg, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, few gratings lemon rind.

Parboil liver in boiling water. Drain and put through fine knife of food chopper. Add bread crumbs, flour, salt, pepper and nutmeg. Mix well two dessertspoons and drop into boiling stock. Reduce heat to prevent with a chicken or veal stock.

These rules can be reduced one-half and the garnishings made very small to serve with a dinner soup, if the hostess is in quest of "something different."

Tiny ham balls, not much larger than a marble, could be served in a cup of consomme for dinner or for a "high tea."
