

me in the number of the 19th inst., of having assisted the escape of Messrs. Dodge and Thayer from Quebec; it is a falsehood. In travelling through the State of Maine, I met those gentlemen at Augusta, and from thence travelled with them to New-York via Boston. I would not have taken the trouble to contradict the slanderous statement of the Courier were it not, that it has grieved my family, and compromised me most unjustly. I hope you will do me the favour to insert this notice. Your most obt. humble servant,
LOUIS BRACLET.

A letter dated Caraquez, Hay Chaleur, Nov. 12th, states, that packages directed to private individuals, some addressed to Lord Durham, after having been rescued from the wreck of the Colborne, have been broken open and plundered;—goods to the amount of thousands of pounds are scattered in the woods, and a much greater value have been disposed of by a wretch sale.

We have been requested by a number of respectable citizens residing in Champlain street, to express their gratitude to Lieutenant Clayton and Mundy of the Coldstream Guards, for their extraordinary exertions at the late calamitous fire, as by their valuable suggestions as well as personal efforts a great deal of property was saved.—Gazette.

In consequence of Friday next being appointed to be observed as a day of general fasting and humiliation, the publication of the Transcript will be deferred to Saturday. In the interim, however, should any news of importance be received, it will be issued in a supplement.
