GREATEST GATE IN SPORT HISTORY

Million Dollars Receipts Expected for the Dempsey-Carpenter Bout—$650,000 in Already—The Willard-Dempsey Encounter Netted $452,000.
New York, June 15.—The Dempsey-Carpenter boxing bout for the world's championship at Jersey City, July 2, will draw the greatest "gate" in the history of sport.
A month before the fight, Promoter "Tex" Rickard announced that the seat sales totalled $650,000. Since that day, the sale of all seats has gone on briskly except for the 850 pasteboards, which are exhausted, and the general admission seats, to be placed on sale the day of the fight. Rickard estimates that approximately 45,000 persons will pay $10,000,000 to view the ring action at Boyle's Thirty Acres.
Those figures will eclipse by far all previous records for ring contests or any other sport in this country. The Willard-Dempsey battle at Toledo, O., which established the previous record, drew $451,000 at the box office, a puny figure as compared with what the coming spectacle will attract.

The Harvard-Yale football game and the Indianapolis Speedway Races are annually reckoned among the largest and most widely patronized sporting events in this country. Last fall, 73,000 persons were jammed into the Yale Bowl when Harvard met the Bulldogs, and the total receipts were approximately $250,000, about one-quarter of the amount which will be paid for the coming fight.

WHAT POLAND NEEDS.
Money to Help Equip Factories One of The Most Important
In reviewing the outlook for business in Poland, Caesar Lonzinski, co-Director of the Polish Official Purchasing Bureau in the United States, who has just returned from Poland, says that it will not be necessary to import large quantities of foodstuffs, as the condition of the crops is favorable. Supplies of tools, equipment parts and chemical apparatus will, however, be needed to assist in the reconstruction of industry.

"It is difficult for Americans to realize," he said, "that, in spite of the low value of the Polish mark, Poland is very much alive. Everybody is working. The Polish farmers, the largest class in the country, are better off than they ever have been. Even in the towns where the food shortage has been felt, the most standard of living is improving, despite the influx of refugees from Russia. The building trade is very active, and new houses and factories are going up all over the country—a sure sign of recovery."

Polish manufacturers are in the market to purchase American tools and machinery needed to equip their factories for raising production in the basic industries to the pre-war level. It is hoped that it will not be necessary for Poland to import large quantities of foodstuffs this year. The present outlook for the crops is favorable and barring untoward events, domestic production should supply the country's needs in this respect. But large quantities of machine tools, electrical machinery, chemical apparatus and equipment parts for the existing factories will have to be imported by Poland from America or from European competitors in the lines according to the attractiveness of the terms offered.

"What Poland most desires from this country is the investment of American capital in Polish industries. This can
