

ION. JAS. G. STEVENS DIED TUESDAY

Judge Stevens, who had been gradually sinking since Sunday, died at 10 o'clock this morning, aged eighty-four.

Nearly all the children of the deceased were at the bedside when their father passed away. The funeral will take place on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. Gordon Dickie officiating.

Well done thou good and faithful servant; because thou hast been faithful over a few things I will set thee over many things; enter thou into the joy of thy Lord.

These words are applicable to the life and death of Judge Stevens.

Hon. James Gray Stevens, K. C., retired in 1903, after serving as county judge from June 10, 1887, for the counties of Charlotte, Carleton and Madawaska. Since then he had lived in retirement, but taking an active interest in church and all matters relating to the welfare of his town.

He arrived in St. Stephen in 1840, commenced the study of law with Alexander Campbell, who afterwards became a judge in California, and finally finished his law studies with David Shanks Kerr, then practicing in Fredericton.

While at the bar he had an extensive and varied practice in law and equity courts. He was brought more prominently to public notice in the conduct and management of a case in equity in which he acted for the plaintiff.

As an author his name is enrolled as one of the most eminent jurists of New Brunswick. His works are: "An Analytical Digest of the Decisions of the Supreme Courts of New Brunswick from 1825 to Easter term, 1875, inclusive."

Deputy Chief of Police Jenkins and Detective Killen were on hand when the D. A. R. steamer Prince Rupert docked at 5:30 Thursday evening and arrested Virgil M. Buchanan, Liverpool (N.S.), on charges of receiving stolen goods.

On being searched the sum of $60 was found on him. This he claimed was his own money. There was also in his possession a large package of the South Shore Steamboat Company freight bills.

In December, 1845, Mr. Stevens married Elizabeth Helen, daughter of John Morrison of a Liverpool and Charlotte county, of fifteen children. The death of his wife occurred on April 18, 1883, and was the great sorrow of his life.

James G., the eldest, is a prominent barrister and was partner of the late Hon. James Mitchell, premier of New Brunswick at the time of his death. He was prominently spoken of as a successor to his honorable father by Hon. J. L. Carleton, who presided at the funeral.

He was a member of the Executive Council of the province in 1882, in continuation of his father's term. He was also a member of the Executive Council of the province in 1882, in continuation of his father's term.

BETTER DAYS PROMISED NEW BRUNSWICK TEACHERS

Montreal, Oct. 17.—Hon. L. J. Tweedie, who was in Montreal today, discussed the inter-provincial conference. "In my opinion," he said, "the provinces acted very generously in their treatment of British Columbia, although Premier McBride did not seem to think so. It was recognized that the western province has a great future before it if its wonderful mineral and forest resources are properly exploited. Besides, the population seems to be a rapidly growing one. For these and other reasons we were all anxious to see that British Columbia got every reasonable encouragement in the matter of federal assistance. Premier McBride, however, wanted us to agree to British Columbia getting special assistance without any specifications or limits being made for the amount of such assistance and the time for which it would be conceded. He wanted it left under option so that he could come to Ottawa afterwards and from time to time claim grants from the government. We very properly refused to listen to this, feeling it was our duty to fix the amount and the time of its payments. This was the cause of Premier McBride's dissatisfaction."

Not a Raid, But a Just Claim. "Far from making any raid on the federal authorities we were simply asserting our just and legal claims. Just for instance, in the year 1887, after confederation, the dominion government took over the control of the fishing of the province in non-tidal waters and kept it till 1888, when some incident brought the matter before the courts, which decided that the dominion had no right to exercise such control. The province then resumed control of the non-tidal fishing, out of which it has gained a revenue of about $15,000 a year. In view of the dominion government having taken charge of the fisheries for so many years and depriving of this sum, it is clear that there is quite a real substance in the obtaining of additional subsidies was not in the nature of a raid but rather the settlement of a debt."

Better Days for School Teachers. The increase of subsidy would be devoted to no particular department of the administration, but would be expended in general public works such as the building of roads and hospitals, and the development of the educational system. With regard to the latter subject, Premier Tweedie stated that there had been a great renewal of interest in it of late in New Brunswick and that it was the government's intention to foster its progress in every possible way. The salaries of teachers were to be augmented, new schools founded, and a pension fund for superannuated teachers established.

LOCAL NEWS. Weddings. A pretty wedding took place at the groom's residence, at the corner of Watson and Rodney streets, West End, Wednesday, when George Belyea was united in marriage to Miss P. Walsh. Rev. Alingham was groomsmen, and Miss Alma Hamilton acted as bridesmaid. The bride's dress was of blue silk, with lace trimmings, and the bridesmaid's of white silk with crepe de chene trimmings. The groom's present to the bride was a gold brooch. Rev. Mr. Scovil, of St. Jude's church, Carleton, performed the ceremony. The couple received a number of valuable presents. A reception followed the ceremony.

Why Stay Rheumatic? Nothing Short of Folly When Cure is Guaranteed With Ferrozene. Rheumatism can't be cured so long as your system is weak and your strength is gone. You must first build up and get strength to fight off the disease. Ferrozene cures because it builds up, because it removes the acids and dissolves the uric acid and the poisons that cause rheumatism. It is proved right here that Ferrozene does cure. H. H. M. Hays, of Eward, St. Lawrence Co., one of the fine old heroes of the Civil War, was completely restored by Ferrozene. Read his statement: "I was afflicted with rheumatism, and then only a weakness. The suffering was more intense than anything I had ever experienced. My doctor told me to take a quick change. 'Ferrozene' gave me comfort and cured me of my rheumatism, and the stiffness out of my muscles, and the weakness out of my nerves. I am well today. Ferrozene cured me completely. I can jump and run like I did forty years ago. Be sensible about your case. If your present medicine doesn't give it up. Don't experiment again. Ferrozene is known on all sides to be a cure that does cure. Why not get a supply today. The sooner you begin Ferrozene the quicker you'll get well. Price 50c. per bottle or six for $2.50, at all dealers.
