Dr. Talmage Begins a Series of Sermons
on the Marriage Ring.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Jan. 10.—The Rev. T.
DeWitt Talmage preached this morning in the Brooklyn Tabernacle, the first of his series of sermons on "The Marriage Ring," the subject being "The Choice of a Wife." In the series will be treated the following subjects of the greatest importance to every person: "The Choice of Husband and Wife;" "Clandestine Marriages and Escapes;" "Duties of Husbands to Wives;" "Duties of Wives to Husbands;" "In Matters of Religion, Should the Wife go with the Husband, or the Husband go with the Wife?" "The Wrong Ways of Women;" "Costume and Manners;" "Competent Housewifery;"
"Sensible Young Womanhood;" "Women who will Pass Life Single;" "Influence of Sisters over Brothers;" "The Modern Novel and Woman;" "Boarding house and Hotel Life;" "Treatment of Manservant and Maidservant." The hymn sung on the occasion was:
"The morning light is breaking.
The darkness disappears."
An organ solo was rendered by Prof.
Henry Eyre Browne, who selected the first sonata in D minor by Rutter for his musical theme. After expounding a passage of Scripture Dr. Talmage took for his text: Judges xiv, 3: "In there never a woman among the daughters of thy brethren, or among all my people, that thou goest to take a wife of the uncircumcised Philistines?" Dr. Talmage said:

Samson, the giant, is here asking consent of his father and mother to marriage with one whom they thought unfit for him. He was wise in asking their consent, but not wise in rejecting it. Captivated with her looks the big son wanted to marry a daughter of one of the hostile families, a deceitful, hypocritical, whining and saturnine creature who afterward made for him a world of trouble till she quit him forever. In my text his parents forbade the match, practically saying: "When there are so many honest and beautiful maidens of your own country, are you so hard put to for a lifetime partner that you propose conjugal union with this foreign girl? Is there such a dearth of lilies in our Israelitish gardens that you must wear on your heart a Philistine thistle? Do you take a crab-apple because there are no pomegranates? Is there never a woman among the daughters of thy brethren, or among all my people, that thou goest to take a wife of the uncircumcised Philistines?"

Excuseless was he for such a choice in a land and amid a race celebrated for female loveliness and moral worth, a land and a race of which self-denying Altipal, and heroic Deborah, and dashing Vashti, and pious Esther, and glorious Ruth, and Mary who hugged to her heart the blessed Lord, were only magnificent specimens. The midnight folded in their hair the lakes of liquid beauty in their eye, the greenness of spring morning in their posture and gait, were only typical of the greater brilliance and glory of their soul. Likewise excuseless is any man in our time who makes lifelong alliance with any one who, because of her disposition, or heredity, or habits, or intellectual vanity, or moral twilitication, may be said to be of the Philistines.

The world never owned such splendor of womanly character or such splendor of womanly manners or multifarious instances of wifely, motherly, daughterly, sisterly devotion, as it owns to-day. I have not words to express my admiration for good womanhood. Woman is not only man's equal, but in affectional and religious nature, which is the best part of us, she is seventy-five per cent. his superior. Yes, during the last twenty years through increased opportunity opened for female education, the women of the country are better educated than the majority of men; and if they combine to advance in mentality at the present ratio, before long the majority of men will have difficulty in finding, in the opposite sex, enough ignorance to make appropriate consort. If I am under a delusion as to the abundant of good womanhood abroad, consequent upon my surroundings since the hour I entered this life until now, I hope the delusion will last until I embark from this planet. So you will understand, if I say in this course of sermons something that seems severe I am neither cynical nor disgruntled.

There are in almost every farm-house in the country, in almost every home of the great town, conscientious women, worshipful women, self-sacrificing women, holy women, innumerable Marys, sitting at the feet of Christ, innumerable mothers, helping to feed Christ in the person of his suffering disciples; a thousand capped and spectacled grandmothers Lois, bending over Bibles whose percepts they have followed from early girlhood; and tens of thousands of young women that are dawning upon us from school and seminary, that are going to bless the world with good and happy
