GIRL'S SAD PLIGHT

St. Thomas, Sept. 22.-Beaten and shamefully ill-used, wandering in the woods for two days and a night without food, is the sad story of a girl 21 years of age who was found by a kind-hearted old lady on her doorstep yesterday morning. The girl's father lives on a farm west of St. Thomas, and is married a second time. This is the third time the poor girl has been compelled through cruel treatment to run away. On former occasions she went to an aunt, but was compelled to return by her stepmother, but on Saturday night, after wandering about the woods the previous day, she dropped on the doorstep of the woman who had once befriended her, a mass of rags, her flesh bruised and lacerated from the effect of the terrible beatings she had received Friday night and Saturday the girl suffered severely, being scantily clothed and ill fed. ## WHY ELLIOTT RESIGNED.

Government is Tending Toward Pro-

London, Sept. 22. - The Hon. Arthur R. D. Elliot, who has just resigned the Financial Secretaryship of the Treasury because of his disagreement with Premier Balfour's fiscal views, writing to one of his constituents in Durham city, says he is in complete agreement with the free trade views of ex-Chancelor of the Exchequer Ritchie, who found it impossible to hold office any longer in a Government which is tending steadily toward protection. He could not retain office without an en-tire loss of self-respect. "The time has arrived," he continues, "when the electors must decide for or against the policy of taxing imports of food which, though deferred for the moment, will be the ultimate issue."

THE PRICE OF FOOD.

Mr. Chamberlain's Plan Would Increase it.

London, Sept. 23.—The London Daily Chronicle, in an article on the balance of trade and British shipping, says the average annual excess of imports over exports for the past ten years totalled £ 161,000,000. The paid earnings of shipping were £52,000,000, the interest on foreign investments £ 100,000,000. The coal exports were £100,000,000. The coal exports were the key to the shipping position, furnishing 88 per cent. of the total bulk, although only 11 per cent. of the total value. The exports of manufactures were 8,000,000 tons, and of coal 60,000,000, which fills the ships and pays the freight. Coal earns nine-tenths of ooo,ooo, which fills the ships and pays the freight. Coal earns nine-tenths of the freight of outward-bound ships, thus paying the cost of the voyages to foreign ports and bringing back goods. Without coal they must go in ballast, necessitating higher return freights and increasing the cost of imports. The clearance of British ships at foreign ports annually is 100,000.000 to the armitted process armitted to the same of th some at foreign ports annually is 100,-000,000 toons, against 50,000,000 at colonial ports and 65,000,000 at home ports. The blot in Mr. Chamberlain's preferential tax on foreign goods to benefit the colonies is that the cost of food at fore in ports, whence 80 per cent, of the total supplies are derived, would in-crease more than the import duty. Ship-ping would be more or less affected by a tax on foreing manufactures, bein less bulky. A reduction of the imports of foreign food supplies would compel the shipowners to raise freights against the remainder, and foreign supplies predominating, the cost of foreing food would inevitably rule British market prices. The maintenance of cheap food here depends, first, on the coal exports. and, second, on open foreing market supplies.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

Some Amendments to the Railway Bill Accepted.

Ottawa, Sept. 23.—Better progress was made with the national transcontinental railway bill yesterday. Several amendments were voted down and several others were accepted by the Government. When the committee rose there were only five sections remaining open for further consideration. The chief feature of the debate was a spirited passage at arms, in which Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Mr. R. L. Borden and Hon. Mr. Paterson were the participants. Mr. Borden complained that the Government had ignored an amendment he had submitted, to the extent that its supporters were about extent that its supporters were about to vote it down without any reply being vouchsafed from the Government benches. Sir Wilfrid Laurier's reply, that the Government had not thought it necessary to reply, as no new arguments had been advanced, and the old ones had been answered again and again, somewhat annoyed Mr. Borden.
