When a Man Knows.

I wish I had such wisdom as the graduating boy
Supposes he has gained.
I wish I were as happy as the bridegroom—had the joy
To which he has attained
When he leads her, glad and trembling, from the altar down the aisle,
And then puts her in the carriage and departs in splendid style—
But I cannot claim such wisdom as the proud boy thinks is his,
And how can a man be happy when he knows how poor he is?

I wish I had such glory as he fancies he has won
Who stands beside the bed
And looks with admiration on his first-born
infant son,
And gravely bows his head;
And I wish I had such riches as the tattered urchin who,
Having only one suspender and a single ragged
shoe,
Thinks he has when he can handle a crisp dollar
But how can a man be haughty when he knows how small he is?

Facts and Figures.

A modern incandescent lighthouse lantern with a 34 inch mantle gives 2,400 candle-power and uses no more oil than the old 6 inch wick burner which gave only 700 candle power.

The Eiffel Tower, 900 feet high, is soon to be demolished. This will leave the Washington Monument the highest building in existence. The highest spire in Europe is Cologne Cathedral, which is 528 feet high.

Not long ago the Bishop of Bristol was invited to write an article on King Alfred, using as few long words as possible. His response was an article of 1,300 words, every one of which was of a single syllable and of Anglo-Saxon origin.

The world's record for the greatest number of divorce cases is held by the Hungarian city of Avad. Last year's statistics show that 230 divorce cases were tried by the courts and 210 divorces granted. At present there are 840 divorce cases awaiting trial. Avad has less than 30,000 inhabitants.

His holiness the Pope has lace estimated at something like $1,000,000,000 value. It is kept in cedar wood cabinets in the Vatican, and as it is the custom of the royal and noble Catholic families of Italy, Spain and Austria to present their bridal lace to the church, the collection is an ever growing one.

The Egyptians have a propensity for hoarding gold. A native who recently died left $400,000 stored in gold in his house. Many Egyptians who are possessed of wealth will borrow money at interest to conceal the fact. Large quantities of gold coin are annually melted in Egypt and converted into ornaments.

The largest passenger locomotive in the world has just been completed for the Pennsylvania Railroad. The new locomotive will have six 80-inch drivers and will weigh 240,000 pounds. A business man of London has taught his dog, it is stated, to answer the telephone when left alone in the office. One of the old-fashioned telephones, which does not require that the receiver should be taken off its holder, is fixed up in the office, and under this the dog stands. His master rings up the office, and then calls until the attention of the dog is aroused, when the canine caretaker barks loudly to show that all is well with him and with the office.

The Duchess of Wellington possesses the splendid service of Sevres made for Napoleon I., of which every single piece is different, the set being practically priceless. In the cellars at Apsley House is also the wonderful service of plate presented by Portugal to the Iron Duke, which has been valued at $1,000,000. The centerpiece is 5 feet high, and four men are required to lift it on to the table.

One of the oldest newspapers in the world is one named the Wochenblatt, which is published in Gruningen, a small town of some 1,200 inhabitants in the canton of Zurich, in Switzerland. It is the only newspaper in the place, and is at one and the same time the organ of the Liberal Conservatives and the Social Democrats. Pages one and two belong to the Liberals and pages three and four to the Socialists, and the two abuse one another heartily in its pages.

The most elevated river in the world is in the Desaguadero, in Bolivia. It is of considerable depth, and its whole length from the village Desaguadero, at the south extremity of Titicaca, to the north end of the Lake Aullagas, is about 180 miles. The average elevation of the valley or table-land of Desaguadero above the level of the sea is 13,000 feet. The United States is likely to adopt an idea from the practice of Mexico and Liberia, where the names of cities and towns are engraved upon their postage stamps. It is now proposed to issue stamps for the 6,000 presidential postoffices, each bearing the name of the offices whereat the stamps are issued, these names being printed after the stamps are engraved. Among other advantages this change will make it much easier to trace a letter by the stamps, and make a more equitable showing as to the volume of business at the various postoffices.

America now leads the world in the manufacture, sale and use of automobiles. This is the declaration of a French expert, who has been keeping a record of the automobile business. Five years ago the United States built only 314 automobiles of all classes, while at the same time France built 23,711 machines. Last year the production in the United States was 60,000, in France 55,000, in England 28,000, in Germany 22,000, in Italy 19,000, and Belgium 12,000. In nine years in the countries named there have been manufactured, sold and used 555,000 automobiles, representing more than $1,000,000,000 of money.

The tremendous improvements in naval architecture and armament were graphically illustrated a few days ago in England when the battleship Sans Pareil, built twenty years ago at a cost of $3,597,210, was sold for $133,000. With the vessel went two 110-ton guns, one 29-ton and twelve 6-inch breech-loading guns. The Conqueror, which cost $2,092,165 was knocked down for $84,000. The Undaunted, costing $1,280,275, went for $72,000. Three smaller vessels, representing an original investment of $500,000 brought $23,300. Owing to a ruling of the British Admiralty, which necessitated the breaking up of the ships in England, several of them were robbed of their guns, picking up a name.
