JACK TWIN IN A HARD FIGHT

Jack Johnson's Protege Had it on the Bald-Headed One at Pittsburg on Tuesday Night.

Though about 30 pounds lighter than the colored man, Jack ("Twin") Sullivan, of Boston, put up a hard and fast scrap at Pittsburg on Tuesday night against George Cotton, the protegee of Jack Johnson. Cotton is the man whom Johnson said could be made, with a year's training, good enough to beat Sam Langford.

Under Billy Corcoran, the Pittsburg trainer, Cotton showed much improvement in the ring. He stripped at least 205 pounds, while Sullivan did not appear to weigh more than 175. The first round was light, both men feeling out.

Toward the end of the second Cotton tried a lead and ran into straight left which sent him against the ropes and brought him back fighting wildly. He came down in the next round, however, and an effort on the part of Sullivan to make him lose his temper and head were of no avail.

The second and third rounds saw Sullivan punished a quite a bit, and in the fourth round he went to the floor, but more from his own misstep in getting away than from the blow delivered by Cotton. Some of Cotton's friends claimed a knockdown, but it was not one.

The fifth round was spent by Sullivan trying to draw his younger opponent into a trap, so that he might land a knockout blow, but it would not work. Cotton was too well backed by Corcoran in the corner. The fifth was a beautiful bit of milling, both men trying for a knockout, but neither was able to land a blow that looked anything like it.

While no decision was given, the newspapermen present decided that Cotton had the better of the fight.

ANOTHER BIG COBALT FIND

Special to The Standard. Montreal, Oct. 20.—A sharp advance today in La Rose mining stock which sold up to $4.70, a jump of 75 cents within a couple of days, aroused a good deal of speculation, but was explained by advices received this afternoon that within the past 30 days the La Rose Company has discovered a parallel vein to the original La Rose main vein. The new vein has been intersected from the old workings at the first, the intermediate and the 150 foot levels and is said to average five inches in width, the ore averaging in value from 2000 to 4000 ounces of silver to the ton. This is considered one of the most important discoveries made in the Cobalt camp within the last two years.

Chicago Beaten Again in Third of Post Season Contests--Yesterday's Game Was a Batting Festival--Murphy, Barry and Coombs Were the Stars

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 20.—Philadelphia came out here today and rubbed it in. The Athletics claimed their third successive victory of the world's championship series with the Chicago nationals to the tune of 12 to 5, and if the big pennant is not nailed to the Quaker City mast tomorrow, Connie Mack will be the most surprised gentleman on the baseball map.

Captain Chance was ordered from the field in the third inning for disputing a decision. In the three games so far, the easterners have piled every assortment of curves which the entire galaxy of Cub pitchers could offer. Only "King" Cole, the so-called pitching find of the year, remains to be seriously considered by Manager Chance and has been held back because of his inexperience in crucial games and a belief also that his assortment of shots is just what the Mackmen like. Mack will in all probability furnish local enthusiasts with a view of Bender tomorrow.

The big chief has a sorry collection of Cub scraps taken in that three-hit game at Philadelphia but his knife is newly sharpened for more. Who will go against him is a problem. May be "Three fingered" Brown, may be Cole. And then, there are Foxen, an untired man and Pfeiffer has been of little use this year.

It is a matter of indifference to Mr. Mack. He and his players regard the game tomorrow as a mere formality—a bit of red tape, with incidental profit of course—necessary to guarantee the title to the bunting.

The combat today was a slaughter. Big Ed Reulbach lasted just two innings, during which he allowed one single and two doubles, passed two batters and saw three runs cross the home plate. McIntyre was the next twirler led forth for slaughter. He pitched just one-third of an inning, but that was long enough for the visitors to hammer out nine singles, a home run and to send Davis to first rubbing his back where one of McIntyre's inshoots had hit him. With the assistance of a boot by Schulte, four runs were scored under his beneficent reign.

Coombs, Barry and Murphy Stars.

The bright particular stars of the day were Coombs, Barry and Murphy. Coombs allowed only six hits, passed four men and contributed a home bagger and a single which added three runs to the Philadelphia selection. Barry hit as if there were another automobile in sight. Also he figured in double plays. He made three hits, each one a double, drove in two runs, and himself reached the counting station thrice. It remained for Murphy, however, to electrify the crowd. His first noteworthy exploit was to smash the ball over the heads of the right field overflow into the regular bleachers for four sacks, driving in two runners ahead of him. At the time he didn't know how far the sphere had travelled, and stopped after covering the two bases allowed under the ground rules, for hits into the overflow. Umpire O'Day waved to him to come in which he did with half the team slapping him on the back.

The hit was more than a run counter, for it figured largely in the expulsion of Captain Chance from the grounds. Chance, joined by most of his men, surrounded O'Day in an endeavor to persuade him that the rules made all hits into the crowd at any point or distance doubles. The arbiter could not see it and when the Cub leader sought to prolong the argument, ordered him from the field. Archer, ordinarily a catcher, replaced him at the initial station.

Murphy's next sensational exhibition earned him an ovation. He ran back after what Zimmerman had marked for a double, jumped on the barrier in right field, grasped the ball by his finger nails, fell over backward into the crowd and presently emerged with the trophy still safe. Meanwhile Sheppard, thinking that there were two out, or that Murphy couldn't possibly have captured the drive, sped around the bases. He several times tried to find that he had been doubled at first.

Sheppard, faced Coombs four times and all but once was allowed to walk. He brought two runners to the plate and fielded his position without a flaw. Both of Schulte's hits were doubles. Tinker made three hits, one of which was a two bagger. His fielding was not up to his stick work however, two errors being charged against him. He negotiated the only stolen base of the day.

The brand of weather furnished constituted an argument against long schedules. Early in the morning it rained and while this shower passed, mist-like drops fell during much of the game. A chilling wind came from the northwest and the clouds were so overcast that the spectators had difficulty in keeping track of the ball. There were four thousand persons in line when the sale of general admission tickets began and when the turnstile count was completed, it was announced that 26,210 persons paid for their admission to the grounds.

(The details of the first three innings were not received.)

Fourth Inning. Philadelphia—Strunk flied out to Hoffman. Lord made a clean single to right center. Collins forced Lord at second. Pfeister to Zimmerman. Collins out stealing. No runs.

Chicago—Tinker singled to right. A double play disposed of Tinker and Kline. Barry to Collins. Davis. Pfeister out, Baker to Davis. No runs.

Fifth Inning. Philadelphia—Baker was retired. Zimmerman to Archer. Davis lined safely to left. Murphy sent a long fly to Hoffman. Barry forced Davis at second. Tinker to Zimmerman. No runs.

Chicago—Tinker singled to right. A double play disposed of Tinker and Kline. Barry to Collins. Davis. Pfeister out, Baker to Davis. No runs.

Sixth Inning. Philadelphia—Thomas grounded out. Tinker to Archer. Coombs hoisted an easy fly to Zimmerman. Strunk missed three good ones. No runs.

Chicago—Archer's in front of the plate put him out from Thomas to Davis. Zimmerman struck out. Baker took care of Steinfield's foul fly. No runs.

Seventh Inning. Philadelphia—Zimmerman made a neat one handed catch of Lord's liner. Steinfield speared Collins' hot grounder and threw the runner out at first. Steinfield immediately afterward fumbled Baker's grounder and the latter was safe. Davis smashed a single to right. Baker reaching second. Tinker fumbled Murphy's sharp grounder, filling the bases. Davis and Baker scored on Barry's double to left. This was Barry's third double. Thomas walked again, filling the bases. Murphy and Barry crossed home plate when Coombs singled over second. Strunk singled too hot for Tinker's stab and the bases were again filled. Lord hit to Zimmerman who tossed him out at first. Four runs.

Chicago—Tinker out, Baker to Davis. Kling retired, Barry to Davis. Pfeister struck out. No runs.

Eighth Inning. Philadelphia—Schulte gathered in Collins' fly. Baker retired via the Zimmerman-Archer route. Davis hit for two bags, unassisted by ground rules. Murphy was thrown out by Tinker. No runs.

Chicago—Sheppard took a free trip to first. Schulte lifted a fly to Murphy. Hoffman hit too hot for Baker who slowed up the ball, and it turned into a two bagger. Archer fanned. Sheppard scored on a passed ball. The ball hit the railing and under the ground rules Hoffman was scored. Murphy jumped into the crowd in the right field for a sensational catch of Zimmerman's heavy wallop. Two runs.

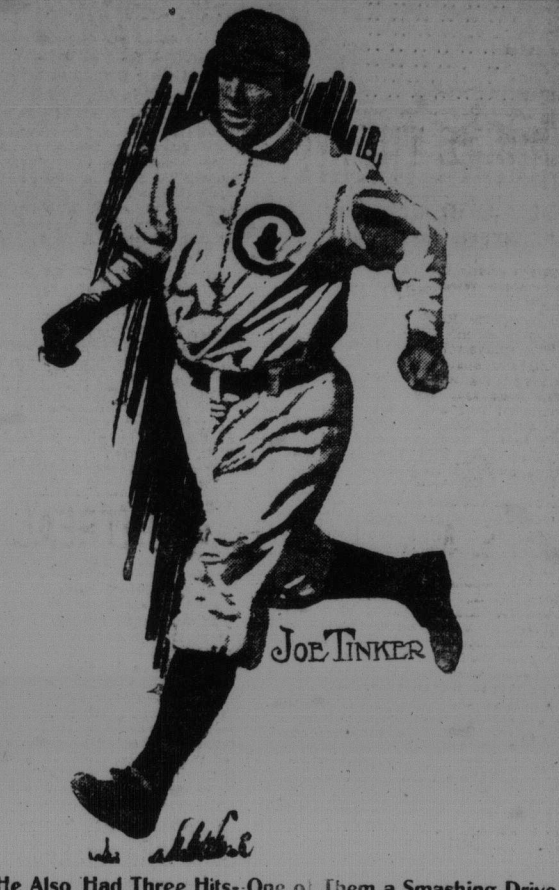

Ninth Inning. Philadelphia—Barry fouled out to Kling. Thomas out to Archer unassisted. Coombs sent a fly to center. Hoffman misplaying the fly and making a pickup of it. Strunk was retired. Zimmerman to Archer. No runs.

Chicago—Steinfeld flied out to Strunk. Tinker singled to left. Kling struck out. Needham hit to Baker. Joy in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 20.—The news from Chicago that the Athletics had taken the first game from the Cubs on their own grounds, thus giving the Philadelphia team its third straight victory in the series for the world's championship, was received here with wild enthusiasm by the fans. The average Philadelphia baseball rooster believes that the world's title is practically over and looks for the crafty Mack to send in the equally crafty Bender tomorrow to hold down the national league champions while his teammates bat another victory.

newspaper offices and other places where the game was reported play by play, traffic was greatly interfered with, and mounted police had to be called to keep the streets open for travel. Seats for a game on Saturday if one is necessary and it is played here, were put on sale today and the demand was as great as for the first two games. Hundreds of people stood in the rain waiting their turn to purchase the pasteboards. Only four tickets were sold to each person. If no game is played, the money of course will be refunded.

STERLING ROMPED AWAY WITH FREDERICTON RACE

ERNEST STERLING

Fredericton, Oct. 20.—Ernie Sterling the St. John runner romped away with the first place in the ten mile race at the Arctic Rink tonight. The race was scheduled as a benefit to send Tommy Coward and Pat White, local runners to Halifax for the Herald's race on Thanksgiving Day, but the crowd was not large enough to much more than pay the expenses of the affair. Sterling had things his own way at all stages of the race and stole laps on the other runners at will. White collapsed when about one half mile short of the distance, after the other runners had finished. He was in distress throughout the race. The race was run on a board track supposed to be 13 laps to the mile, but it was probably short. The time was announced as 50 minutes. Sterling at the finish had four laps on Stubbs, five on Coward, and ten on White.
