- New York. Haldimand to Carleton. Is relieved by the return of the messenger, having been afraid he was captured. His anxiety respecting the people of Vermont; is concerned that the enemy seem inclined to continue war rather than come to terms. Since Washington's last tour all friends of Government have been compelled to take the oath of allegiance or to abandon their settlements; the people are overawed by Washington; he has issued an order to put all persons to death who refuse to bear arms when called on. This makes communication uncertain and difficult. Has made up his mind to go to England next spring, and sends letter explaining the state of public affairs. Had allowed many persons to return on parole; sends the rest to New York, where they may be liberated or not as events shall require. Respecting the appointment of Lieut. Col. Carleton as Quarter Master General in New York; asks that it be settled soon that Hope who succeeds him in Quebec may take charge. 83
