ALL TO THE HOSPITAL
Spokane, Wash., May 29—Falling from a motorcycle while directing an ambulance to his home to take his wife and new-born baby to the hospital, F. C. Miller sustained a broken leg and the ambulance had to take the whole family to the hospital. On turning in the call for the ambulance, Miller said that he would meet the machine at the city limits and pilot the way from the main-traveled road to his home, about ten miles east of Spokane. After a ride of about a mile from the meeting point his automobile skidded as he turned in to his home and his leg was caught beneath it, snapping the bone.
