Weak, Sick Men, Here Is Strength and Happiness

If you are losing the strength of youth, and can see evidence, from day to day, that your physical system is going to decay, you should, in common justice to your future happiness, take steps to check this.

Don't make the mistake of thinking that this can't be done; it can and has been done in thousands of cases. Don't deceive yourself into believing that it is natural for any man to thus exhaust his powers.

Nature is appealing to you every moment to save yourself. The slight pains that you feel, the momentary aches of weakness, the periodical loss of memory, dulness of brain, drowsiness—all point to the necessity of curing yourself now. We have a positive cure for you in our Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt.

It will make you strong. It will send the life blood dancing through your veins; you will feel the exhilarating spark warm your frame, the bright flush will come to your eye and a firm grip to your hand, and you will be able to grasp your neighbor and feel that others are capable of doing it. It is not impossible to you. This grand appliance has brought strength, ambition and happiness to thousands in the past year.

It is a quick and heating cure for all Nervous Debility, Weakness, Rheumatism, Pains in the Back and Hips (Sciatica), Lumbago, Constipation, Indigestion, Weak Kidneys, Falling Memory, and all evidences of breaking down. It cures when all else has failed.

My arguments are good, my system is good, but I know you haven't time to study these. You want proof, and I give you that, and lots of it. When your own neighbors tell you I cured them you will know I did it.

Dear Sir—After using one of your Electric Belts, I can heartily recommend it to anyone afflicted with kidney trouble. I was troubled with a weak ankle for over twenty years, which it has completely cured, and after one month's lapse since using it I have had no return of the trouble. I have found it an excellent remedy for throat trouble of long standing.

H. F. STENBAUGH, 216 King St. E. Hamilton, Ont.

Dear Sir—This is to certify that I was cured of a sore, weak back, which bothered me a great deal at times, especially after heavy lifting. Your Belt cured me completely, and my back is perfectly strong now, and I can do heavy lifting without any bad after-effect.

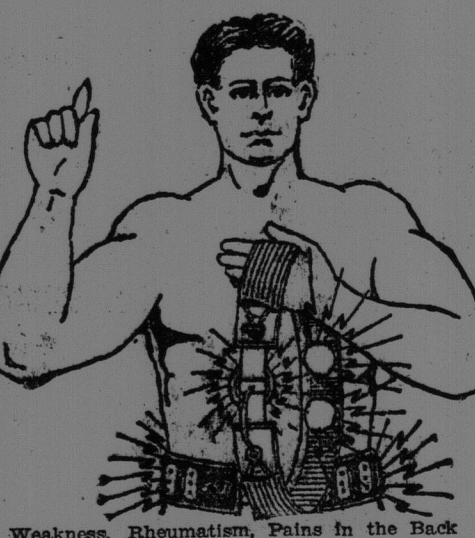

W. G. ARNELL, Poplar, Ont.

If you are skeptical, all I ask is reasonable security for the price of the Belt, and you can

Pay When Cured

If I don't cure you, my Belt comes back to me, and we quit friends. You are out the time you spend on it—wearing it while you sleep—nothing more.

This appliance has cured in almost every town and city in the country, and if you will write me I will send you testimonials given to me by people that are probably well known to you. My Belt not only cures weakness, but Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago, Backache, Kidney Trouble, Nervousness, Constipation, Indigestion and Stomach Trouble. I have a beautiful 80-page illustrated book, which I will mail, sealed, to any address. This book is full of lots of good, interesting reading for men. Call today. If you can't call send coupon for Free Book.

UNIQUE IN ANNALS OF ARCHAEOLOGY

Discovery of Ancient Temple in Rome an Important One—Three Corpses
Law in Row.

ROME, Feb. 16.—The recent discovery of a Mithraic temple at the foot of the Janiculum is important and is likely to lead to the discovery of a full explanation of the secret rites of Mithraism. The discovery of an altar intact, with the remains of sacrifice, eggs, shells and the bones of animals carefully disposed with their skulls to the northward and three human corpses in a row is unprecedented. It is well known that the Mithraic brotherhood were secret sects with mysterious human practices, which, it is believed included human sacrifices, and have never been revealed. A large wooden shed has been erected and the entire explored area is guarded day and night by the police. Meanwhile the excavations are still going on.

The most curious discovery was in a hollow space in the base of a large triangular altar, where a small naked statue of Chronos, about a foot high, was found. It was made of clay and had once been gilded. It was surrounded by a serpent of the same material. In the folds of the serpent's coils around the feet of the deity were several eggs. The whole was in a state of perfect preservation. This find was possibly connected with some rite of consecration and is believed to be unique in the annals of archaeology.

BRYAN NEVER TO RUN FOR PRESIDENT AGAIN, SAYS A CLOSE FRIEND

Nebraska Bitter Over Third Defeat, But Clings to Leadership.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—"I have not seen any account of the way Bryan takes his defeat, his present position, his view of the election and the ideas his friends have of his future," said a personal friend of William J. Bryan today, one who took a very active part in last year's Democratic national campaign.

"So here is the situation on all these matters. It is the result of careful inquiry, correspondence, travel, personal meetings, and, as near as possible, represents the most accurate view of himself and his near friends at the present time.

"Mr. Bryan," said his friend, "will not be a candidate for the presidential nomination again, but he is determined that the Democratic nominee in 1912 shall be a man who was loyal to him last November, and who is known to hold what Mr. Bryan calls 'advanced and progressive Democratic views'."

LOOKING FOR A CANDIDATE

"During the next four years new men and issues are expected to make their appearance, and an entirely new political alignment may be expected within the Democratic party. At present Mr. Bryan does not look with favor on the presidential aspirations of Governor John A. Johnson, of Minnesota, or Governor Harmon, of Ohio, although reduced to a choice of the last two, the Nebraska prefers the Ohio executive.

Bryan regards Senator-elect Shively, of Indiana, as a 'progressive' Democrat; also Senator Chamberlain, of Oregon; Governor John Burke, of Missouri, who is to be Democratic leader of the House of Representatives at Washington after March 4.

"The friends of Bryan don't yet regard Governor Shallenbarger, of Nebraska, or Governor Marshall, of Indiana, as 'progressive,' although there is hope that their work will receive the approval of Bryan and that their names may be added to his favored class. Bryan will continue to write for his newspaper and lecture constantly for four years.

BRYAN BITTERLY DISAPPOINTED

"His income ranges from $50,000 to $80,000 a year. He has been broken up and bitterly disappointed over his defeat, for which he was unprepared. He has taken much longer to get over it than any previous reverse in politics.

"To friends he has revealed his belief that the chief cause of the heavy vote for Taft in large cities was the defection of Catholic voters. And his friends among that persuasion are trying to argue him out of the notion."

KAISER IN ROLE OF EMIGRATION AGENT

Lends Money to Poor Noblemen to Begin
Farming in Africa.

BERLIN, Feb. 16.—The German emperor has become an emigration agent. He is desirous that impetuous aristocrats who cannot make a living in Germany should emigrate to German Southwest Africa and become useful members of the German colony.

He has lent Baron de Schimidt $12,500 to enable him to settle in German Southwest Africa and begin life again as a farmer.

Baron de Schimidt was a landowner in Alsace-Lorraine, whose estate was near that of the Kaiser at Uxville, and with whom his majesty was very friendly. The baron lost his money, and was obliged to sell his estate. Finally he became involved in grave financial difficulties.

In these circumstances the Kaiser offered him a loan of $12,500 on condition that he should emigrate and begin farming in Southwest Africa. His Majesty desired that Baron de Schimidt be followed by other members of the aristocracy who find it difficult to live comfortably in Germany.

Baron de Schimidt has purchased land near Windhoek, and is already leading the simple life as a colonial farmer. His wife and four grown-up sons accompanied him, and are sharing the hardships of his new existence.

BOSTON SPORTS SEE SOME GOOD BOXING

BOSTON, Mass., Feb. 16.—Dave Deshier of Tommy Quill, of Brockton, at the end of a fast twelve round bout at the Army A. A. tonight, was but was closely fought throughout. Deshier made a strong showing at the outset and gained a lead which Quill, though he gained power in the last four rounds, could not overcome.

In the semi-finals Billy Rolfe of South Boston defeated Johnny Carroll of Brockton in eight rounds but found hard work out for him to get the decision.

The preliminary went the full eight rounds and was called a draw for "Porky" Flynn of Boston and Tim Sullivan of Lawrence.

A QUINCE AFFAIR

A prominent lawyer of Vicksburg, Miss., who after two months of widowhood took unto himself another spouse, was very indignant when he read in one of the local papers the following notice of his marriage:—The wedding was very quiet, owing to a recent bereavement in the bridegroom's family."

DIVORCE WITH PRIVILEGE OF RE-MARRIAGE DENIED

The Outcome of the Stirling Divorce Suit
Indicated by Presiding Judge's
Comments.

EDINBURGH, Feb. 15.—Comments made by Lord Guthrie, presiding at the trial and counter divorce suits of John Alexander Stirling and Mrs. Clara Elizabeth Stirling, during "Counsellor Clyde's concluding speech on behalf of Stirling, Saturday, indicate that Stirling will be granted a divorce and that his wife, too, will be granted a decree. If this is done, it is the general opinion that a proviso will be included in the decree, preventing the marriage of either.

When Clyde mentioned Mrs. Stirling's letter to her husband regarding money as "calumnious," Lord Guthrie said: "One hundred and fifty years ago this would mean a death."

"But now our only means of redress is a lawsuit," Clyde answered.

Concluding his address, Clyde said that the conduct of Mrs. Stirling and Northland since the former had left her husband could be interpreted only as a mutual acknowledgment. To the Lord Guthrie said:

"It is true that Mrs. Stirling's disposition has been proved to be most unstable."

Clyde contended that Stirling had been first in his wife's wrongdoings; that Mrs. Stirling's acquaintance with Northland had begun before her marriage to Stirling when she was still an actress in the United States, and from a bohemian friendship ripened into an overpowering passion, until finally she found herself unable to live without Northland.

"While Lord Northland denied on the stand that he loved Mrs. Stirling," Clyde said, "his letters to her clearly showed that he did." Mrs. Stirling's letter to Lord Northland following her trouble with her husband was the cry of a person in pain. It came straight from the heart and proved conclusively that she passionately loved Northland and had been giving him all the love that she had denied her husband.

"This letter is more than a declaration of love. It involves the admission of impropriety with Northland. Mrs. Stirling found on her visit to America, that she probably loved Northland more than she even suspected. She was ready to admit 'her' is Miss Lillian Winters. 'I'm awfully anxious to get back to Skirts again,' she admitted to Chief of Detectives Smith this afternoon, 'and I don't want to ever be anything again but just a girl.'"

Miss Winters after the trial was locked up in the Central station, and appeared in police court and was fined $100 for failing and then took an appeal of her case. Detectives in the meantime had visited a house where "William" Winters, a star boxer, was known and lolly good fellow and there they discovered articles and wearing apparel which caused them to grow suspicious. One of them came back, passed through the bars of her cell, and said: "Come over here and talk to me, sis."

Miss Winters, taken completely off her guard, broke down under a rapid fire of questions and admitted her sex. She said she eloped with a man in Galveston in 1900, dressed in boy's clothing. Many months after the Galveston food she says she learned that both her parents perished in it. She deserted her husband, Dallas, Texas, and "became" her way North. She continued matters thought it best to continue wearing a boy's suit.

"My first job was at Quincy, Ill., posting bills and press notices," she said. "I became proficient and continued this work for two years. I wanted to live in a larger city and came to St. Louis in the latter part of 1903. I have lived all this time as a man, and not one person has suspected that I was otherwise. The impulse has all the time been strong within me to break away from the men I was thrown in contact with, and while I conducted myself as one of the boys, I longed to smoke, chew and drink beer occasionally. I hated it all."

Lillian's nine year masquerade was not without its amusing compensation in life affairs. "I never made love myself," she replied to a question, "my girls have told me how handsome I was and how they loved me."

WOMEN BEQUEATHS $300,000 TO HELP

New York Millionaire Leaves $1,000 to Each of Employees in Factory.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—"I hereby give and bequeath the sum of $1,000 to each and every one of the employees among nearly three hundred employees, who will be beneficiaries. In a number of instances, this will be the second time in six years that certain beneficiaries have been benefited through the beneficence of the Smith family.

When Warren B. Smith, brother of Mrs. Cochran, died six years ago, he made generous provisions in his will for a number of the older employees of the last two months upwards of thirty-five municipalities have voted in favor of procuring power from the Hydro-Electric Commission, thus ending the interest taken in the subject by the people.

GOING TOO FAR

At a school exhibition a juvenile elocutionist got up to recite the first place of his life. He was ambitious, he wished to make a great success of his piece, and he had been told by his teacher that the secret of elocution was the gesture—for every phrase its fitting gesture. The opening line of the boy's selection was, "O, come little fit of fire." The overzealous boy, to fit its proper gesture to this line, lifted up the tail of his coat and held it out in a horizontal position.

IN A DEADLY DECLINE

Saved Just in Time by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

"Before my daughter Lena began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills she looked more like a corpse than a live girl," says Mrs. Geo. A. Myles of South vention food she says she learned that both her parents perished in it. She deserted her husband, Dallas, Texas, and "became" her way North. She continued matters thought it best to continue wearing a boy's suit.

"My first job was at Quincy, Ill., posting bills and press notices," she said. "I became proficient and continued this work for two years. LABOR TROUBLES IN A SHOE FACTORY

NEWBURYPORT, Mass., Feb. 16.—Forty cutters employed by the C. A. Ellis Shoe Manufacturing went on strike late today. The head of the firm is out of town and the cutters refuse to make any statement of the cause of trouble, but it is understood that the men recently submitted a price list calling for a higher wage scale and not receiving a favorable reply decided to quit work.

Between 400 and 500 hands are employed in the factory, but it is not expected the strike will immediately affect the rest of the employees, the cutting work being three weeks ahead of the rest of the mill.

UNNAMED PERSON ACCUSED OF CRIME

Scheme to Ensure Enquiry into the Death of M. Faure.

PARIS, Feb. 14.—M. Delahaye, a member of the Chamber of Deputies, has lodged a complaint against an unnamed person, who he charges with assassinating Felix Faure, formerly President of the Republic. The magistrate promised to forward the complaint to the public prosecutor, but pointed out that only a person having a direct interest in the affair could lodge a complaint.

M. Delahaye's object is to prevent an enquiry into M. Faure's death being proscribed by the lapse of time, as it would be on Feb. 16, ten years after his death. Prosecution will fall if the prosecutor takes effect to the complaint by opening an enquiry.

It has been freely stated that the enquiry into M. Faure's death was purposely postponed until after Feb. 16, owing to the presence of M. Steinhilf when M. Faure was seized by his fatal illness. Mr. Delahaye, in his complaint, says he is ready to prove that Mr. Faure's death was announced in Antwerp and Philadelphia several hours before it occurred.

PROFIT-SHARING FOR GAS- WORKERS.

The directors of the Tottenham and Edmonton Gas Co. in England have decided to introduce a system of profit-sharing for their employees, to whom the scheme was explained at a meeting of 200 or 300 of the officers and workmen some time ago. The bonus will vary with the price of gas, and at the present rate will amount to £22 to £200 earned per annum.

MONCTON'S CREDIT EVIDENTLY GOOD

MONCTON, Feb. 16.—That Moncton's credit and future prospects stand high in the financial market is evidenced by the excellent price secured for the city bonds. Tenders for bonds to the amount of $15,000 were opened at a meeting of the finance committee this afternoon, and the tender of R. E. Currier & Co. of Halifax accepted, it being $103.51, a premium of $85.80 above par. A large number of tenders were received, including offers from St. John, Toronto, Montreal and city firms J. M. Robinson & Sons of St. John tendered $103.4 and W. F. Mahon & Co. of St. John tendered $103.17.

FRANTIC WOMEN

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Mrs. Emma Chatel, Valleyfield, Bellerive, Quebec, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I want to tell you that without Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I would not be alive. For months I suffered with painful and irregular periods and inflammation of the feminine organs. Doctors could do nothing for me, and said I must submit to an operation because I had a tumor.

"One of my cousins advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as it had cured her.

"I did so and now I have no pain and am entirely cured. Your remedy is deserving of great praise."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, etc. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

GRAND VICTORY FOR LIBERALS IN NOVA SCOTIA

HALIFAX, N. S., Feb. 16.—The Murray government and the Liberal party won a notable victory in Pictou county today, when R. H. McKay of Westville, Liberal, defeated Charles E. Tanner, leader of the Conservative party in provincial politics, by a majority of 259 in October. It only gave him 64 days.

The day was stormy, snow fell from morning till night, and liberals did not get their full vote out in country districts, where the vote of both parties was a rule, light.

The Liberals look upon the result as a complete answer to the strenuous campaign conducted against M. McDonald, M.P., a few months ago and a by no means uncertain hint to Conservative workers in the country that they must indulge in fair dealing in future contests.

"SETTING THE RIVER ON FIRE"

In old English times, when each family was obliged to sit its own flour, it sometimes happened that an energetic man would turn his sieve so rapidly as to cause it to catch fire. The style of sieve used in those days was called a "tense," and it became a customary saying that a lay man would never set the tense on fire. Now, it happens that the name of the river Thames is pronounced like the name of this old four sieve, and that is why today we say that a stupid person will never set the river on fire.

THE ORIGIN OF "NAVVIERS"

Railways may be said to run in the blood of Lord Brassey. His father, the humble son of a Cheshire yeoman, was among the first and the most successful exploiters of labor by navvies, or "navigators," as they were termed, in the construction of railway tracks.

Engineers in England, Europe and America sought his services, and so many were his undertakings that he came to have an army of 75,000 in his employ. Nearly 7,000 miles of railway were laid down under his direction, and the cost ran to close on £80,000,000.

THE REASON.

He—I cannot express to you my gratitude for your kindness in giving me the first dance last evening. She—Well, you see, it was a charity ball.

Why Baby's Own Soap Preserves Your Skin in Winter
